

$50,000 COURT TRIP COST WILL PASS CONGRESS

Assurance Given President's Request for Funds Will Be Granted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The appropriation requested by President Coolidge to send a United States delegation to send a preliminary representation to the League of Nations arms conference will be rushed through both Houses of Congress.

This assurance was given today by both proponents and opponents of the League, which indicated no obstacle would be placed in the path of America's participation in the preliminary Geneva meeting next month.

The appropriation of $50,000 which Coolidge requested, must first be adopted by the House and then the Senate Committee on Appropriations Committee announced it would be placed as an item in the deficiency appropriation bill this week.

Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and leading critic of the League, indicated he would have no objection to the expenditure, and the general impression now is that little extraordinary significance will be attached to the move which will link this country in the first big international undertaking of the League.

"It all depends upon the agenda, of course, as to whether or not I shall favor participation in the disarmament conference itself," Borah said.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY
Harold Farmer, 30, Negro, 600 W. North St., is held today on a robbery charge. Sergeant O'Connor arrested Farmer, alleged to be one of five men who attacked and robbed Sgt. William Rehner, soldier at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, of $33, at Vermont St. and Indiana Ave., Dec. 31.

Will Carol Remarry Her?

Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, who resigned his rights to his country's throne, may have done so to return to Zizi Lambrou, former wife (above). Zizi, a commoner, married Carol during the war, but in 1920 King Ferdinand induced Carol to annul the marriage and wed Princess Helena of Greece. Now dispatches say, he will remarry Zizi.

NEW REGIME ORDERS CITY HALL CLEANUP

'Place Looks Like a Barn,' Custodian Told—Ordered to Put Building in Spick-and-Span Shape.

Mayor Duval started his four-year term as the city's executive today with a clean office.

Lieut. Arthur McGee, assigned to Mayor's office, ordered J. H. Abernathy, city hall custodian, to clean up the place following inauguration Monday noon.

"This place looks like a barn. We want the walls, floors, ceiling, windows and everything else put in spick-and-span condition," McGee told Abernathy.

"Yes, just give me a chance. I am going to clean Mayor Duval's office and keep it that way," Abernathy replied.

Spectators in the gallery of the council chamber Monday night found a heavy layer of dust.

Duval revived the custom of having a Negro messenger, which former Mayor Shank abandoned two years ago after death of his messenger. Hays Wilson, Negro, first ward committeeman, took up his duties as messenger Monday.

Four persons are assigned to the new mayor's office.

Luke V. Schneider is Duval's secretary and Miss Pearl Nicholas, stenographer.

A. L. Reeves, 2354 N. Capitol Ave., former traveling salesman, has been appointed chauffeur to Duval.

Prospects are good, several State officials say, for ultimate recovery of every cent of the $90,000 that was on deposit in 1923 in the Discount and Deposit State Bank, defunct Kentland institution of which the Warren T. McCray, former Governor, was president.

Foreseeing the impending crisis, McCray relinquished the presidency of the bank early in 1923, but kept the act a secret several months then came the rumbling of his personal failure and word of his resignation. It was more than the tottering house could stand and its doors, shortly thereafter, were closed by officials of the state banking department.

Although State officials, at the time, despaired of collecting a cent of the $90,000 deposited in the institution, examiners for the State banking department expressed the hope that some of the money could be recovered. Under management of the bank by Eben H. Wolcott, former State bank commissioner and Thomas D. Barr, present commissioner, its liabilities are being slowly liquidated and all but $36,000 of the State's deposit has been returned. On Nov. 4, the receiver declared a 10 per cent dividend, which resulted in payment of a $9,000 check to the State, according to records in the office of State Treasurer Ben H. Urbahn.

Stockholders in the bank, as provided by law, were its bondsmen. Since failure of the institution one of the stockholders, a wealthy Kentland resident, has died, leaving a large estate. Final settlement of the estate depends on satisfaction of the legal claims of the bank's depositors. The man's heirs, it is understood, are eager to effect a final settlement of the estate and are willing that the bank's claims be given preference. If such a settlement is made it will mean that Indiana will be able soon to retrieve $90,000 it had given up as lost.

