

FEDERAL COURT DOCKET MONDAY WILL BE HEAVY

Liquor Conspiracy Case Heads List of Important Trials Scheduled.

The docket for Federal Court Monday contains more cases than any other docket set for one day in the court for several years.

The trial of thirty-nine defendants in the Jack Daniel liquor conspiracy case; the trial of Virgil Short, on charges of stealing from interstate shipment at North Judson, Ind.; the Daniel Levy trial, in which Clarence Darrow and Eph Imman, noted criminal lawyers are defense counsel; arguments in the suit of the Eclipse Machine Company, Inc., against the Eclipse Tool Company, 21 N. Alabama St., and the civil case of Florence Robinson, Chicago oil operator, against Clara B. Swain and other Indiana persons for $500,000 damages, are scheduled for Monday.

Liquor Case in Limelight

The Jack Daniel liquor conspiracy case holds the limelight. The case centers about the substitution of water for whisky in 890 barrels in the distillery at St. Louis. Andrew J. Hellmich, internal revenue collector, at St. Louis; Mrs. George Remus, wife of the millinaire bootlegger, and several prominent business men and political figures of Missouri are slated to appear in the case. Remus will be a Government witness.

Levy will face charges of selling stock in an alleged fraudulent oil corporation in Gary and Chicago.

Arrested With Others

Short was arrested with three other men after they are said to have broken into a freight car and stolen articles. The other men are

REAL SIK TO BUILD

Additional Unit Will Be Finished About April 1, Says President.

An additional unit to the Real Slik Hosiery Mills, Noble and Walnut Sts., will be completed about April 1, J. A. Goodman, president, announced.

Enlargement of the present site was necessary to care for expansion of the business. Buildings on the site are being razed.

The structure, 100 by 200 feet, will be of concrete and two and one-half stories high.

Leo Carpenter, Arnold Gilmore and John Berger.

Florence Robinson, Chicago oil operator, is asking $500,000 damages in a civil suit against Clara B. Swain and other Indiana persons whom she alleges, took $17,000 from her through court procedure that she needed in operating her oil interests.

The Eclipse Machine Company of New York, is asking $300,000 damages from the Eclipse Tool Company for alleged patent infringements. Judge Robert C. Baltzell will hear arguments from the defendants as to why a temporary restraining order should not be issued against the Indianapolis firm.

PASTOR NAMED IN SUIT

Denies Ground for Charges Filed in Divorce Suit.

By Times Special

FT. WAYNE, Ind., Dec. 11.—The Rev. E. L. Mullins, who came here Nov. 1, to accept the pastorate of the Immanuel Baptist Church, when informed that he had been named as co-respondent in a divorce suit brought by Howard Smith against Helen Smith at Lawrenceburg, Ind., denied that there was any just cause for the charges.

He formerly was pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lawrenceburg. His denial is being upheld by his wife to whom he has been married for eighteen years. The Rev. Mullins expects to file a denial in court at Lawrenceburg.
