

TYPO LEADER FOR SHORTER WORKING DAY

Lynch Writes Secretary of Labor About Over-production.

Recognition of industrial over-production as a labor problem in the annual report of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis has been hailed as a hopeful sign by James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical Union, in a letter addressed to Secretary Davis.

"I am confident you have laid your finger on one of the vital issues confronting American industry and labor," wrote Lynch. "With the production capacity of American factories already far beyond the absorption capacity of domestic and foreign markets, as a result of improved machinery, unemployment is certain to increase if some remedy is not found. Markets, by the way, with shrink further as the incomes of wage-earners are cut down by enforced idleness. That constitutes a vicious circle."

In Agreement

"After reading your annual report and your speech before the New York bond men, I am convinced that you are in complete agreement with leaders of organized labor as to the nature of the problem of production and its relation to wages and hours of labor."

"I must suggest, however, that one important feature of the proposed remedy for the present difficulty has been ignored in your published utterances. I refer to the A. F. of L. proposal in favor of a continuing reduction in the number of hours making up the working day. I note your own remedy for the unemployment resulting from overproduction is 'some system for scattering unneeded workers in any industry' to some industry 'yet to be developed.' It is to be hoped, of course, that these new industries will be developed, but that is merely a hope."

High Wages for Few

"Increased wages alone will not keep labor in step with civilized progress; neither will mere limiting of production solve the overproduction problem. High wages for a few will not relieve the working classes if at the same time thousands are thrown out of employment."

"I realize that the lesser hours proposal is a bold one and will meet with determined opposition, but sooner or later it will prevail. Civilization moves in that direction. We are now asking the extension of leisure, within reasonable limits, to include all classes."

NIGHT'S REST DISTURBED

In Nature's Way of Telling You "Darker Ahead."

Mrs. G. W. Bushong, 102 S. East Bush, Indiana, relieved me of blisters when I feel them well, tried many remedies. In one week after taking Lithiated Bushu I could notice improvement. I will be glad to tell or write you my experience. Lithiated Bushu is not a patent medicine. The formula is on the bottle. It cleanses the blisters and eases the pain. The tablets cost 25¢ each at all drug stores. Koller Laboratories, Indianapolis, Ind. Locally at Hook Drug Co. —Advertisement.

CONSTANT PAIN FROM PIMPLES

Face, Neck and Shoulders Covered. Lasted Four Years. Cuticura Heals.

"My face, neck and shoulders were covered with pimples that were hard, large and red. At first I took no notice of them but the trouble kept getting worse. The pimples itched and burned and the more I scratched the worse they got. They caused constant pain and I lost my rest at night. The trouble lasted for four years."

"I was advised to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some, and after using six cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Ed. Lynn, 121 Sycamore St., Evansville, Ind., March 4, 1925.

Nothing quicker or safer than Cuticura Soap and Ointment for skin troubles that itch and burn.

Soap 25¢. Ointment 25¢. Talcum 25¢. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Indianapolis, Ind.

Cuticura Shaving Stick 25¢.

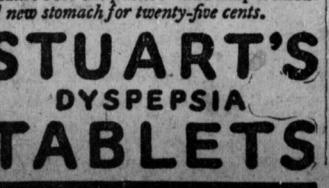

Lucky Beggar!

"I'm hungry!" said the man at his elbow, and the banker gave him a coin with a sigh. For he was hungry, too, but feared to eat much more than crackers with a bowl of milk. Indigestion is a very real misfortune to those who haven't learned the simple means of avoiding it!

Dyspepsia Indigestion! Sour stomach! These ailments are not caused by what you eat. Give your digestive system a chance, and it will function with almost any kind of food. Yes, doughnuts with baked beans did not cook with onions. Stomach's dyspepsia tablets give your stomach the antidote it needs, and that's all there is to it! Eat your fill, and don't fear acidity, gas, or distress in any form! Pleasant, harmless, and they do the work!

Full Box FREE!

Every druggist has Stuart's tablets, 25¢ and 60¢. Or, a full box free if you write the F. A. Stuart Company, Dept. K, Marshall, Mich. Get a metal box of Stuart's for the pocket—and keep it filled! A new stomach for twenty-five cents.