POLICE HEAR MAYOR, CHIEF STATE VIEWS

New Officials Speak at Roll Call—Recent Appointees Suspended.

Members of the police department well understand today what will be required of them during the terms of office of Mayor Duval, and Police Chief Claude F. Johnson.

In a general roll call at headquarters Monday at 6:30 p. m., at which every member of the department was in attendance, Duval told of his campaign promise, that the city would be morally and otherwise clean. He stated that the men themselves were due to carry out this promise.

Mayor Introduced
Johnson introduced the mayor after greeting the men in his new capacity as chief and telling them that his ideas of what that should be were in a bulletin that had just been distributed. Johnson advised reading the rules and ordinances.

O. D. Haskett, chairman of the board of safety, and the two other board members, John George and John W. Friday, were introduced. Haskett, talking for the board, stated that the members were outlining some changes and new orders, to be given to the department later.

Ovation For Two
Inspector of Traffic Walter White and Captain of Detectives Jerry Kinney, shared the two greatest ovations. Michael Glenn and Claude Worley spoke briefly saying the efficiency will be required both in the detective and uniform departments which they will supervise.

Johnson also introduced the four new captains of the uniform division: Lewis Johnson, George Stone, Herbert Fletcher and George Winer. Monday afternoon Johnson held roll call for the 115 new policemen, appointed since last September and suspended indefinitely all of them except Mrs. Josephine Fairhead, who retained her badge and made a statement that she was advised charges must be preferred against her before she can be relieved. Johnson said these charges would be preferred today.

Brother Held; Slayer Shrugs
Her father, Clarence H. MacKay, head of the Postal Telegraph Company, has added many times to the original estate.

Berlin and Miss MacKay were married Monday without parental consent, and a city clerk officiated.

Clarence MacKay was stunned at the news of the marriage. Although rumors his daughter was to wed the song writer had been current MacKay always had steadfastly insisted that they were without basis in fact. He issued a statement in which he said the ceremony was without his "knowledge or approval."

Mother Is Favorable
The bride's mother, now Mrs. Joseph A. Blake, declined to comment, but it is believed that she regarded the match with much more favor than did her former husband, from whom she was divorced many years ago.

The Berlins, radiantly happy, met newspapermen outside their home, but would not speak definitely of their honeymoon plans. It was reported Mrs. Berlin, a Catholic, would ask that her husband agree to a religious service before the couple sails Saturday.

Ellen MacKay, who as one of the wealthiest debutantes a few years ago had the longest stag line in history at her feet, has for some time been a rebel against the social order into which she was born, and her marriage to Berlin, according to her father's wishes, is the culmination of her search for social freedom recently expressed in a series of magazine articles.

Was "Nickel Kicker"
These two, the one aspiring to society, with memories of the days when he was a "Nickel Kicker" in "Nigger Mike's," the other weary of the ways of aristocracy, slipped unnoticed into the Municipal Bldg. Monday, and obtained a license to wed.

Even earlier, in April, 1925, Miss MacKay, returning from Europe, denied reports she was to marry the composer. Berlin also denied them, saying they probably were based upon certain sentimental ballads he had written, such as "What'll I Do?" and "All Alone."

"They have said the same thing about everything I wrote," he complained. "There was only one that I ever wrote from my personal experiences."

This was "When I Lost You," the ballad Berlin wrote in 1913, after the death of his first wife, Dorothy Goetz, sister of Ray Goetz, the composer.

Motion Picture Critic Heard
A plea that the public make known its wishes in regard to motion pictures by writing to the directors before a picture goes into the hands of the exhibitors, was made by Mrs. Florence Wilson of Los Angeles, Cal., this morning, before the Indiana Intenders of Photography in the Fletcher American Bank Bldg. Mrs. Wilson is the picture critic and reviewer of the Universal Studios of California.

