

BUS COMPANIES UNABLE TO RUN AT FARE RATE

$150,407 Red Ball Deficit
Reported at Hearing on Increase.

Although charging a fare of approximately 2.5 cents a mile, the Indiana Red Ball Company, largest motorized transportation system in the State, has been unable to meet operating expenses, representatives of the company told Public Service Commissioner Clyde H. Jones today during hearing on a petition to increase fares to 3 cents a mile.

Up to the time the company went into receivership a month ago it had suffered a total deficit of $150,407, showing an average loss of $16,000 a month, Jones was told. Fred I. Jones, receiver, told Commissioner Jones a 3-cent fare probably would go no further than to relieve the immense deficit.

Seek to Save

The statement was taken as an indication that Jones intends to save as much as possible for stockholders and discontinue service on those of the thirteen lines which have proved unprofitable.

The Red Ball recently sold three of its operators' certificates on routes between Indianapolis and South Bend.

Representatives of the Hoosier Stage Lines told Jones a similar story. On its two lines, Indianapolis to Muncie and Anderson to Marion, the company has accumulated a total deficit of $23,494 while operating on a fare of slightly in excess of 2 cents a mile, making a net operating loss of $4,000 a month.

Want 3-Cent Fare

A 3-cent-a-mile fare was asked, together with provision for commutation rates for regular patrons.

Recently the Interstate Public Service Company, after buying out a number of competing bus com-

I have a Message for the Deaf

... a sudden illness ... all my savings spent in my long battle with disease ... my hearing impaired ... then DEAFNESS.

In a few short months, the income from my work had dwindled to practically nothing, and I found the world broken in spirit and with an affliction that seemed to make it impossible for me ever to secure my former income again.

Then I made a Startling Discovery

It's the story of that discovery and what it meant to me in improving my hearing ... fighting my way back ... that I want every man and woman to read, who is deaf or even hard of hearing.

My message is in booklet form ... it points the way for YOU ... it shows YOU how to regain for yourself, the full, active, happy life you enjoyed before.

Don't let this opportunity knock in vain ... don't postpone ... now, as you read, and for the booklet "My Message to the Deaf." It will be sent FREE to YOU. Send for it today—NOW. Address, Kruss, St. Louis, Mo.; Herbert C. Krauch, Indianapolis.

Officials and representatives who attended the mid-winter Junior Chamber of Commerce conference here Saturday and Sunday, are light seeing in Indianapolis today. Most of them will leave tonight or Tuesday for their homes. About forty from different parts of the United States were present.

Plans for the national Junior Chamber of Commerce convention to be held at Jacksonville, Fla.,

In June, were considered at the conference at the Lincoln. E. Fred Johnson of Tulsa, Okla., national president, presided.

What further service national organizations could give to member bodies reports and decisions to continue publication of the national organ, Expansion, were matters that took up most of the time of the conference.

This mid-winter meeting was an innovation, being the first one to be held at this time of year.

SAYS TAX BILL CUT TOO MUCH

Representative Says House to Be Reckoned With.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Senate cutters have overdone reduction in their revision of the tax bill, in the opinion of Representative William R. Green, Iowa, Republican, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who warns that the House was still to be reckoned with.

Instead of $352,000,000 the reduction estimate placed by Senate leaders on their measure, the Senate bill pares $467,000,000 from the revenues, according to Green's calculations. The bill as it passed the House provided only $325,000,000, the extreme margin of safety set by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Because of this huge cut, Green warned that repeal of the inheritance tax and of the capital stock tax proposed in the Senate will be opposed when the measure goes back to the House for conference. The repeal of both these items adds $115,000,000 to the total of the tax cut, he estimated.

DUVALL NOT FOR CHANGES

Expected to Resist Switches in Personnel.

Mayor Duvall today sounded a death knell for changes in appointments to the board of public works.

"I am more concerned with the acts of my boards and departments for the good of Indianapolis than with the personnel of the employees," Duvall said.

Duvall's statement was taken to mean he will resist efforts of the Klan and George V. Coffin factions to change building, parks and market department employees.

'BILLY'S' CASE WITH COOLIDGE

President to Review Mitchell Sentence.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The case of Col. William Mitchell, sentenced to five years' suspension from the Army, is now in the hands of President Coolidge.

The papers in the case, it was learned today, have been transmitted to the White House by the War Department after proceeding through the usual channels of review.

The President, as commander-in-chief, is the final reviewing officer. His decision is expected in a short time.

AFTER LAND FOR PARK

State Conservation Official to Confer Upon Dunes Project.