Grand Jury Looks Over County Jail

Above (left to right): H. M. Day, Herman Muth, Boyd W. Temperton and William Shaeffer, deputy prosecutor. Below (left to right): Omer Hawkins, P. C. Morgan and Alonzo Sargent.

MANY TALKED BY DEMOCRATS

(Continued From Page 1)

cently and met party leaders. Cravens indicated he was seriously considering entering the race.

Candidates Wary

Candidates suggested are wary about saying whether they will enter the field against Senators Watson and Robinson.

"I am not a candidate," said Dr. Carleton B. McCullough.

Frank C. Dailey, former United States district attorney, said he had not decided.

The two candidates, who it is said will be backed by the Ku-Klux Klan for nomination, were non-committal.

"I've been out of town on business and have paid no attention to politics," said L. Ert Slack, former United States district attorney, while Charles J. Orblson, who led certain Klan forces in support of John L. Duvall, said he had given the subject no consideration.

Plan for Legislature

Democratic leaders are also deep in plans to nominate a strong ticket in the primary for the Legislature and county offices.

Meredith Nicholson, Hoosier novelist, will be urged to run for the State Senate and Mrs. John W. Kern, wife of the late United States Senator, is considered a likely candidate. Another mentioned prominently is Edward P. Barry, Indianapolis Typographical Union official.

Kin Hubbard, Indianapolis humorist, may receive a delegation of party leaders who wish to induce him to run for State Representative.

"I wouldn't even consider it," said Hubbard, however.

Other possibilities are A. Leroy Porteus, Federation of Community Clubs president; Grace Julian Clarke, club woman and newspaper writer, and Floyd Williamson and Lawrence Sexton.

Mentioned as possible candidates to succeed Congressman Dr. J. H. Hurtur served as the administrative head of the Indiana State health department; for more than a third of its life history he has been a member of the American Public Health Association; he was once the president of the association and has served in other positions of responsibility in the association. Due to his clear vision, capacity for sensing the developments of the future, knowledge of public health, general ability, courage and patient perseverance, Indiana public health work was made a model for that of other States. He was a great, as well as highly useful, public servant. His contributions and interest have been cornerstones on which the American Health Association stands. He has died within the last year; therefore he is.

Resolved, that we, the American Public Health Association, wish to record our admiration for him—our love and our gratitude. We wish this expression of appreciation of our comrade to be sent to the Indiana State health department, to the Governor of Indiana and to the widow and family of our friend.

Earl Cox and Albert Stump are considered as possible contenders for nomination of prosecuting attorney and there is talk of William D. Vogel for auditor, George Hardin for county commissioner, Albert Walsman for Center Township trustee and James Berry for Center Township assessor. Luther J. Shirley, a funeral director, is a candidate for coroner.

PROUD JAPAN IS SLIPPING

Professor Paints Dark Picture of Orient.

By Times Special PALO ALTO, Cal., Dec. 10.—Japan once proud and aggressive Empire, is slipping backward.

This is the report brought back from the Mikado's land by Professor Y. Ichihashi, historian and professor of Japanese at Stanford University. Ichihashi, just returned from four months' travel in his homeland, found her prostrate, worried over unemployment and facing the future with anxiety. His picture of Japan today is far from that painted by many who believe Japan is the world's second Germany.

"Our once glorious Empire has never recovered from the disaster of 1923," he said. "Japan's industrial spirit seems broken. A vast depression sits on the country. Yokohama has made practically no progress toward reconstruction since the earthquake and fire. Japan has almost no modern buildings. Restoration cannot be hoped for during starts it will be a slow, laborious the next few years and when it starts it will be a slow, laborious process."

STAR RECORDS

BERLIN—With the naked eye it is possible to see only about 7,000 stars, but from 20,000 photographs of the heavens taken during the last thirty years, the correct positions of 50,000,000 stars have been ascertained. Enormous as this number is, the powerful telescopes in use today have led to the discovery of more than 100,000,000.

