

ORDINANCE ON ONE-WAY RULE IS REQUESTED

Chief Wants Law Passed if Meridian Plan Is Continued.

Recommendation that the one-way traffic rule for N. Meridian St. during rush hours be abolished, or be legalized by a city ordinance, was made to the board of safety today by Police Chief Claude F. Johnson.

At present the one-way traffic operates under a board of safety order. Traffic Inspector Harvey Bedford, Monday recommended abolishment of the one-way system, saying it caused many accidents and that motorists are speeding.

"The present system is not a success, but I can see how it could be made a success," Chief Johnson said. "In an ordinance the speed of the street could be regulated and signs could be ordered for all approaching streets."

"I know motorists have abused the privileges, but I am uncertain whether we would be justified in abandoning one-way traffic," O. D. Haskett, board president, said.

Johnson also recommended Patrolman Ralph Dean, reduced from lieutenant last week, be given a six-months leave of absence, effective April 1. Dean is planning to go to Florida to be associated with former Traffic Inspector Mike Glenn, superintendent of safety for the Carl Fisher holdings.

Curling and Waving Dries Life from Hair

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Dandernine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 3-cent bottle of refreshing "Dandernine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more and after using three cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Charlotte Dibble, Park River, No. Dak.

MYSTERY DEATH OF MOVIE MAN NEAR SOLUTION

More Evidence in William Desmond Taylor Murder in 1922.

COPYRIGHT, 1926, by United Press
DETROIT, Mich., March 23.—The William Desmond Taylor murder mystery is nearer a solution today than at any time since it occurred in the former movie director's studio in Hollywood, early in 1922. Asa Keyes, prosecuting attorney of Los Angeles, indicated today.

"We are making real progress," Keyes admitted after a day in conference with officials and in interviews with persons whose identity he declined to reveal.

While he denied his trip here with Harold L. Davis, chief of the Los Angeles homicide bureau, had any connection with the case, Keyes conceded that valuable information had been collected since he left Los Angeles.

"One of the first things we intend to do on our return to California, is to question Mabel Normand in connection with this case," he said.

The screen star's name has figured prominently in several investigations of the murder.

FIRST SCHOOL SITE FAVORED

Louis Barth. The first three men submitted a report and the resolution that was adopted.

Approaching Indebtedness Limit
"I met but one person in favor of the Forty-Sixth St. tract who could give a valid reason for its selection," Smith said. "School board members said it would give more room for athletic purposes. This cause the board is approaching the limit of its bonded indebtedness enough land on the Forty-Sixth St. location for an athletic field could not be bought for several years."

Smith asserted a school board member told him that new plans for a building will be drawn by the same architect who took eighteen months to draw the plans which now lay untouched. He said another board member told him if the present plans were used and construction started today, it would take two years to finish the building.

'Several Years'
"If the same architects draw the new plans and it takes two years to erect the building, it looks as though it will take several years to get the building," he said.

Layday in answer to remarks made by one union member that Kern was being criticised by his own organization, said "no attempt was being made to condemn anyone."

Friedman said the children "should be removed from that firetrap at Michigan and Pennsylvania Sts."

Might Change His View
"Our appeal to Kern as organized labor might change his view and we know he'll aid other board members in seeing this situation clearly."

School board members will be unable to take further moves tonight to sell the Thirty-Fourth St. location, buy the major portion of the Forty-Sixth St. tract and condemn lots along Forty-Sixth St., because of the pending suit.

Members of the Federation of Community Civic Clubs executive committee will take a definite stand on the school location fight at the regular meeting Friday night. It was discussed by the committee Monday night.

Mass meetings will be held by protesters Wednesday and Friday nights. Wednesday night's meeting will be held at the Seventh Christian Church, Annetta and Udell Sts.

Wounded Youth Regrets His Rides in Stolen Car

Lloyd Johnston at City Hospital

Regretting that he had ever ridden in an automobile which a companion had stolen from the State fairground Saturday night, Lloyd Johnston, 16, of 1502 Hamilton Ave., lay in city hospital today with a bullet wound in his leg, received Monday night when an officer fired at the boys as they were preparing to return the car.

Propped among pillows at the hospital, his young face earnest and sad, the boy, charged with vagrancy, told of his connection with the stolen machine, the property of Lester Chilton, Gaston, Ind.

"I was roller skating at the Y. W."

C. A., when the other fellow came up to me and said he would take me home in his machine," the wounded lad stated. "When we were almost home he told me he had taken it from the basketball tournament at the fairground."

"He told me he was going to leave it on the street, but the next day he came by and called me. Gee, I wish I had that minute back again! I knew I oughtn't to get in a stolen machine, but after all I didn't steal it, and it was a temptation to take just a little ride. So I went."

Ought to Help Him
"Monday night he came around and said I ought to help him take it back, and I went with him, thinking, 'Gee, I'll be glad when this is over.' When the men called to us I just knew they were officers, and I didn't know what to do but run."

Detectives Maas and Lansing had been watching the auto, reported stolen, parked at St. Clair and Oriental Sts. When the boys got in the car the police went up to question them, but the lads ran. Then the detectives fired. The other youth escaped.

By United Press
THORNTON, Ill., March 23.—The Federal Government heard the prayers of Brother Bill Taylor, the rabid anti-liquor evangelist, and today some twenty roadhouses along the Illinois-Indiana line near here are closed.

Several weeks ago Brother Bill, who confessed to having been a former bartender and a former liquor consumer, started a series of prayers for some power to close the roadhouses.

Sunday Brother Bill closed his meetings. R. Q. Merrick, chief prohibition agent here, decided some one should answer the prayers and so he undertook the task himself. A raid late Monday netted forty persons, many gallons of liquor and a general closing of the prayed-against roadhouses.
