CHICKEN PIE

Cook a hen until very tender and take out the bones. Sauce. Put 3 tablespoons butter in sauce pan. Add 3 tablespoons flour. Cook until it bubbles. Add three cups strained chicken broth and season with salt, pepper and celery salt. Put chicken in pan and pour sauce over it, leaving on the stove to keep hot while preparing crust. Crust: 2 cups flour sifted with 2 teaspoons baking powder and 1-2 teaspoon salt. Beat one egg, add to it 3-4 cup milk. Work two tablespoons butter in flour mixture. Add milk and egg. Drop by spoonfuls on top of chicken and bake quickly. Have extra sauce made to serve with the pie.

Mrs. G. P. Edwards, 2052 N. Illinois St., Indianapolis.

MACARONI SALAD

One package broken cooked macaroni, 1 small onion chopped fine, 3 stalks of tender celery, also chopped fine, 3 hard-boiled eggs, sliced or diced, 1 scant teaspoon of salt, 1/2 teaspoon of pepper, mix and cover with mayonnaise and a dash of paprika. Mayonnaise: To one egg beaten light add 2 tablespoons of water. Have 2 tablespoons butter heating in a saucepan. Add 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 scant teaspoon of salt, 2 tablespoons of sugar. When boiling add egg and cook until thick. Mrs. Kate Worrell, 3206 English Ave., Indianapolis.

FUDGE

Two pounds light brown sugar, 1/2 pound dates, 1 cup English walnuts, whole, enough cream or milk to dissolve sugar. If milk is used, add a lump of butter. Cook sugar and milk until it forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water. Take from stove and set in a pan of cold water ten or fifteen minutes. Then beat till it begins to thicken. Add dates and nuts and pour on buttered platter to harden. Cut in squares. Mrs. Thelma Albee, 509 W. State St., Pendleton, Ind.

PINEAPPLE PIE

One cup grated pineapple, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 yolks of eggs, small piece of butter. Let all this cook. Bake crust, then put in the filling with frosting to brown. Pie crust: One cup flour, 2 tablespoons lard, 3 tablespoons water. Mix in order given.

Mrs. L. L. Campbell, 1835 Rural St., Indianapolis.

SPONGE CAKE

Six eggs, 1 cup flour, 1 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Beat eggs whites until light. Cook sugar and water until it spins a thread. Beat into beaten whites until cool. Add vanilla. Sift flour five times, the last time with the salt and cream of tartar. Beat the egg yolks until thick and lemon colored, add to egg white mixture and lastly fold in flour mixture. Bake one hour in moderate oven.

Mrs. L. F. Spears, 2052 N. Illinois St., Indianapolis.

SPORTS MODEL

The slender silhouette seen in Design No. 2622 is most favored for sports wear. The very high collar is severely smart. The skirt is provided with a flare in the form of wide box pleats in front and side. The sleeves flare, too. The miniature sketches give you an idea of how easy it is to make. A front and back waist section joined to a straight two-piece section. Complete instructions with pattern. Cuts in sizes 16 years, 36 to 42 inches bust. The 36-inch size takes 3 1/4 yards of 44-inch material. This simple style is just the thing for college, business or street wear, fashioned of Hunter's green broadcloth, rust brown velveteen or dark blue canton crepe. Complete instructions with pattern. Price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred).

Every day The Times will print on this page pictures showing the latest in up-to-the-minute fashions. This is a practical service for readers who wish to make their own clothes.

You may obtain this pattern by filling out the accompanying coupon, enclosing 15 cents, and mail it to the pattern department of The Times.

Be sure to write plainly and to include pattern number and size.

Our pattern department has a complete pattern book for past months.

The RANGLE

LETTER FROM PAULA PERIER TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

My Dear Leslie Prescott:

I hope you will pardon my intruding upon your visit with your friend Mrs. Burke, but you have heard, doubtless, from either Mr. Prescott or Mr. Whitney, that I, hearing by accident from your mother that you might be persuaded to dispose of your gorgeous pearls, would like much to buy the two longest strings of matched jewels, the bracelet with the diamond clasp and the large single pearl ring.

I am prepared to pay $500.00 for them. Of course, I know that they are worth much more, but Mr. Whitney thought perhaps you might sell them for that price, particularly as he would like to buy the remainder of the jewels and give them to some charity.

To offer you a price for these jewels may seem very presumptuous to you who are not in the least need of money, and although I hope that you would not misjudge in the least any suggestions I might make, surely I may be allowed to say I was very glad when Mr. Whitney told me he had suggested to you that you could create a trust fund with the money for your two boys.

