

GRANGE GOES TO DETROIT

Red's Bears Continue Sched.

Ule — Phenom Gridder
Not in Bad Shape.

By United Press
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—Red Grange and the Chicago Bears made away to Detroit today to continue their pursuit of gate receipts. The Bears lost here Thursday, 24 to 0.

The sore-tempered lad whose previously injured arm was again hurt Thursday in the game with the Pittsburgh All-Stars was feeling better to-day.

"I'll be able to play in Chicago Sunday," Grange said before leaving here today.

According to Dr. Gustave F. Berg, the physician for the Pittsburgh Baseball Club who had the "flying phantom" under his care at a hotel here, Grange needs a rest of about three days and nothing else.

"The boy is in good physical condition," Berg told the United Press. "There is nothing wrong with him. The stories about his run-down condition are greatly exaggerated."

Six thousand persons who shivered through Thursday's game on the coldest day of the year in Pittsburgh saw Red go through nine plays during the twelve minutes he was in the game. During that time he accomplished this:

Carried the ball once for a three-yard gain.

Threw five forward passes, one of which was completed, three incomplete and one intercepted.

Received one forward pass, but gained no ground.

Had the ball when Earl Britton unsuccessfully tried for a field goal.

Tackled Andy Gustafson once.

PALMER'S GREAT RUN

To "Chuck" Palmer, former Northwestern star, goes the honor of making one of the longest runs in modern football history. Palmer ran into the gridiron ball of fame back in 1923 by racing 102 yards after picking up a fumble out for the Gophers' own goal line. Incidentally, the run enabled the Purple to tie the Gophers in a game that had been Minnesota's victory all the way.

In fact, Palmer was the victim of one of the toughest "breaks" ever handed a big college eleven.

With time almost up, the Gophers had a man on the ball, but had only 10 yards from the Northwestern goal. It looked like a cinch triumph for the lads from the North.

GOOD PRACTICE FOR THE MARATHON!

On the next play the oval was given to a big Gopher back who plunged through for another touchdown, apparently. But he tumbled on the chalk mark, however, he tumbled the ball. Two yards behind the line it bounded, then ran into the goal line for the Minnesota goal, 102 yards away. He had a clear field, except for Martindale's two end-overs, one of which was the best defensive backs the Big Ten produced in seasons.

Palmer, a purple husk, had Marty out of the play, though, and Palmer raced unopposed for the tally. Goal was kicked. And the Purple had a man on a local team that was unquestionably two touchdowns better.
