

SHRINERS PLAN TO DISTRIBUTE MANY BASKETS

Temple Members Asked to Assist with Automobiles.

Shriners of Murat Temple will provide food and goodies for several hundred needy poor families on Christmas morning, according to Amos T. Mack, chairman of the benevolent committee of the local temple. Mack called attention of Shriners to the fact that the committee needs the services of a great many automobiles Christmas morning to provide quick distribution of the baskets.

"The committee will have the baskets ready as early as 6 on Christmas morning," Mack said. "We are urging all members of the temple who can provide automobiles to get to the temple between 6 and 8 that morning." He also announced that the committee could use the services of many Shriners without automobiles to assist in handling the hundreds of baskets.

The Shriners expect to distribute the baskets within less than two hours, it was stated, to needy and worthy poor families in every section of Indianapolis and outlying territory. All requests for assistance have been thoroughly investigated by the Shrine with the aid of the Christmas clearing house, it was said, and those who will be served are considered deserving.

The fund for the Christmas baskets was taken by voluntary contribution at the recent Shrine ceremonial, and is limited, it was announced by the committee. Baskets to be distributed will contain staple food sufficient to last a small family for a number of days. The Christmas distribution by the Shrine has been an annual custom for many years. Members of the benevolent committee, in addition to Mack, are: Charles S. York, Oren T. Owen, George L. Maas, Fred J. Brinkmeyer, George Higemeier, Clinton H. Givan, Lloyd Claycombe, Thomas C. Rutledge, William F. Holtz and Edgar O. Burgan.

ROTARIANS RAISE MONEY

Rotarians raised more than $1,000 for underprivileged children at luncheon Tuesday at the Claypool. Ernest Sellers, sunshine chairman, had charge of the program. Children in institutions will be cheered. Dr. Harold S. Hatch, Sunnyside sanatorium, spoke.

ELKHART CHILD HURT
By United Press
ELKHART, Ind., Dec. 23.—Maxine Fish, 6, today is recovering from severe injuries received when she was run over by an automobile.

She pitied the man

YET she couldn't love him nor could she bring herself to be frank and tell him honestly why she didn't welcome his attentions.

On the other hand, he was quite an attractive fellow who intrigued her in many ways. Still, as you well know, there are some things that you simply can't discuss.

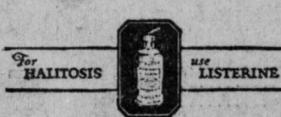

* * *

You yourself, rarely know when you have halitosis (unpleasant breath). That's the insidious thing about it. And even your closest friends won't tell you.

Sometimes, of course, halitosis comes from some deep-seated organic disorder that requires professional advice. But halitosis is only a local condition that yields to the regular use of Listerine as a mouth wash and gargle. It puts you on the safe and sure side. Moreover, in using Listerine to combat halitosis, you are quite sure to avoid sore throat and the more serious illnesses that start with throat infections.

Listerine halts food fermentation in the mouth and leaves the breath sweet, fresh and clean. Just by substituting some other odor but by really removing the old one. The Listerine odor itself quickly disappears.

This safe and long-trusted antiseptic has dozens of different uses; note the little circular chart comes with every bottle. Your druggist sells Listerine in the original brown package only—never in bulk. There are four sizes: 14 ounce, 7 ounce, 3 ounce and 1/2 ounce. Buy the large size for economy.—Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, Saint Louis, U.S.A.

Kin Allows There Be Several Drawbacks to Old Age

By Walter D. Hickman

SURE enough, a man does have a tough time if it when old age creeps upon him.

And there are lots of drawbacks when a feller gets old, according to Abe Martin in his daddy's new book of wisdom, called "Things in General."

Abe's "papa," you know, is Kin Hubbard of Indianapolis. Rather come to think of it, when you say Abe Martin you really mean Kin Hubbard.

But comin' back to the drawbacks of old age, Abe allows in "Things in General" that "Th' drawback t' gitin' ole is that we're mislayin' our pipe, or teeth, or spectacles, an' too often, we fergit our age."

Every time a new Kin Hubbard Abe Martin edition of goodly and pert observation on things in general comes off the press, I have the feelin' that I wish I had only an old-fashioned fireplace in my flat instead of steam heat.

A feller sorta can't get back to the beginnin' of things unless he has had an old-fashioned fireside experience. Steam heat be comfortable, but it is too goll darned modern when you have a book on human philosophy in your hand.

The old-fashioned fireplace has gone and so has the family horse and the old surrey, but thank goodness we have the old-fashioned heat to heat philosophy of Kin Hubbard.

Some Reasons

In this day of the sheik drama and sex literature by the garbage can school of writers, it is a pleasure to run up against such a character as Abe Martin.

A feller gets goin' so fast now days that he must put on the mental brakes sometime. And one of the best ways I know of gettin' back to mental sunshine and thought is to invite Abe Martin to come to your house.

Abe goes a visitin' every day in the year, and then ever once and a while he puts on a yaller jacket and comes trooping around about Christmas time.

And Abe has this to say regardin' foreign visitors: "Of all th' visitors that come t' this country from abroad we believe we like th' vaudeville acrobats th' best."

And on turnin' the pages you will discover this timely observation: "So many soft jobs are bein' created these days that ready-made suits come with two pairs o' trousers."

Growing Fame

Kin Hubbard, the daddy of Abe Martin, is now more than a Hoosier humorist. He is a philosopher for any hour of the day.

He talks in big national terms, meaning that he doesn't bound his territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana, but he reaches out and takes in the whole country.

In other words, Abe Martin talks the language that is understood on every main street, and I have been thinking that the man such as Kin Hubbard, who can capture every main street, is a much bigger man than a Broadway star.

"Things in General," is published by the Abe Martin Publishing Company of Indianapolis, selling for $1.50 a copy.

And jest a laugh, girls, with Abe: "Thar's plenty o' hope for ugly girls. They kin wear knickers, or take up channel swimmin' an' alums have excelled as stenographers."

Musical Library

In order to establish in the Music Department of the Indianapolis Public Library a collection of anthems for the use of all the churches of the city, and large enough to be of real assistance to them, Charles E. Rusch, librarian, has outlined briefly this plan: "If fifty churches will present the Library with thirty copies of some $4 for each church, the Library will undertake to provide an equal number of titles. This will create a collection of one hundred anthems which may be borrowed as easily as any other kind of printed matter by any church in the city. Our endeavor will be to build up a collection which will be of the highest usefulness to all denominations and which will make accessible to church choirs a wider range of music for public presentation than is now the case."

Reduced Prices

All Standard Brand TIRES

INDIANA TIRE SALES

AT THE POINT

Capitol and Indiana Aves.

Local Man to Go to Alabama

Delbert W. Corbin, 2256 Central Ave., assistant manager of the Indianapolis Better Business Bureau, will take the post of merchandise manager of the Birmingham (Ala.) Better Business Bureau Jan. 1. Corbin has been connected with the local bureau for more than a year.

T. M. Ouerley, new manager, will select a successor to Corbin early in January.

Corbin is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms, meaning that he doesn't bound his territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin

is a graduate of the Indiana Law School and has been admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Indiana and Federal Court.

He talks in big national terms,

meaning that he doesn't bound his

territory of thinkin' jest by Indiana.

Corbin