In an effort to obtain additional tracts of Lake Michigan shoreline for the Indiana Dunes Park, Everett L. Gardner, State conservation commission member, will confer this week with William P. Gleason of Gary, personal representative of Judge Elbert H. Gary, Gary, in turn, will be asked to enlist support of Chicago financiers.

Judge Gary, as head of the United States Steel Corporation, already has contributed $250,000 to the movement. Gardner will stop at Valparaiso and Chesterton to close the deals on approximately 120 acres of dune land near the park.

FOUR YOUTHS TAKEN

Police Think They Have Burglars Who Stole Batteries From Shed.

With the arrest of four youths, police today think they have in custody the burglars who entered the shed of Ab. Glaesman, 816 N. Capitol Ave., and stole two batteries and who have stolen other articles in the neighborhood recently.

They were arrested after they attempted to sell the batteries to a second hand dealer.

ALLEGED ASSAILANT HELD

'Shyster' Who Saved Thaw Is Dead

New Yorkers Breathe Easier With Passing of Famous Lawyer.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—New York society folk breathed easier today with the news of the death of "Abe" Hummel, shyster lawyer, who helped saved Harry Thaw from the electric chair for the murder of Stanford White.

An ugly little man, with a round body supported by stumpy and surmounted by an enormous head which held half the scandalous secrets of New York. That was "Abe" Hummel.

Divorce cases came naturally to Hummel in his office in the old Madison Square Garden, where he kept a little green safe stuffed with evidence that made him a power.

He was a divorcee case which finally ended his career. He was convicted of subornation of perjury in inducing Charles F. Dodge to make a false affidavit in connection with the divorce suit of his wife. After a long drawn out trial, he was sentenced to prison for one year.

Hummel kept Stanford White, Evelyn Nesbit and Thaw and moved in and out of the sensational trial like an evil genius. In her husband's defense, Evelyn took the stand in the 1907 trial and declared Thaw had hired Hummel to drive Thaw out of New York and that she had helped frustrate the plot.

Called many times to the stand "Little Abe," testified that Thaw had beaten Evelyn and helped to establish Thaw's insanity.

William Travers Jerome, who prosecuted Thaw, never forgot it and he was the man who sent Hummel to prison. "Little Abe," after serving his sentence, toured the world and returned to Broadway, but his power was broken. He returned to self exile in London, where he died.

Forgets Head

Shaken with his experience, Marshall said he returned to his office and was horrified to find that in his panic he had overlooked the girl's head, which lay starting at him from the floor. Wrapping it in newspapers, he hid it in the office through the day. At night he dropped the head under the pier of a railroad trestle at Naylor's Run, where it was found by detectives Saturday.

Stringent Fire Orders

Theaters and Hotels Must Comply, Says Prevention Chief.

Theaters and hotels of Indianapolis will be required to establish fire prevention provisions, Horace Carey, fire prevention chief, announced today.

Carey said most hotels and theaters had conformed satisfactorily to fire prevention regulations, which also will be extended to hospitals and other public institutions.

Ellis P. Graft, superintendent of public schools, has offered full cooperation for fire prevention work in the schools, Carey said.

Rubbish Pile Grows

Every day in every way the pile gets larger and larger.

While Henry Fleming, courthouse custodian, is making an energetic attempt to relieve the interior of the courthouse of dust and dirt, the rubbish pile in front of the building continues to grow.

County employees are wondering when the unsightly rubbish will be removed. The last report of the Marion County grand jury deplored the untidy appearance of the courthouse grounds.

Woman Paroled

Governor Jackson today granted a parole to Elizabeth Shine, now serving a four-month sentence in the Indiana Women's Prison following conviction Nov. 19, 1925, in Hancock Circuit Court on charges of violating liquor laws. She was fined $500. Clemency was recommended by the State pardon board.

Woman Is Injured

Mrs. Pearl Mahl, 3441 Boulevard Pl., was injured and taken to the city hospital Sunday when her auto collided with one driven by Sol Schloss, city board of health president, at Forty-Sixth and Illinois Sts. The Mahl auto turned over.

SPEAKER SAYS REPORTED 'RED' GROWTH FALSE

Legionnaire Is a Builder, Declares Frank C. Cross, Director.

"Red" leaders in Chicago claim 2,000 converts in Indiana in the last six months," declared Frank C. Cross, national director of the American Legion, during his address before the Indiana Posters Advertising Association at the Severin today.

"Obviously the figure is ridiculous, but nevertheless the claim should put us on guard," he said.

