

BOYS LOOK FOR SANTA'S VISIT

with fruit, toys and other little boy pleasures. Doesn't this strike you as just the family you've been waiting for to give Christmas joy to this year? Imagine their shouts of glee when their faith is justified and they find those stockings full! They haven't had a Daddy for a long time, but mother knows what her little tads want and how little she can give them. Maybe you think it's easy to buy five pairs of little shoes that wear out faster than they can be paid for. Just call the Times Santa Claus, Main 3500 if you'd like to provide for this family of boys, or any other family on our daily list. The Times Santa will tell you the name and address of the family you choose, and then you may have the pleasure of bringing Christmas happiness to folks who wouldn't have any without you.

Does one of these families appeal to you?

51. Any one who knows how fast boys go through their shoes and stockings will appreciate the plight of this woman with five boys to support, aged 3, 5, 7, 9 and 13. Their father will never come back to them. A basket of food and boy's clothing in almost any size can be used to good advantage.

52. A youth of 20, crippled in a railroad accident, is making a brave fight to come back. He is taking training with the rehabilitation bureau. His mother and grandmother, whose chief support he was since his father's death, now take turns working in a factory and caring for him. Family Welfare Society has been helping them and keeping up their courage. The young man would like more books and magazines. A basket of food for the three will be welcome.

53. An elderly widow works at her wash tub to support her two orphaned grandchildren, boys of 8 and 12. This is the only income for this colored family. The boys need clothing, little gifts and a basket of food for all should be included.

54. Needs of eight children grow so much faster than the wages of a working man, even though he works steadily, that the Family Welfare Society put this colored family on the Christmas list. The woman is far from well. The boys are 7, 9, 11, 12, 13. The girls are 3, 5 and 10. A basket of food for ten, clothing for any or all of the children, and little Christmas gifts will be a pleasant surprise.

55. Their mother is dead. Their father is almost blind and can not work, so their grandmother keeps house for them while the 16-year-old boy earns meter wages for his elders and his two sisters, 11 and 14. Family Welfare Society have been paying the rent and helping make ends meet for this colored family. A basket of food and gifts for all will be appreciated.

56. A frail colored woman deserted by her husband and now under the care of the city dispensary while she tries to regain her health has three children, but no money even for necessities. The boys are 5 and 8, the girl 10. The Family Welfare Society sends a weekly allowance to which extras should be added at Christmas for the sake of the sick woman. A basket of staple groceries with flour, potatoes, carrots, spinach and a few delicacies, and clothing for the children will help them.

57. Two little girls age 3 and 1 were left behind when the husband deserted this young woman. She is working hard to support them but often gets discouraged. Family Welfare Society is trying to straighten things out for her. A basket of food and gifts for the babies are recommended.

58. No Christmas stars in the sky for this elderly couple! The man is blind, and they have few resources outside the Family Welfare Society. A pair of warm blankets, a basket of food and gifts for both are recommended.

Says His Prescription

Has Powerful Influence

Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely furnished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Hook's Dependable Drug Stores, Haag Drug Co., Goldsmith's Drug Stores and druggists everywhere to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if his prescription does not banish every sign and symptom of disease he will gladly return your money without comment.—Advertisement.
