ROADS OPEN ALL WINTER

States Combine in War on Highway Snowdrifts.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Close cooperation between State, county and city administrations is gradually eliminating the annual winter problem of snowbound highways which up to a few years ago prevented expeditious movement of mails, express and ordinary travel.

With the extension of hard surface roads, now largely dependent upon for short haul passenger, freight and express, movements by truck lines in practically every part of the country, most of the states within the "snow belt" have completely organized the work of removing snow as a traffic obstruction during the long winter months.

A total of twenty-one states of the thirty-five in the snow area have organized the snow removal work on the principal highways under direct State control.

OVER 3,000,000 VETERANS FILE DATA FOR BONUS

Certificates Issued for Obligations Totaling Three Billion Dollars.

Since passage of the bonus law 11,555 veterans, who had made their applications for insurance certificates, have died and their heirs have received $11,969,249, according to Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans' Bureau.

General Hines estimates 200,000 certificates will be issued during 1926, and probably 100,000 next year. The bulk of the work under the new law is over and hundreds of temporary employees who were engaged in preparing the bonus certificates have been released.

The real administrative difficulties, however, have not yet commenced, according to General Hines. These troubles will start after Jan. 1, next year, when veterans will be enabled to go to banks and borrow money on the loan value of their policies. The loan value per dollar after three years is 12 cents plus. When veterans fail to repay their loans the banks will come to the Veterans' Bureau to collect. The Veterans' Bureau then will hold the certificate for the veteran, who has about seventeen years thereafter to pay off his obligation.
