The Junior League members who are giving an Advertising Ball Monday, April 5, at the Indianapolis Athletic Club, will use the proceeds to help continue their work. Besides the therapy room at the Riley Hospital, in charge of two experienced workers, league members have organized a Braille committee of twenty-eight girls, under Mrs. Austin Brown. They are making by the Braille method a library of books for the blind. Mrs. Brown, who took the Braille course, corrects and supervises all the work of the committee, which meets every Monday morning at the Church of the Advent, Thirty-Third and Meridian Sts.

Mrs. Robert Adams is chairman of the food department of the Junior League Exchange. Proceeds from the shop go back into the work of the league. The shop, located at 37 E. Pratt St., has, besides its gift things, art goods and other lines, cakes, rolls, nut bread, various foods to be ordered and delivered.

Miss Sarah Frances Kackley is chairman of the art department of the exchange.

MARASCHINO DATES.

One pound of fine large dates, one-half pound of pulverized sugar, a three-ounce can of maraschino cherries, one-half teaspoon of vanilla extract. Cut cherries into small pieces and with the syrup off a cherry add to sugar and mix until stiff enough to handle. Add vanilla and more sugar if necessary. Stone dates and fill with the mixture, then dust with the sugar.

Miss Ethyl Dudley, Box 245, Shirley, Ind.

MAPLE COTTAGE PUDDING

One cup of maple syrup, one tablespoon butter, three tablespoons sugar, one-half cup milk, one cup flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup nut meats. Cream butter and sugar. Add the well beaten egg, milk and flour sifted with the baking powder and salt. Beat well, pour batter into hot syrup and bake in moderate oven about thirty minutes. Turn upside down on dish, sprinkle with nut meats and serve with cream.

Miss Dorothy Drake, 416 Highland Ave., city.

PUREE OF CABBAGE AND POTATOES.

One pint of finely minced boiled cabbage, six medium-sized potatoes, two tablespoons of butter, two teaspoons of salt, one-half teaspoon of pepper, one-half pint hot milk. Put peeled potatoes in steamer with enough boiling water to cover them. Cook thirty minutes. Drain off water and mash until fine and light. Beat in hot milk, seasoning and cabbage. Cook about five minutes longer.

Mrs. Riley King, R. R. 1, Sheridan, Ind.

BRANBERRY TARTS

One-half cup chopped raisins, one-half cup currants, one-half cup English walnuts, four large chopped figs, four tablespoons orange juice, two tablespoons cold water, one cup sugar, one tablespoon sifted flour. Cook raisins, currants, figs and water twenty minutes in double boiler. Mix flour, sugar and orange juice and add to fruit. Cook twenty minutes longer. Remove from fire, add nuts, let cool. This part may be made the day before. Mix three cups flour, with three-fourths cup shortening and one-half teaspoon salt. Add enough cold water to make a good pastry dough. Roll and cut in two or three inch squares. Wet edges, put a heaping teaspoon of the filling into each, fold edges, press with a fork and pierce top. Brush top with milk. Bake in hot oven. Put in paper bag and heat in oven before using.

Mrs. Benton Bennett, R. R. 1, Paoli, Ind.

CARROT SALAD

Put four carrots through food chopper. Add two apples chopped fine, two sliced bananas, one cup of diced pineapple, one-half cup of nut meats. Mix with your favorite fruit salad dressing and serve in lettuce cups. This recipe will serve four persons.

Nine Cakes of La-Mar Took Off 28 Pounds

If you are fat and want to know what this reduction means, pick up 28 pounds and carry it ten minutes. It takes your vital organs as much to carry 28 pounds of superfluous flesh. Read what Mrs. Willie Hull says:

"Just a few words of praise. I used only 9 cakes of your wonderful soap and lost 28 pounds. How thankful I am! No one knows how miserable that old fat was to me."

La-Mar Reducing Soap literally washes fat away. Results quick. No interfering internal take. Reduce any part without affecting other parts. No diet or exercise.

Note—Be sure to get the genuine, original reducing soap. Price 30 cents a cake or three cakes for $1.00, at Haag Drug Co., 602 N. Pennsylvania St., or any drug store, by mail, three cakes for $1.00. La-Mar Laboratories, 220 Perry-Payne Building, Cleveland, Ohio—Advertisement.

FAINT HEART NE'ER WINS FINE MAN EITHER

To hear some girls talk about their love affairs you'd never guess that the female of the species is deadlier than the male, if any! There seems to be more self-reliance in the manly bosom than in the womanly.

Faint heart, they say, ne'er won fair lady. We can say "Faint heart ne'er won fine man" and it will apply just as well. Psychologically, the female of the species seems to be having pre-spring attacks of morbid introspection and self-analysis, deciding that they don't know how to inspire or hold a man's love—or more often The Man's love.

But the songs of the first red birds, and I heard one this morning, and the tang of the springtime in the air, is bound to revive their drooping spirits. I've no doubt we'll have just as many June weddings this year as ever before!

Spring Fever

Dear Martha Lee: I am a girl of 20, several months ago my friend and I quit. He didn't give a very satisfactory reason for doing so, merely saying that he wasn't getting anywhere. I loved him, and do yet, but we were both baffled. I realize now that I was partly to blame for his thinking I didn't love him, though several years my senior, he was an ideal companion. He told me when quitting that some day he might come back and for me not to wait, as he might find someone else. I can't forget since I love him, and I can't go with anyone else. He loved me once, and sometimes I think he loves yet. He goes with no one and treats me very friendly at times and at other times scarcely so. Should I speak

HE CURED HER

DRUMHELLER, Alberta—Mrs. M. Chery acquired a habit of swearing at her husband and tried unsuccessfully to break it. Finally she resorted to washing out her mouth with lye. Doctors say she may never swear again.

MAN MEETS MAID

"What are you laughing at, Judy?"
"At you."
"And what's the matter with me?"
"I don't suppose you've looked at yourself, Jimmie, but they certainly wouldn't let us in that restaurant." Again I laughed.
"Why not? I've got plenty of money."
"Didn't you know that there were some things that it's hard for money to cover up just as there are some things that money can't buy? Just at present you've got a gorgeous green and red and blue eye on one side of your face."

Jimmie quickly put up his hand to his face. As he did so he winced.
"Ouch! So I have. I guess, Jude, we'll have to go to some other quieter joint and leave the ritzy places for some other time."

"I think that would be better. It seems strange to me, though, that every chap I've been with lately manages to get a black eye. The last time I saw Charlie Becker he left me with a discolored optic."

Again Jim stopped.
"Did you give it to him, Judy? What did he do to you?"

"Now, look here, Jim Costello, I'm too hungry to go into details. As you say, we've been walking miles, and I think if I go two or three blocks farther I shall faint."

Just then a young man passed us quickly, went a few steps in advance, turned swiftly and came back and planted himself in front of us.

"Hello, Jim. I've been looking for you. Didn't you tell me you'd meet me tonight at the Beaux Arts Restaurant?"

"Yes, and I tried to make it, Jerry, but they just wouldn't let me. They gave me this, so Judy and I got out and we're going somewhere else to eat. Julia, let me present Jerry Hathaway, a pal of mine. Jerry this is Miss Dean."