Investigates Overcrowding, Charged by Judge Collins.

With Deputy Prosecutor William Shaeffer and Sheriff Omer Hawkins members, with the exception of C. W. Way, toured the jail.

Criminal Judge James A. Collins ordered the investigation declaring the jail, built for 150 prisoners, is overcrowded.

Both Sheriff Omer Hawkins believes that with the extra beds he has provided the jail can take care of 350 prisoners.

Grand jury members discussed the possibility of adding another floor to the institution and decided it could be done.

Members of the grand jury are:

W. H. M. Day, Herman Muth, Boyd W. Temperton, P. C. Morgan and Alonzo Sargent.

RESOLUTION ON HURTY PASSED

American Public Health Body Honors State Leader.

Copies of resolutions passed recently at a meeting of the American Public Health Association, in St. Louis, honoring the late Dr. J. H. Hurtur, nationally-known Indiana leader in the health movement, have been received by Governor Jackson and Dr. William F. King, secretary of the State board of health.

The resolution:

"For a generation Dr. J. H. Hurtur served as the administrative head of the Indiana State health department; for more than a third of its life history he has been a member of the American Public Health Association; he was once the president of the association and has served in other positions of responsibility in the association. Due to his clear vision, capacity for sensing the developments of the future, knowledge of public health, general ability, courage and patient perseverance, Indiana public health work was made a model for that of other States. He was a great, as well as highly useful, public servant. His contributions and interest have been cornerstones on which the American Health Association stands. He has died within the last year; therefore he is.

Resolved, that we, the American Public Health Association, wish to record our admiration for him—our love and our gratitude. We wish this expression of appreciation of our comrade to be sent to the Indiana State health department, to the Governor of Indiana and to the widow and family of our friend.

Earl Cox and Albert Stump are considered as possible contenders for nomination of prosecuting attorney and there is talk of William D. Vogel for auditor, George Hardin for county commissioner, Albert Walsman for Center Township trustee and James Berry for Center Township assessor. Luther J. Shirley, a funeral director, is a candidate for coroner.

Rheumatism Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poisons Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allen's Balsam, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allen's Balsam has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allen's Balsam, who made a fortune by curing the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allen's Balsam cures. He offers his services to all diseased and has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above, in every instance. Hook's Drug Company, 102 W. Washington St., Indianapolis, Ind., and Dr. George Moore, are my appointed agents in your city. If you live out of town, I'll gladly send you free particulars.—Advertisement.

DRESS-UP ON Liberal Credit THE HUB 139 W. WASHINGTON ST.

P E A R S O N PIANO COMPANY

Indiana's Largest and Most Complete Music Store.

128-130 N. Penn St. Est. 1872

One Price to Everybody

SOUTH FIGHTS ELLIOT PUBLIC BUILDING BILL

Representatives From Tennessee and Texas Lead Opposition.

By Times Special WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The public building bill, introduced by Richard N. Elliott of Connersville, Ind., providing $150,000,000 for Federal buildings in the Nation, is due for some rough sledding in Congress this session.

Congressman J. Will Taylor of Tennessee, a Republican on the House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, and Congressman Fritz Lanham of Texas, both intend to lead a vigorous fight against it.

They do not oppose construction of needed postoffices, but each objects to authority, for deciding where improvements are to be made, being taken from Congress and delegated to two Cabinet officers. The bill provides that once Congress authorizes expenditure of the funds the Postmaster General and Secretary of the Treasury shall have sole supervision of expenditures.

"I am for a public buildings bill, but I am opposed to taking authority of making selections of cities for the improvements away from Congress," Taylor said today.

"If the Elliott bill passes, no small city in the country would have much or a chance of getting a postoffice and the northern States would get most of the offices," Taylor declared.

"One man's guess would be as good as another's as to what cities would get postoffices if such a bill passes," Representative Lanham said.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed. As no omnibus public buildings bill has been passed since 1913, the accumulation of requests for public buildings pending before Congress now totals $25,000,000.

Both Congressmen say the power of designating where the postoffices go, should be left to Congress as it always has been since the government was formed.