

WALTON LEAGUE HEARS SAUERS

Conservation Official at Elk-hart Convention.

By Times Special
ELKHART, Ind., Dec. 4.—Whether political or non-political in form, State departments should be agencies of social and economic service, declared O. G. Sauer, assistant conservation department director, before Indiana Isaac Walton League in convention here.

Dr. Karl T. Brown, Muncie, is president. Fifty Indiana chapters were represented. George N. Mann, fish and game superintendent; George T. Phillips, assistant State forester and John Biggs, sanitary engineer, were other speakers.

"The principle of making those enterprises self-sustaining, which otherwise could only be maintained by ever-increasing amount of taxes, is the policy of the conservation department," Sauer said.

"Among those we find our State parks, State forests, hatcheries and the total of game and fish protection. The division of fish and game, as stated above, is entirely self-supporting, and toward the other activities the principle of self-maintenance has been applied with an increasing amount of success. We have demonstrated that these great and potent forces of social service can be built up into dividend-paying units, with dividends both in human happiness and cash, and thereby have encouraged a much needed extension of the system."

LAKE UNDER GROUND

By Times Special
ATHENS, Dec. 4.—An underground lake of considerable size has been discovered under the surface of 2,000 acres of land near Oropos. Scientists are puzzled as to the manner in which the thin crust of earth has withstood collapse. Part of the underground lake is thought beneath the sea.
