

STIRRIN' the DOPE

By VEDDER GARD

There will be no need to wear your skid chains this year at the final high school basketball tournament at the Exposition building, State fairground. The standing room platform is a thing of the past. Bleachers will be built at both ends of the playing court.

But you better get your tickets ahead of time. It is the intention of the local committee to sell the capacity of the building, 14,000, before the opening day if it is possible.

There will be only two kinds of tickets, day and night. There will be no season or single game tickets. A ticket for Friday and Saturday cost $1 each. The night season tickets will sell for 50 cents and will not be placed on sale until 5 p. m. of each day.

Those holding the daily tickets may sell all of the tickets including the night sessions for one buck each day. Pass-out checks will be issued. The building, however, will not be cleared at any time.

It might be a good thing to jot down in your notebook the date of March 8. That's when tickets go on sale. They will be available at the local high schools and at downtown sporting goods stores. Simon P. Roache of Shortridge is directly in charge of the distribution.

In the latest bulletin of the Indiana High School Athletic Association the date of the sectional track meets is set on May 15. The centers have not as yet been selected. The final meet will be held on May 22 at Indianapolis.

INDIANA and Purdue are much obliged to Chicago for upsetting the Ohio State basketball team. The defeat put the Hoosiers in a tie with the Buckeyes for third place.

From all accounts the Chicago upset was a thriller. After Ohio had led for the entire game, Hoerger of the Maroons, who usually confines his activities to defense, suddenly broke loose with three field goals in the last minutes to snatch the contest away by one point.

Wisconsin is leading the pack now, but Purdue plays the Badgers two games and I. U. takes them on at Bloomington. No doubt Coach Meanwell of the northern team thinks often of those coming battles.

And speaking of upsets, if Iowa can defeat the Crimson tonight at Bloomington, we give up. Indiana would certainly down the Hawkeyes and advance a notch into a tie for second place with Michigan.

Some time ago this column had something to say about high school coaches substituting their second teams for the "varsity." In certain games, thereby disappointing fans and players of the opposing schools. The I. H. S. A. board recommends that all contracts henceforth carry the ranking of the teams, as first, second, etc.

LARIVE crowd is expected at the meeting of the Indianapolis Amateur Baseball Association Wednesday night in the council chambers at the city hall, 7:30. Copies of the 1926 rules will be distributed. There has been a revision of some of the regulations.

John Dugan of Cincinnati will be present and speak on activities of the National Amateur Baseball Federation. Harry Gelsel, American League umpire, also will give a talk.

Invitations have been sent to Mayor Duval and officials of the Indiana. It looks like a real meeting with much of interest included for the local amateurs.

Two girls high school basketball players have been declared ineligible. Woman has at last reached the exonerated status of man. It is feared that the ladies, in copying some of the opposite sex's ways, are not showing discrimination. They are picking up some of the vices along with the virtues.

AFTER being out of the city on Saturday we got into town about midnight. Coming down the street we met Jake the newsboy. He wondered if we knew how Bloomington and Marion "came out" in their basketball game. Jake just couldn't believe his ears when he called up a newspaper and was told that Bloomington won, 21 to 19. He was laughing about it—"Some mistake, somewhere."

We did not know the score at that time, but wish to inform Jake now that there was no mistake—also that Murphy of Marion made one field goal. Let somebody else explain the phenomenon.

Work on the bleachers already has started at the Exposition building for the final high school tournament. The local committee of high school athletic directors is losing no time, but plunging into the stupendous task ahead.

ALL of the Cloverdale High School basketball players probably carry the four-leaf brand around with them. And by that we don't mean it was all luck that they upset the dope in the Putnam county tournament and defeated Bainbridge in the final game.

WILLS-LENGLEN TENNIS MEETING IS POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

Another New A. A. Manager

Brewer Fans Expect Lelivelt to Put 'Old Fight' Into Pastimers.

