

REMY OPPOSES VENUE REQUEST

Judge to Rule on Contractors' Petition Saturday.

Prosecutor William H. Remy today said he would oppose any attempt of George A. Weaver and his son, Windsor J. Weaver, contractors, indicted on charges of presenting false claims and perjury, to obtain a change of venue from Marion County Criminal Court.

Dec. 28 has been set as the date when the two will face trial before a jury and Judge James A. Collins on charge of presenting false claims. An affidavit for a change of venue from county was filed in Criminal Court Wednesday. Judge Collins said he will pass on the affidavit Saturday.

Both defendants were indicted Aug. 1, 1924, by the grand jury, after it was charged they made false claims as to the construction of Julietta, county insane asylum. It was charged the building was improperly constructed and not according to specifications. The Weavers say they cannot get a fair trial here.

Women Gymnasts Show Enthusiasm

Woman's class of the Indianapolis Athletic Club, with director, Ellsworth (Pep) Krantz.

"I've never seen such enthusiasm for real, genuine work as our women's gym class shows," declares Ellsworth (Pep) Krantz, physical director at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

Krantz, who was physical director at De Pauw University for four years before coming to Indianapolis a few months ago, teaches the class on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. "They've certainly made a wonderful advance," he said. There are fifty-one women in the class, with an average attendance of thirty-five.

Wright, A. W. Thompson, W. S. Deming, C. A. McCormick, B. Stone, H. O. Page, J. J. Fitzgerald, J. L. Kalleen, O. W. Githens, J. R. McCarthy, H. W. Dragoo, C. C. Binkley, F. B. Bull, C. C. Merz, L. E. Freeman, F. J. Denny, G. D. Ross, J. E. Fesenfeld, J. C. Clark, J. A. Boyd, G. L. Townsend, H. J. Wagelin, L. A. Pottenger, A. L. Rice.

The girls are 4, 6, and 10 and the baby boy is 1. Grandfather lives with them and does what he can to help. Stockings and little gifts for the children, and a basket of food are recommended by the Salvation Army.

15. First it was a broken arm, then pneumonia set in, so the father of this family has no margin for Christmas gifts. Life was hard enough before, and the Salvation Army has had to help them. The girls, aged 1 and 4, and the boy, 8, need clothing. Stockings, underwear, and mittens will help. Then there is the question of food and playthings.

16. Two days' work a week for the mother, and a small compensation while the father is recovering from an accident that broke his leg and led to other complications, are the only income this family of five is receiving. The boys are 10 and 14, the girl is 4. The Salvation Army has given food and clothing, but the needs continue. The mother wants some house dresses. They all need warm clothing. A dinner and little gifts would be well received, too. These people have excellent recommendations from every one for whom they have worked, and never applied for any outside aid until the present.

17. A tiny boy, just a month old, was born into this home some time after the accident that broke his father's health and may result in his death. The compensation allowance made to the father is not enough to reach all the way. The other children are girls of 3, 6, 13, and 14, and a boy 5. Clothing for all the children, and food for the family, are needed. Recommended by the Salvation Army.

8. Six dark-eyed little folks in stairsteps, hoping the American Santa Claus will remember them. Their father was a good craftsman in his native country, but there is no particular demand for his type of work here, and he is reduced to a trade that makes a bare living. Dinner, toys and clothing for the children will be appreciated. The girls are 12, 2 and the boys, 11, 8, 6 and 4. Family Welfare Society has been befriending them.

11. After a long illness father has just returned to work, and prospects for Christmas aren't bright. Besides the mother there are six children, girls, 12, 10, 7 and 1 and boys, 8 and 4.

13. A widow has been working at the washtub to support her four children. Now she has obtained light work in a factory, but the wages don't go far. The 16-year-old daughter, her chief assistant, lost her job and is keeping house. The boys are 12 and 14, and there is a girl 3. Food and warm clothing desired. Salvation Army recommends them.

14. Since the day an automobile accident snuffed out her husband's life, this woman has been taking in washing to feed and clothe her children.

C. OF C. YEAR'S WORK DETAILED

Secretary Tells of Progress at Annual Meeting.

All Chamber of Commerce departments have made rapid strides during the past year, according to report of John B. Reynolds, secretary, at the annual meeting Wednesday night.

Reynolds said the future of the Chamber is bright, with a new building under construction. It will be completed about next June.

Thirty-four new industries, 62 national and international, 172 State and 30 regional conventions and 14 events of more local importance were brought to the city the past year. Total of 279 conventions is an increase of 15 per cent over last year. Total attendance was estimated at 325,136 from outside the city.

Thorough acquaintance with the activities of Indianapolis was urged by Frank S. Fishback, president.

