

COOLIDGE FACES FOUR 'TICKLISH' JOBS THIS YEAR

Tacna-Arica, Farm Aid
Court Adherence, Mitchell
Case Are Problems.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—President Coolidge turned to new year work today on four perplexing problems. Upon their decisions depends much of the national and international welfare of 1926.

The issues are:

1. Demands of corn belt farmers for relief from price slumps for farm productions through marketing of surplus.

2. Adherence to the world court, with or without reservations, and participation in a general conference on disarmament under auspices of the League of Nations.

3. Steps to carry out the Tacna-Arica plebiscite in accordance with his commission as arbitrator in the boundary controversy between Chile and Peru.

4. Action on the Mitchell court sentence and support of the Morrow board recommendations for aviation development.

President Coolidge has given virtually his entire attention to these problems. Secretaries Hoover, Jardine, Kellogg, Mellon and Davis have been repeatedly in conference with him. Nothing has been announced as an outcome of these conferences, and it is expected that he will let his actions announce themselves, when he is ready to move.

RADIO ATTEMPT TO SPAN WORLD ALMOST WINS

Broadcasting Tests Between
U. S. and Britain Partially Successful.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—An experiment of far reaching importance in attempts to span the world by radio was partially successful last night when music broadcast from Great Britain was picked up here and re-broadcast back across the Atlantic in one-thirty-second of a second.

Nine of the largest radio stations in the United States had combined to make the experiment successful. Likewise, scientists had gathered in stations at Ceylon, Peru, Brazil, Havana, Japan and the Hawaiian Islands to record details of the test.

The music was from Ceylon's and Covent Garden in London, broadcast from station 5-XX, in Daventry, on a 1,600 meter wave length. It was received first at Belfast, Maine and sent to the Radio Corporation of America at Van Cortlandt Park here on a 70 meter wave and from there to WJZ in Aetlin Hall.

It was then re-broadcast. Soon afterward messages arrived from London saying that while strong static interfered with its clarity the music had been caught there. Eight stations in the United States which had cooperated in the experiment also broadcast the music and messages which poured in from the midwest and southwest, and Pacific coast indicated the music had been generally heard in those sections.

Word was received from Buenos Aires and Havana that it had been heard there and an undistorted message from Paris said the music had reached there and had been re-broadcast again on a different wave length.

STUTZ PLANS OPEN HOUSE

Invitation Issued for Event on Monday.

The Stutz Motor Car Company has issued a general invitation to all Indianapolis citizens for a New Year's reception at the Indianapolis factory, Tenth St. and Capitol Ave. on Monday between 10 a. m. and 9 p. m.

The Chamber of Commerce and various other civic organizations are issuing special invitations to their membership to visit the factory at this time.

The feature of the display will be the new line of Stutz cars which have been developed during the past year, and which are shown to the public for the first time on this occasion. On a specially lighted stage each of the various body types which will be shown at the New York Automobile Show will be displayed to the visitors. The public announcement of the new Stutz Vertical Eight will be made later in the week, and the citizens of Indianapolis and surrounding territory are to have an advance view of the cars at this time.

Following the display of the new cars, groups of visitors will be organized under the leadership of competent guides to make a tour through the entire factory.

Big Four Engineer Quits Cab With Perfect Record

Carried 1,682,000 Passengers in 24 Years Without Injury.

In twenty-four years, 1,682,000 passengers trusted their lives to Edward W. Davis, 70, of Zionsville R. F. D. No. 30, retired Big Four passenger engineer. Davis estimated he hauled 200 persons daily without injury.

When retired Dec. 1, Davis had been an employee on Big Four passenger and freight trains fifty years. He has been secretary of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers local chapter for twenty-two years. He received a gold badge for forty years consecutive membership.

"In all my experience I never had an accident which resulted in death of a passenger. Five persons have been killed by my train because of their own carelessness and I always felt badly about it," Davis said.

The only injury Davis ever received was a badly burned face, when a pipe broke and scalded him. "It healed up so nicely that I have a new false face now," he said.

Davis was born in Brooklyn, Wis., and at 19 landed in Indianapolis fresh from the farm with $26. He said his ambition was to become a railroad man, and started as machinist helper.

"It gave me a big thrill when I took out my first train," Davis said. He commended the Big Four's plan of allowing employees to retire at 65, if they wish.

"After going through hardships and tumbles for fifty years an employee deserves an opportunity to retire before 70. I am most grateful for the provision the company makes for aged employees," he said.

SUICIDE UPON TRAIN

Man With Large Sum of Money
Takes Life—Body at Morgue.

The body of a man, found with $2,000 in cash, $45,000 in checks and a deposit book showing $29,000 in a Tampico, Mexico bank, who killed himself on west-bound Pennsylvania train 31, en route from New York to St. Louis Friday, is held at the Kirk Morgue today. According to the Pullman Company, the man is C. Antoine Carvone of Tampico, Coroner Paul F. Robinson will communicate with authorities there.

