

HIGH SCHOOL BOOTLEGGER IS ORDERED HELD

Drug Store Manager Fined $1,000 and Sentenced Sixty Days.

Lucius Wilson, Negro, alleged local high school bootlegger, was ordered arrested today by Criminal Judge James A. Collins, after Charles McMurray, 29, Negro, high school senior and State's witness, testified he had been sent to Wilson's place to get liquor by Leo H. Bond, Negro, drug store manager, at 648 Indiana Ave.

Wilson, who lives near a high school building, has been arrested for selling liquor to students, it was testified.

Bond was fined $1,000 and costs and sentenced to six months on the Indiana State Farm by Collins when convicted of violating the liquor law. He was arrested by Federal agents in recent city-wide raids.

Bond was fined $250 and costs and sentenced six months on a blind tiger appeal from city court on another arrest.

Admits Sale

McMurray, a clerk for Bond, sold Federal Agent Bennett liquor, Dec. 12, Bennett testified. McMurray admitted the sale. Prosecutor William H. Remy asked leniency for McMurray, who voluntarily made a statement on law violations near a high school. Judgment was withheld on charges against McMurray.

"I think it would be a crime to place a record against this boy under these circumstances," said Judge Collins. "These young people think it is smart to take a flask to dances and parties," the court said. McMurray testified former Patrolman Swank, suspended on an intoxication charge, frequently came in for advice.

Others Sentenced

Edward Hoelkemeyer, a poolroom owner at 423 E. Washington St., was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days in jail for maintenance of a nuisance. Charlie Haase, arrested with Hoelkemeyer, was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to sixty days on the farm for selling liquor.

Frank Minardo was fined $300 and costs and given a ninety-day farm term. On a city court appeal he was fined $100 and costs and given thirty days on the farm on a blind tiger charge.

Mary Thomas, who appealed a blind tiger conviction, was fined $100 and costs and given thirty days at the Indiana Woman's Prison.

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Chicago School Head Denounced for Opposition to War Pictures.

By United Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Criticism swirled today about William McAndrew, superintendent of schools, for his announced opposition to war pictures and statues in school rooms for fear they perpetuate the war spirit.

McAndrew suggests "the spirit of '76," and other "symbols of carnage," be removed.

Edwin P. Morrow, former Kentucky Governor, and now a member of the United States Labor Board, in a speech Monday night, denouncing McAndrew, said:

"These utterances come from a man who presides over the instruction of more boys and girls than any other teacher in the State. This is Illinois—the State that gave to earth Lincoln, and to the Union, Grant and Logan. To what depths of shame, piffle and pork powder effeminacy are we descending?"

"If you follow this 'patriotic' professor to a logical conclusion, then Chicago must take from the heroic statue of Washington on your boulevard the sword from the uplifted hand, snatch from Logan the flag that waves above his head, unhorse Phil Sheridan and take the pistols from his holsters, for they are 'symbols of carnage.'"

"If the spirit of '76' is not fit for the schoolrooms of Chicago, then we must strip from the walls of the Nation's capitol the great picture of Perry at the battle of the lakes."

BRITAIN JOINS U. S. FIGHT IN MEXICAN LAWS

State Department Also Wires for Information on Train Murders.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Great Britain has joined the United States in protesting to Mexico against new oil and land laws as they effect foreign-owned property.

London dispatches said Britain has instructed its envoy at Mexico City to deliver a note similar to the protest already lodged by the United States.

Great Britain, like America, has vast oil and land interests in Mexico which might be adversely affected by operations of the new laws.

President Coolidge is anxious for Americans to show patience and helpfulness in the Mexican dispute and realize Mexicans have not their advantages and have a different outlook, it was said at the White House.

Meanwhile the State Department cabled American consul Dudley Dwyer at Guadalajara for full information on the hold-up and burning of a Mexico City-Guadalajara train and the slaying of many passengers by bandits.

The department previously had called for information on the reported slaying of Robert C. Russell, Maryville, Va., a passenger on the train with another American citizen, neither of whom were molested.