"The most recent affront of the 'Reds' in America has been to organize for military training while they support the move to abolish military training in our high schools and colleges."

"Pink Pacificists"

"We do not feel we would look well in Borah pink, which, I understand, is now the stylish shade among the pacifists," he said, pointing out that The American Legion is not composed of pacifists, or militarists, "but are heart and soul for international good will and permanent peace."

"The American Legion makes no bid for the swashbuckler. The Legionnaire is proud of his service to America, but he is not the conceited nitwit who thinks that military record has placed him in a class above the man who served as honestly and unselfishly in a civil capacity. The Legionnaire measures patriotism in good citizenship. He believes in American ideals, but not that America is ideal. He is a builder, not a boaster."

"The American Legion makes no bid for the extreme militarist or the extreme pacifist. We have probably taken more effective steps to insure international peace than any other organization in America. We are sponsors of the universal draft bill which is before Congress. Where is the support of the pacifist who contends that economic greed is the cause of all war?"

Favor Court

"We are active proponents for America's adherents to a permanent court of international justice. We urge the need of further negotiations among nations to encourage disarmament, the codification of international law and the arbitral settlement of disputes."

"We have set ourselves a program for the promotion of international good will which is unequalled by the combined programs of all the pacifists. It calls for the international exchange of students through cooperation with the Fidac, for the promotion of international sports, for the encouragement of teachers and writers to promote a sympathetic and cooperative understanding of other countries."

Durkin Loses

$2,295 in Cash

Sheik-Killer as Result Can't Get Lawyer.

By United Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Martin J. Durkin, notorious killer and breaker of hearts, lost his confident, debonaire air today when he found that the nucleus of his defense fund would not be released by the Government. Federal authorities declared that the $2,295 found on Durkin when he was arrested will be held until the prisoner can prove legal ownership. It is contended that the money was obtained by criminal means.

So far Durkin has been unable to secure the legal talent he wants. Several crack criminal lawyers have been approached by Durkin's mother, but they refused to take the case without positive guarantees of a large retainer.

Durkin, who is charged with the murder of Edward Shanahan, Federal agent, and Police Sgt. Harry Gray will be brought into court Friday to make a plea. If he is without an attorney at that time the courts will appoint a lawyer to act for him.

MRS. URBAHNS TAKES UP OFFICIAL DUTIES

Widow in Touch With Office, Headed by Husband—Gives Attention to Home First—Services Held Sunday.

The task of reorganizing a broken home fell to the hands of Mrs. Grace Banta Urbahns today and the loyal workers at the State treasurer's office who served her husband during his eleven months in office carried on the State's business for the first woman who ever held the position.

"I'm keeping in touch with the office by telephone, and if they need me for anything I'll go down," Mrs. Urbahns said at her home, 404 E. Forty-third St., "but there are a good many things that need my attention here."

To Retain Force

Mrs. Urbahns announced she intended to retain the force that was her husband's, which is headed by Frank Richards, chief deputy.

The State's official family, county and municipal officers and hundreds of friends paid their respects Sunday at simple funeral services for Ben Urbahns, her husband, who died Thursday night, following an operation. The late treasurer was buried in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Urbahns' term expires Feb. 15, 1927. Candidates for the office must seek nomination in the May primary.

Mrs. Urbahns has given no thought to her plans but to serve out her husband's unexpired term. "There is no plan," she said. "It all came so sudden. Mr. Urbahns wanted me to serve out his term."

Former Teacher

A teacher in the Billings, Mont., schools fifteen years ago, Mrs. Urbahns little dreamed that her romance with Ben Urbahns, would bring her back to Indiana and make her a State official through a bitter twist of fate.

She is the mother of two little children, Bruce and Dorothy. She was born in Chicago, educated at Valparaiso, Ind., taught in Montana until 1911, then lived in Gary before coming to Indianapolis about eight years ago.

Coughing, Weak and Thin After Flu

Regain Flesh and Strength Quickly. Milks Emulsion Did It.

"I nearly died from 'flu' last October, and it left me with a terrible cough. I took one bottle of medicine after another, but it did me no good."

"I saw Milks Emulsion advertised and started using it. It helped me right from the start. I had no appetite and my stomach was in bad shape. But 12 bottles have straightened me out entirely. I eat anything without distress, my cough is gone and I have gained back my strength and flesh."—Emma Withers, Box 50, Belmont, N. C.

Milks Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food, thus building flesh and strength, which are Nature's only means of conquering germs and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion. If not satisfied with results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by druggists everywhere.