E. B. Reed, police chief for the railroad, told Robinson and Sgt. J. J. O'Neil, who investigated, that a passenger heard a train in a corridor of the train, when it was near Dunreith, Ind. Reed broke into the room and found the man clutching an automatic pistol. One shot, discharged, had struck him in the right temple. Conductors said the man had acted queerly.

NEW MACCABEE HIVE

Organization First in State Composed of Women Only.

About forty women have signed as charter members of the new hive of Maccabees which will be organized Jan. 11, at Castle Hall. This will be the first group in Indiana composed of women only.

Great Commander Milo R. Meredith, of Wabash, E. H. Palmer, district manager, and Mrs. E. H. Palmer will have charge of ceremonies.

Installation will be Jan. 14, at the Denison. The organization voted to form women's groups in June, 1925.

Noted Film Critic to Visit City

In a strenuous national drive to educate the public to want clean movies and to ban salacious pictures, Mrs. Florence Wilson, critic and reviewer of Universal Pictures Corporation, Hollywood, Cal., will arrive in Indianapolis on Monday, Jan. 4th, to give a series of lectures before the local club circles.

Mrs. Wilson, as an ambassador from Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, will bring with her the message of clean pictures in which she has the wholehearted cooperation of the noted film magnate.

In her position as critic and reviewer of this great film producing plant, Mrs. Wilson has gained a wide "inside knowledge" of the many problems that beset a producer in choosing a clean, wholesome, yet at the same time interesting picture.

Her position calls for her to pass on every Universal picture produced.

HEARING DATES SET

Congress to Conduct Farm Aid Bill
Inquiries.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The House and Senate Agriculture Committees will begin hearing on farm relief bills Jan. 11 and 12, respectively.

Calls for the meetings to consider new farm legislation were issued today by Chairman Hagen of the House Committee and Chairman Norris of the Senate Committee.

A score of editors of farm journals, who were holding a national meeting here then, will be the first witnesses.

ENSEMBLE

The two or three-piece ensemble and frocks giving the ensemble effect are the smartest models seen on the streets now. For either street or afternoon wear they are charming.

Breakfast—Grape fruit, codfish balls, cornmeal muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Cream of carrot soup, toast sticks, lettuce on hard-cooked eggs sandwiches, raspberry cream, drop cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Breast of lamb, baked potatoes, pineapple salad, lemon sponge pie, whole wheat, bread, milk, coffee.

The cheaper cuts of lamb are quite as nourishing as the expensive chops and leg but require some time and thought on the part of the cook to make them interesting.

Breast of Lamb

Two pounds breast of lamb, 1/4 pound bacon, 2 pounds of green peas, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Remove skin from meat. Cover with boiling water and simmer ten minutes. Line a casserole with thin slices of bacon. Add meat, season with salt and pepper and minced onion. Cover with bacon and pour over 1 1/2 cups of the lamb stock. Cover closely and cook in a moderate oven for 1 hour. Add peas and cook one-half hour longer. If more water is needed add it when putting in the peas. Serve in the casserole.

This is an excellent dish for the fireless cooker on a hot day. Potatoes can be cooked with the meat and peas making one dish of the meat and vegetables for the dinner. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

HERE'S A NEW YEAR RESOLUTION TO ADD

Father may swear off smoking. Brother may swear off gambling. Sister may resolve to stop quarreling with her lover. But mother should resolve to stop being the family burden bearer, the economic slave, and the super-wise matron.

"Some day," smiles mother, "I'm going to sit back and enjoy myself a little. I'm going to step out like the rest of the family. But too often she waits too long. Too often she waits until she is too old to enjoy a few nice clothes; until she is the color of the coats and suits she wears; like a molting cinnamon bear. If mother doesn't have a 'bat' occasionally, the rest of the family find her dull and uninteresting. She becomes that way to herself, which is more pitiful. It's all right to remember both sides of a nickel, but mother mustn't forget the wisdom of occasional folly, and the economy of occasional extravagance."

Family-Pecked

Dear Miss Lee: I thought perhaps you could advise me how to adjust myself to a rebellious son-in-law. I have a son and a daughter-in-law. My husband is as good to me as a husband can be. But I'm a drudge. I know it. My family has been willing to be a drudge while the children are very young. But they're grown, and both making their own money quite independently of us. But still my husband acts as if though we hadn't a cent. I look downy and feel that way. What would you do?

MRS. M.

Well, I'd go down, and if I didn't have any money I'd open a charge account, and buy me some becoming clothes. I'd have my hair done and my nails done. I'd start to entertain. And if hubby objected, I'd tell him I could work as housekeeper for somebody else and make clear money.

A little extravagance now and then is relieved by the best of men—and women.
