

1924 SUB BECOMES FAMOUS

Ed Hess, Ohio State, Makes Quick Climb to Grid Fame.

A mere football substitute in 1924, generally picked as all-American guard for 1925. That is the story of the football career of Ed Hess, Ohio State University athlete.

The really big grid game of the year for Ohio State is Illinois. It is always the climax to a good or bad season. It was the Illini game of 1924 that opened the road to fame for Hess.

Up until that game Hess had been just a substitute forward. An injury to Doc Dreyer gave him the big chance. His work featured that contest.

So remarkable a game did he play that Coach Dr. John Wilce informed him at its finish that he had the position of guard clinched for 1925. It is said to be the first time Coach Wilce ever did such a thing.

In the 1925 pre-season dope, however, few of the football experts gave Hess even a tumble in considering State's prospects.

The 1924 game with Illinois gave Hess his big chance, but it was really the 1925 clash with Columbia that made him.

Eastern experts were of the opinion that Columbia had one of the strongest teams in that section. At least a dozen of the most prominent eastern football critics saw the game.

As in the Illinois game, Hess was the outstanding star of the Columbia contest. He tore through the Columbia big line at will and so broke up the back field combination of that eleven that State scored a decisive victory.

Throughout the 1925 season the West saw plenty of what Hess could do and came to view him as easily the best guard in the Big Ten. However, it was the Columbia game that made him a national figure.

From a lowly substitute to all-American guard in one short year reads like a page from fiction. It is probably just that to Ed Hess.

STAR LIGHT HEAVIES STEER CLEAR OF CHUCK

Delaney, Stribling and Slattery Avoid Bouts With Wiggins Since He Outpointed Tiger Flowers.

When Chuck Wiggins, Indianapolis' light heavyweight, mixed in a sensational scrap with Tiger Flowers at East Chicago some time ago, he passed himself out of some big matches and big money. Chuck gained a shade verdict over Flowers and the wires carried the information all over the land.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses
Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Promoter Edwards of New Orleans made two efforts to get Young Stribling in ring with the Hoosier, but each time Manager "Pa" Stribling kept his Georgia "gem" and used ticket safety out of Wiggins' reach. "Pa" was willing for his boy to box others of less skill, but he positively refused a Wiggins bout.

Tonight's H. S. Basketball

Anderson at Martinsville. Advance at Darlington. Auburn at Wingate. Bloomington at Bedford. Billings at Marion. Bunker Hill at Gas City. Brownsville at New Palestine. Brownsville at Brookville. Custer at Terre Haute. Converse at Sweetser. Cutler at Burlington. Cutler at Ladora. Covington at Perryville. Crown Point at Indianapolis. Crossville at Belpre. Carmel at Broad Ripple. Columbus at Marion. Corydon at Cambridge City. Carthage at Milroy. Cambridge at French Lick. Clay City at Carlisle. Davis at Newburg. Emerson (Gary) at La Porte. Edinburgh at Whitefield. Elkhorn at Keokuk. Eden at Fortville. French at Gary. Goshen. Fair Oaks at Washington. Fairmount at Waynedale. Franklin at Washington. Franklin at Indianapolis. Frankfort at Winamac. Fountain City at Union City. Goshen at Indianapolis. Greenwood at Noblesville. Huntington at Knightstown. Indianapolis at Mrs. Cathedral (Indiana). Indiana at K. C. Hall. Jonesboro at Swazey. Linton at Corydon. Linton at Centerville. Logansport at Elkhart. Morgantown at Eminence. Muncey at Kokomo. Muncie at Belpre. Monroe at Spindale. Sammamish at Gresham. Newcastle at Richmond. Owenby at Oak City. Oxford at Galion. Poolesville at Hazelton. Rushville at Corydon. Rockville at Cambridge. Royal Center at Galveston. Robins at Marion. South Bend (Fl. Wayne) at North Manchester. Southport at Greenwood.

