

The Indianapolis Times Year End Number

THE end of an old year and the beginning of a new is a time of taking stock of the past and of planning for the future.

Indianapolis has progressed during the old year. We have prospered socially and commercially. We have no regrets and we have only the brightest prospects for the future.

Indianapolis is a great city. It will become a greater one as its citizenship makes it greater.

The new year opens a blank page before us. We know that this page will be filled with a story of happiness and progress.

It is with this spirit of optimism and hope that The Indianapolis Times again presents its annual year-end section.

INDIANAPOLIS stands among the foremost of the progressive cities of the nation. It is a city of homes, of neighbors, of social equality.

The growth of Indianapolis has not been spasmodic. We do not live in a boom town. Indianapolis has progressed steadily. Therefore our progress has been permanent and healthy.

Patriotism consists not only of love of country but love of home and of the home town. Let us all strive forward with the patriotic spirit.
