

ROBINSON AND WATSON BACK IN FOLD AGAIN

Indiana Senators Voting Regularly After Deflection on World Court.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Both Indiana senators are solidly back on the Administration reservation, following their defection in voting against the World Court.

They are enthusiastic about the Administration tax bill, which is expected to pass the Senate this week. They are voting regularly with the conservatives in suppressing radical amendments. Both voted to take out of the public provisions and for the repeal of the inheritance taxes.

"It is a good bill, and it ought to pass quickly," said Senator Robinson. "I shall do all in my power to help hurry it along."

Robinson pointed out that the Senate had voted to eliminate taxes on farmers' mutual fire insurance companies. He had received many letters asking that this tax be eliminated, he said. As the bill was originally reported, hail and cyclone mutuals were exempted, but fire insurance mutuals were not. There are many of the latter in Indiana.

Watson has been acting as floor leader during consideration of the bill, due to the illness of Senator Curtis of Kansas, regular floor leader. He also signed a minority report of the Couzens Committee which investigated the Internal Revenue Bureau, the majority criticizing it severely.

The new Ford prices are: Fordor sedan, $565; tudor sedan, $520; coupe, $500; touring car, $310, and runabout, $290. Starter and demountable rims on the open models are $85 extra.

Court Clerk Deals With Those 'Given a Chance'

Miss Jean Brown

DEALING with men and women who are given "another chance" to come back into society is one of the most interesting jobs of life, according to Miss Jean Brown, probation clerk of Criminal Court. To Miss Brown are sent all persons given suspended sentences by Judge James A. Collins.

The regularity of their visits to Miss Brown and their mode of living, determine whether or not they shall remain on the outside of prison walls. Defendants who are permitted by the court to pay their fines in installment or make restitution are also put under the supervision of Miss Brown.

From May 1, 1921, to last Jan. 1, Miss Brown received $43,438.75, paid by defendants on order of the court. Many of these payments were for damages growing out of automobile collisions and worthless check payments. The money is later turned over to the victims by Miss Brown.

The total amount of fines and costs paid into Criminal Court for the same time amounted to $25,755.91, Miss Brown reported. This makes a total of $69,194.16 which she handled.

"However, the results of this system of justice are not to be measured by dollars and cents," said Miss Brown. "Such a work aims at the physical, mental and moral uplift of the individual rather than the cold satisfaction of the law. It aspires to restore the erring to society as useful citizens and transform our penal system into a mighty influence for the social regeneration of men and women."

Traffic in New York Is Paralyzed.

By United Press

paralysis since 1888 has been precipitated. The city's $2,000,000 appropriations for storm clearance will be used by the blizzard. One million went last week, and Wednesday's fall was larger than the previous one.
