

SANTA'S AIDS ON THE JOB

which is No. 2 of our list, and remembered his own four kiddies and how much they wanted their Christmas. So he picked out Family No. 2 to provide for this Christmas. Craig is our very first donor.

Following close on the heels of his telephone call to The Times Santa Claus office (Main 3500), came a call from Miss Sarah Katharine Morris, 1420 Hoeftgen St., asking for Family No. 5, a dear aged couple who have no children and few friends to make a Christmas for them. Miss Morris is going to be their Santa Claus and bring them goodies, and presents, and warm things Christmas morning.

These are just two of the families that The Times thinks you'll want to bring a happy Christmas to. Haven't you been wondering how to get in touch with some of these needy folks who can't count on Christmas because of unforeseen circumstances have plunged them into a despair of meeting bills? Sickness, death, the discouragement of losing a job, talk like grim specters to help these humble folks from having any Christmas at all.

That is why The Times, through the Christmas clearing house, which seeks to prevent duplication of gifts to the needy at Christmas time, is going to print, every day, lists and descriptions of families for you to choose from. The families will be listed by number, and when you pick out the one you want to care for

Granddaughter of Grant to Talk

Princess Cantacuzene

"My Life Here and There," will be the topic of Princess Cantacuzene, formerly Julia Dent Grant, granddaughter of President Grant, Thursday at 8:15 p. m. at the Indianapolis Athletic Club, Frederick E. Matson, president, announced.

The princess otherwise known as Countess Speransky, wife of Prince Cantacuzene of Russia, is the author of several books and is considered an excellent lecturer. Her present home is in Washington, D. C.

this Christmas, call The Times Santa Claus, Main 3500, and ask for your family by number. The name and address of the family will be given you, and what is needed, and then you'll have the pleasure of making some dreams come true for the family you've chosen. Contributions can be received by The Times, because the joy of giving is to be all yours.

Here are some families:

1. While father is struggling to regain his health at Sunnyside Sanatorium, the mother and four children are trying to make both ends meet at home. A liberal basket will bring a lot of added cheer to them; also gifts for the boy of 12 and the girls of 10, 14, and 17.

2. A widow who is ill with tuberculosis has a boy of 3 and a girl of 11. A bountiful Christmas dinner, clothing and toys for the children will bring sunshine into the home.

3. A widow with a girl of 11 and a boy of 9. Last year Times readers brought good cheer to them. Food and playthings will be appreciated.

4. A widow with her middle-aged daughter, a cripple, have few friends or resources. A dinner "with trimmings" and gifts would bring happiness.

5. Two lonely women, the widowed mother with her middle-aged daughter, a cripple, have few friends or resources. A dinner "with trimmings" and gifts would bring happiness.

6. Six dark-eyed little folks in staircases, hoping the American Santa Claus will remember them! The father was a good craftsman in his native country, but since coming to Indianapolis has had to work at another trade and can barely make ends meet. The oldest girl, 12, is a "little mother" to the boys, aged 11, 8, and 4, and the baby sister, 2. Dinner, playthings and clothing for the children will be greatly appreciated.

7. In basement rooms a young colored woman, a widow, has been suffering for nine weeks with rheumatic fever. She has not been able to work to support her two orphaned children, 8 and 11, who live with her. The Family Welfare Society has come to the rescue, and asks that its efforts be supplemented at Christmas with food, gifts and clothing.

8. A lonely couple have no money and few friends outside the Family Welfare Society. They will appreciate good food and personal gifts.

9. Illness has set back this family of father, mother and six children, girls aged 12, 10, 7 and 1, and boys, 8 and 4. Dinner for the whole family, little gifts for the children and stockings or other clothing will be welcome. Salvation Army recommends them.

10. Two little girls, aged 13 months and 3 years, are waiting for Santa Claus in a humble home. Father has been out of work. Salvation Army has been befriending them. Clothing and playthings for the babies and dinner for the family are wanted.