By Times Special
MILWAUKEE, Feb. 1.—Baseball fans of this city are expecting the 1926 A. A. Brewers to pick up in aggressiveness, now that Jack Lelivelt has been appointed manager. He has a fine record as a winning pilot in minor league circles and is known for his ability to keep ball players on the jump.

Lelivelt succeeds Harry Clark, who "resigned by request." Clark, although popular with the rooters, lost heart with the Brewers and was not able to get the best out of the local pastimers. Recent Milwaukee clubs have been hard to handle, and a pilot of "high pressure" type, like Lelivelt, may put the Cream City aggregation back in the running.

Lelivelt, who was in the A. A. before as a first baseman and outfielder, is known for success in making weak clubs look strong. The Brewers will train at Hot Springs, Ark.

There will be five new managers in the A. A. this year. Lelivelt here, Meyer at Louisville, Gowdy at Columbus, Stengel at Toledo and Abbott at Kansas City.

Indianapolis sticks with Owsie Bush, St. Paul with Nick Allen and Minneapolis with Mike Kelley.

Schaefer on Next Local Card

While only two fighters have been named so far on the card that is to take place at Tomlinson Hall, Feb. 10, both have a strong pulling power and interest is aroused over the coming event.

In addition to George Mulholland, American Olympic star who recently turned professional, will be Herbie Schaefer, Chicago, who has made a reputation for himself by aggressive boxing.

The opponents of Mulholland and Schaefer have not been made known yet, as Matchmaker Jacobus is on the lookout for fighters who have exceptional merit, and has not as yet made his choice. The show is being staged by the National Athletic Club.

Three prelim bouts are on the card in addition to the semi-final and main go.

There will be thirty-six rounds of boxing. The main bout, starring Mulholland, and the semi-final, starring Schaefer, each will go ten rounds.

RAMBLERS VS. Y. P. C.s
St. Anthony Y. P. C.s will tackle the fast-going Real Silk Ramblers at St. Anthony's Hall Thursday night at 8:15. A large following will accompany the Ramblers to St. Anthony's Hall. The Y. P. C.s have added Mitchell and Davis to the roster. Local and State teams desiring games should address Joe Connor, 337 N. Addison St.

IOWA VS. I. U.

Big Ten Net Struggle at Bloomington Tonight.

By United Press
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 1.—The Crimson basketball quintet of Indiana University today was primed for action against Iowa tonight.

The Hoosiers, who were defeated at Iowa City by the Hawkeyes, are out for revenge.

With Indiana tied for third place in the Conference standing with Purdue and Ohio State, the game here tonight is expected to have a direct bearing on the title hopes of Coach Dean's outfit.

Local Fives in Clean Sweep

Local high school basketball teams made a clean sweep Saturday against State opponents. The most impressive victory was that of Technical against Lebanon at the Y. M. C. A. The Green and White, with a shifted line-up, downed the strong visiting club, 37 to 26. The winners spurred in the closing minutes of the second half.

Hickman and Massey were the leading scorers for Tech, while Captain Crain of Lebanon was best for his club.

Manual won the Brownsburg tourney by defeating Jamestown, 34 to 22, and dropping Ben Davis in the final, 29 to 26. Martin and Harmon starred in the final contest.

Shortridge did not have much trouble in defeating Danville, 37 to 19, at Danville.

Boys' Prep defeated Shortridge seconds in an overtime game at Prep gym, 21 to 16.

What They're Saying

Ring Entries

Last-minute entries for the city amateur boxing championship tourney, to be held in the South Side Turner gym next Monday and Tuesday nights, are being received by Arthur Paetz, matchmaker for the south side club. As usual, the lighter classes are the most popular and are filling up fast.

The entry list will close at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, and the Turner boxing committee will then begin the task of matching up the contestants for the first round of scraps.

In order that interest may be evenly divided between the two nights of action, an effort will be made to arrange the program so that final or title bouts will be on the card for each evening. It is believed most of the championships in the heavier weights can be established on the first evening.