You cannot conceive, dear Madame Leslie, how I would like to know that the money I have earned would be used for the education of your oldest son. I am sure if you conclude to let me have the pearls, their ill-fated jinx will be broken. In the first place, you will allow me to possess the most gorgeous jewels of any actress in pictures today. Think what that will mean to my publicity agent.

You will have given me a chance to believe that I am concerned in the welfare of your oldest son of whom I am an admirer only second to yourself. You will allow me to present the most gorgeous jewels of any actress in pictures today. Think what that will mean to my publicity agent.

I am sure you will never regret it. Since I have been in Pittsburgh, I have seen a great deal of your children, my dear Mrs. Prescott, with the consent of your husband and your nurse, who showed me a letter from you saying that I could see them whenever I pleased, and I want to thank you for giving me perhaps the greatest joy of all my life, for the time spent in their quiet playroom, listening to the rhapsodies of little Jack about his "beautiful mover," has brought both joy and grief to me.

Pastor to Come Here Jan. 24

Dr. W. A. Shullenberger

As Central Christian Church pastor, Dr. W. A. Shullenberger of Des Moines, Iowa, will preach his first sermon here Jan. 24, Samuel Ashby, president of trustees, announced today.

Dr. Shullenberger succeeds the late Rev. Allen B. Philpott. Born in Pennsylvania Dr. Shullenberger grew up in northwest Missouri and finished his education at Drake University in 1904.

After serving a number of churches he returned to his college town ten years ago to accept pastorate of the historic Central Christian Church at Des Moines.

He received the Doctor of Divinity degree from Drake, of which he is a trustee, and national alumni president, in 1922. He is an executive committee member of the Disciples of Christ board of education.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Alpha Theta Dze, Kiwanis Club and a thirty-second degree Mason.

Martina Lee Says DON'T WHIMPER WHEN VAMP VAMPS,—FIGHT

Our American idea is "Go Ge. It," no matter what it is. We don't think much of the person who makes no effort to gain his wants, but sits down and weeps for them.

"Cry babies" we call that sort. Some of them never grow up. Some of them carry on this warfare after they're old enough to know better. Consequently we haven't much sympathy for the man or the girl who lets somebody else walk off with a matrimonial prize or a sweetheart while he or she sits down and bemoans the fact. We have no sympathy, that is, if the forlorn one has made no effort to hold his sweetheart's affections. If he has tried and his sweetheart still is attracted elsewhere, the only advice anybody can give is "grin and bear it." No use beating around the bush then—she just doesn't love him that way, and that's that. We Americans haven't much use for a cry-baby in that case either.

Licked

Dear Miss Lee: I am a boy 18. The girl I am going with is growing cold toward me. She is going with other fellows and doesn't seem to care for me. We got along fine until a man came along who paid her a lot of attention. My mother advises me to wait and she'll come back to me. But I've tried that and it doesn't seem to work. What can I do?

If you were in the apple business Joe, and somebody opened up a shop across the street with large, bright red, appetizing apples, I suppose you'd shut up your shop and go home to wait until the people grew tired of buying from your rival? Faint heart never won fair lady, and "I don't mean maybe." Get up and dust yourself off and climb down off the shelf, Joe, and show your rival up. No wonder the young lady is growing cold since it appears you don't think enough of her to work to hold her affections.

Losing Her Boy Friend

Dear Martina Lee: I have a girl friend who I have known several years. She was my first playmate. My boy friend, whom I have known about a year and half, and I have been invited over to this girl's house several times with two or three other couples. She likes my friend very nice. She has told me, other girl friends that she has "vamped" him. The boy treats me fairly nice, but treats her nice. I am not usually of a jealous nature, and do not want to be. I value both friendships greatly, and do not care to lose either. Advise me how to keep them both.

I think you may have to play a little waiting game if you really want the young man, my dear. But you'll have to be very adroit. I don't mean for you to stand by and let her take him away. Not at all.

Keeping Company

Dear Martina Lee: I am a middle-aged woman with four children. My husband has a weak heart and still helps support us some. He has been away for six months. I know you think it would be right for me to keep company with other men. I do not say I love him, but I do care for him and I am sure he does me. I don't want to do anything wrong.

There is no crime in having friends, men, women or children as long as you are not seen together so often that you create talk that will embarrass your children. I see no reason why you should not have the friendship of a man whom you like. But until you or your husband have secured a divorce, don't become too seriously interested.

Hemstitching

will add a dainty finish to that Xmas present you are making.