18. Two days' work a week for the mother, and a small compensation while the father is recovering from an accident that broke his leg and led to other complications, are the only income this family of five is receiving. The boys are 10 and 14, the girl is 4. The Salvation Army has given food and clothing, but the needs continue. The mother wants some house dresses. They all need warm clothing. A dinner and little gifts would be well received, too. These people have excellent recommendations from every one for whom they have worked, and never applied for any outside aid until the present.

19. A tiny boy, just a month old, was born into this home some time after the accident that broke his father's health and may result in his death. The compensation allowance made to the father is not enough to reach all the way. The other children are girls of 3, 6, 13, and 14, and a boy 5. Clothing for all the children, and food for the family, are needed. Recommended by the Salvation Army.

20. Instead of some trivial article that is easily lost or worn out let your Christmas present to every member of your family be a bank-book with an initial deposit. It is a gift that will be appreciated, for it is not only lasting, but leads to an accumulation of money that will stand in good stead in future years.

BAZARS TO BE HELD

Calendar Circle of Southern Avenue Baptist Church will hold two Christmas bazaars Saturday. One will be at the Fountain Square Music Shop, 1056 Virginia Ave. and the other at Stand 258 at the market house.

DISTURBANCE IN A LOCAL THEATER

The patrons of a local show house were very much disturbed and annoyed by the continuous coughing of a person in the audience. Don't be a nuisance because you have a cough or cold. A few doses of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND taken promptly will bring speedy relief from coughs, colds and hoarseness. Mrs. W. T. Clary, White Plains, Va., writes: "We have used FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND for colds and bed coughs with splendid results."—Advertisement.

NO ROOM IN MIAMI FOR WORKING GIRLS

Y. W. C. A. Warns Stenographers, Nurses, Bookkeepers, Cashiers and Untrained Help

By ALLENE SUMNER
NEA Service Writer

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 10.—To speak bluntly, there is no room for the working girl in Miami now.

Last summer, it is true, a good stenographer or typist could command any salary. Feminine youngsters just out of business school, to whom spelling and punctuation were deep and bloody mysteries, were being paid $75 a week.

But that time is gone and will never return.

The employment bureau of the Miami Y. W. C. A. keeps its finger on the pulse of the job situation here as does no other organization. Not a girl comes into the city without a room or a job who does not come to the Y. W. sooner or later. And the Y. W. in consequence, has abandoned all its "peace time" operations, and is doing nothing but emergency work day and night for these girls.

The Y. W. will show you figures like this:

In October, 1,293 girls asked for jobs. Only 425 got anything at all. Many went home after pawning everything but their return tickets.

In that month 669 stenographers sought work. Only 155 got it.

There were eighty-nine typists applying for work. Eighteen were placed.

Ninety-five bookkeepers asked jobs and eleven were chosen.

Thirty of the 172 clerks who came here for jobs got them.

Of 140 girls who asked for hotel, restaurant and institutional work twenty-three were placed. Two out of twenty-three telephone operators obtained work.

Out of 110 girls who said they could be seamstresses, nurse maids, cashiers, elevator girls—anything, nine got jobs.

No Place for Them.

"Hundreds of girls come to the office who beam and say they can do just anything," said Miss Mamie Raeburn, Y. W. employment manager.

"But Florida has no place for the girls who can do 'just anything.' Miami needs specialists only and very few of them.

"Most girls think that if they are willing to leave the office world and go into housework for a winter, they are all set. But badly as Florida needs experienced domestics, it cannot use these 'I'll do anything' girls."

The Y. W. has prepared a form letter which it sends out to the thousands of girls who write in asking ing about employment conditions. It sets forth such facts as these:

Housework pays from $12 to $18 a week, with room a board. Cooks $12 to $20 a week, room and board.

Nursesmaids, $10 to $15 a week, with room and board. And dozens of graduate nurses who were earning $75 a week are glad to get these jobs.

Stenographers get $20 to $35 a week. A room alone costs $20 a week. Typists, $12 to $20 a week.

"Stay at Home"

Clerical work without typing—no jobs at all.

There is no demand for tutors or doctors and doctors' assistants.

"We advise those well located at home to remain there," says the letter.

"Living conditions in Miami are high in normal times, and this year accommodations are almost impossible to obtain at any price."

"Under no circumstances should any one come down here unless she has sufficient money to meet expenses."

"A few stenographers, waitresses and efficient domestic help can do it. Children's nurses, companions, managers of apartments and boarding houses, tearoom supervisors and tutors cannot."

The waitresses here are unlike waitresses in any other city.

Ninety-five bookkeepers asked jobs and eleven were chosen.

Thirty of the 172 clerks who came here for jobs got them.

Of 140 girls who asked for hotel, restaurant and institutional work twenty-three were placed. Two out of twenty-three telephone operators obtained work.