Basketball Notes

The manager of the Friends' basketball team is requested to get in touch with C. Howard at once by calling Drexel 4721.

The Central "Y" Blues would like to schedule a game for Wednesday or Thursday of this week with a city team. The Blues will meet the Capital Avenue Christian team Tuesday at the Christian gym, Fortieth St. and Capitol Ave. On Saturday the Blues will represent the local gym in the independent tourney. For games call Riley 3572 between 5:30 and 8:30 p. m. and ask for Bill.

The O'Hara Gang defeated the Luster Gang, 44 to 4. The winners would like to book games with teams in the 16-18 year-old class. Address Kenneth Salzman 1513-W, Reading Ave. or call Irvington 1513-W.

The Indianapolis Turks want games with fast city and State teams. Ramblers, P. C. Central "Y" and M. H. A. take notice. Call Drexel 7419 or write Claude Hurier, 1616 Hoyt Ave.

Ball Difference Disrupts Feature Clash—Play at Wimbledon, Maybe.

By Henry L. Farrell
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Differences about the kind of ball to be used in southern French winter tournaments, it is indicated by cables, may postpone indefinitely the meeting between Miss Suzanne Lenglen, claimant of the world women's tennis championship, and Miss Helen Wills, American champion.

It would not be at all surprising if the two greatest women players did not meet at all until the British national championships in June at Wimbledon, and some opinion has been expressed here they will not face each other across the net until the Olympic matches in Amsterdam in 1928.

Miss Wills Withdraws

The young American champion and the French girl were to have been entered in the tournament starting at Nice today, but Miss Wills withdrew her entry when she learned the slow flazenger (English) ball was to be used.

After Miss Wills had made known her intention to withdraw from the singles, Miss Lenglen announced her entry and when she was criticised for waiting to see who was going to play in the tournament, withdrew her entry and later re-entered.

U. S. Ball Standardized

There is only one standard ball in the United States and it is used for all official tournaments. In Europe there are three or four different kinds of balls and managers of tournaments can choose any one they like. Between the English ball and the one used in the United States there is a difference of five inches in the rebound when dropped from the same height, the American ball having the more "hop."

A player who follows the smashing style of attack that Miss Wills favors is handicapped when called upon to use a slower ball.

MORE GLORY FOR HELEN

Miss Wills Wins in Finals of Gallia Tourney at Cannes.

By United Press
CANNES, France, Feb. 1.—Miss Helen Wills, American tennis champion, won her second tournament here when she defeated Miss Henrietta Contovolos, French star, in the final round of the Gallia tournament at 6-3 and 6-2.

The young American girl played beautiful tennis and won easily without exerting herself.

A new draw for the Nice tournament was made today, permitting the entry of Miss Suzanne Lenglen, who changed her mind for the third time and decided to enter the singles competition.

Miss Wills, objecting to the English ball, will not play in the singles, but will compete in the doubles and mixed doubles.

In the tournaments she has played since she arrived here, Miss Wills has won 187 out of 248 games. Her success in the mixed doubles has not been so pronounced, however, as she was beaten Sunday. Teamed with Jack Hilliard, England, she lost to Emily Pethell, England, and Alister McCormick, Chicago, at 1-6, 6-4 and 7-5.

CITY THREE-CUSHIONS

Shane meets Houseman tonight as the first week of the city three-cushion billiard tourney starts at the Board of Trade parlors. Roberts is leading with eight games won and two lost. Clark and Mosher are tied for second place with seven won and three lost.

BROWNS, SENATORS IN TRADE

Joe Bush and Tobin Exchanged for Pitchers Ballou and Zachary.

By United Press
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 1.—Joe Bush, right-handed pitcher, and Johnny Tobin, outfielder, have been traded by the St. Louis Browns to the Washington Senators for Pitchers Winn Ballou and Jenebel Zachary.

Business Manager William Friel announced today.

Bush came to the Browns last year through a trade with the New York Yankees whereby Urban Shocker went to New York.

Tobin has been a relief outfielder with the Browns for several years.