Spencerville at Waterloo. Scio at Mifflin. Seymour at Shortridge. Shelbyville at Vincennes. Tell City at Reitz (Evansville). Tech Indianapolis at Crawfordsville. Versailles at Vevay. Vevay at Linton. Vevay at Linton. Warsaw at Marion. West Baden at Jasper. West Baden at New Haven City. West Lafayette at Attica. Whiting at Lafayette. West Terre Haute at Normal Terre Haute.

For her gift choose at her store

GLASSWARE

—Sixth Floor

Expert Assistance if you wish

L. S. AYRES & Co.
"A Gift from Ayres Means More"

BENNIE KRUEGER AND HIS BRUNSWICK RECORDING ORCHESTRA OF NEW YORK

Sunday Evening, December 20

That famous Brunswick recording artist, Bennie Krueger, will appear in person with his hot band of syncopators. Your feet will be delighted.

TWO BANDS—CONTINUOUS DANCING

Elimination—Gentlemen 85c. Ladies 50c.

Charleston Contest Every Friday Night.

RIVERSIDE DANCE PALACE

SAFE YOU'RE OUT!

By Eddie Ash

HASKELL INDIANS refuse to stay on the reservation. They're still playing football and are in Los Angeles Saturday for a game. The school at Lawrence, Kan., is merely a supply station for the Haskell grididers.

Red Grange gave his brother Garland a brand new sports roadster for a Christmas present. Brother Garland is in high school and plans to play football in college, but it's a good guess his grid career has ended with the coming of the roadster.

DOING ROAD WORK IN A ROADSTER HAS FLUNKED MORE THAN ONE RAH BOY. OWNING A SPORT MODEL IS A TERRIFIC HANDICAP TO AMBITIOUS YOUTH.

It isn't the cost of the sport model; it's the pace that kills. The average sheba will take a chance on being run down in order to land in the seat of a sport job.

Seeks Title

Tommy Milligan

THIS is Tommy Milligan, welterweight champion of England, who hopes to be the next world crown-wearer of that sector. He hopes to box Mickay Walker for the title in January. Milligan, who is now in this country, is highly touted by European critics.

From a lowly substitute to all-American guard in one short year reads like a page from fiction. It is probably just that to Ed Hess.

Wiggins is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Promoter Edwards of New Orleans made two efforts to get Young Stribling in ring with the Hoosier, but each time Manager "Pa" Stribling kept his Georgia "gem" and used ticket safety out of Wiggins' reach. "Pa" was willing for his boy to box others of less skill, but he positively refused a Wiggins bout.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Promoter Edwards of New Orleans made two efforts to get Young Stribling in ring with the Hoosier, but each time Manager "Pa" Stribling kept his Georgia "gem" and used ticket safety out of Wiggins' reach. "Pa" was willing for his boy to box others of less skill, but he positively refused a Wiggins bout.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Promoter Edwards of New Orleans made two efforts to get Young Stribling in ring with the Hoosier, but each time Manager "Pa" Stribling kept his Georgia "gem" and used ticket safety out of Wiggins' reach. "Pa" was willing for his boy to box others of less skill, but he positively refused a Wiggins bout.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Promoter Edwards of New Orleans made two efforts to get Young Stribling in ring with the Hoosier, but each time Manager "Pa" Stribling kept his Georgia "gem" and used ticket safety out of Wiggins' reach. "Pa" was willing for his boy to box others of less skill, but he positively refused a Wiggins bout.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title aspirants immediately made notations in their "logs" to keep their hopefuls clear of Wiggins.

Slattery's Boss Refuses

Promoter John McGarvey of Pittsburgh thought a Jimmy Slattery-Chuck Wiggins bout would be a good card. He wired Sam Marcus, Chuck's manager, and terms were accepted. But Paul Carr, Slattery's manager, notified McGarvey he didn't want the match.

Flowers is rated a tough, hardy battler, and managers of prominent light heavyweight title