"The exhibitor cannot help you," Mrs. Wilson declared. "He has to give you the pictures that come to him. You people who want clean pictures must go to the source—the directors. Write to the directors. How can they know what the public wants unless that public informs them?"

"Often when I have suggested to a director that certain features in pictures might well be changed he said, 'How do I know? The public hasn't said so.' Don't be afraid that your criticisms—both good and bad, will receive no consideration. I assure you that they will."

Mrs. Wilson addressed the Indianapolis Local Council of Women at the Propylaeum this afternoon.

Jazz Composer Takes Bride to Russian Home

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Berlin. Mrs. Berlin was formerly Miss Ellen Mackay, daughter of Clarence H. Mackay, multi-millionaire head of the Postal Telegraph Company.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—In one of the presidential suites of the liner Leviathan, Irving Berlin will take his bride, the former Ellen MacKay, to Europe.

Berlin will sail luxuriously and in company with one of the nation's wealthiest heiresses to a continent from which he came in poverty. It is a stretch of imagination to see in the successful song writer and publisher, whose annual income is estimated at $500,000, the one-time Izzy Baline, youngest of a Jewish rabbi's eight children.

The wealth that is Berlin's came from the grimy pavements of New York's East Side, in contrast to the fortune which some day may be his wife's, for John W. MacKay, the bride's grandfather, found his bonanza with the "Forty Niners" in the west.

13 ARRESTED IN U. S. RAIDS GIVEN TERMS

Cases of Forty-Eight Passed and One Charge Is Nulled.

The "iron clad" cases of Prose, cutler William H. Remy proved effective today when thirteen of the eponyms arrested a week ago by Federal agents and local officers on liquor law violation charges, were heavily fined and sentenced by Criminal Judge James A. Collins.

The case of forty-eight defendants were passed and one charge nulled. One of those receiving heavy punishment was William (Gippy) Javin, Democratic politician, operator of a poolroom at 18 S. West St. He was fined $200 and costs and sentenced ninety days on the counts of possession of liquor, sale and maintaining a nuisance. Givan had been arrested twice before on blind tiger charges.

Days Concurrently
Remy explained that the defendants must pay the fine meted on each count, but can serve their days concurrently. He said that abatement suits will be filed immediately to close up all poolrooms, dry beer saloons, homes and apartments of all defendants convicted. He stated that he will demand the maximum penalty for all persons who ask a continuance.

Another defendant who did not fare so well was John Price, Negro, 1533 Mill St., fined $100 and costs and given ninety days on each of the three counts. He also was fined $200 and costs and given sixty days on a city court appeal Judge Collins had under advisement. A drunk appeal of $10 and costs was dismissed and paid in the lower court.

Raymond Humble and his wife, Mrs. Betty Humble, Apt. 5, 418 E. Vermont, both were found guilty. Humble was fined $100 and costs and given ninety days on the Farm on each count. Judge Collins withheld judgment and sentence against Mrs. Humble during good behavior.

Two Found Guilty
Miss Grace Cline, alias Ruth Foster, and Paul Brady, who were arrested in an apartment opposite the Humble apartment, also were found guilty. Brady was fined $100 and costs and given sixty days on each count. Miss Cline, who pleaded not guilty, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced thirty days in jail.

The case against Pete Ellef, 558 W. Washington St., operator of a city beer saloon, was continued until Monday morning. His bond was increased from $1,000 to $5,000 on motion of Remy.

"I'll have been running the kind of place we have been trying to get. We can get two years on his conviction because of previous convictions," said the prosecutor.

John White, 216 W. Merrill St., and Albert Parish, each were fined $100 and costs and sentenced to thirty days on the Farm. Clarence Sleet, 460 W. Eighteenth St., and Pleasant Glenn, 65 N. Negro, 10 N. Liberty St., were given similar fines and sentences.

Alveta Roberts, Negro, 334 N. Blackford St., was fined $100 and costs and given six months on the Farm. John Burns, Negro, 212 W. Merrill St., was fined $100 and costs and given sixty days.</
