

JEWETT BACKS WATSON; CITES LONG RECORD

Former Mayor Speaks Before Irvington Republican Club.

Former Mayor Charles W. Jewett came back from Florida with a bad cold Monday night and hurried out to the "all-year-round, campaign-or-no-campaign" Irvington Republican Club with an announcement he was jitting a fraternity brother, Clavis Adams, to support United States Senator James E. Watson for the Republican long-term senatorial nomination.

Jewett plunged into an answer to Adams' campaign query, "What has Watson done for his party, State and country?"

"It is a slap in the face to the voters of Indiana to assume or assert," Jewett declared, "that they would have kept an unprofitable servant in Congress for the period of Watson's service. No income tax, no work could have survived thirty-two years of Hoosier campaign."

KEPT THIS MAN'S BODY IN MISERY

Prominent Ohio Real Estate Dealer Given Blessed Relief by Konjola.

Many authorities consider rheumatism as the demon ailment—one of the most terrible afflictions of mankind. They point to the way this dreaded disease often swells and stiffens the fingers, hands, arms and limbs; they describe the agonizing aches and pains that usually come in the muscles and joints; they relate how the trunk of the body is sometimes twisted and bent all out of shape by this awful ailment, and they say these things make rheumatic trouble one of the most terrible of all ailing conditions.

It is surprising what this celebrated new medicine, Konjola, often accomplishes in such instances of rheumatic misery. This remarkable preparation has such a cleansing effect that it seems to drive the rheumatic poison from the system so that blessed relief comes. For instance, just a short time ago, Mr. John Hamm, prominent real estate dealer of Portsmouth, Ohio (near Cincinnati), whose home is at 1719 W. 17th Street, that city, made the following statement about this surprising Konjola medicine which is now being introduced to the public of this city at all Hook's drug stores, and is also being personally explained to crowds of men and women daily by The Konjola Man who is at the larger Hook store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Streets, the busy downtown section of Indianapolis.

"I suffered many years with the agony of rheumatism, neuritis and stomach misery, and my system became so bad that I had lost 30 pounds," Mr. Hamm said. "Knots formed on each side of my stomach, and they actually looked and felt like I was ruptured. These knots would stick out half the size of my fist. Those sharp rheumatic pains would shoot through my back and neck and shoulders. My whole body was a mass of aches and my limbs and hands would cramp so bad that I had to have them rubbed and massaged for hours. I suffered these attacks of constant pain for weeks and weeks at a time. Nothing could reach them, and they would always come back on me."

"Many people knew how bad I was when I began taking the Konjola. I have tried nearly every medicine known for my ailments, and I have had expensive treatments. I've been to Martinsville three times and to Richmond once for my trouble, but I will honestly say that the small cost of a few bottles of your Konjola actually reached my trouble and gave me new life. It stopped all the pains and those knots have left my stomach. It not only ended my neuritis and rheumatism, but my stomach suffering is gone. I sleep and rest better than I have for years. It has even helped me in other ways, because I am to be very nervous. Now I am as healthy as any man of my age. I have gained back considerable weight, and I am giving you this account of my case for two reasons; first, I hope it will help others suffering as I did, and second, I feel it is my duty to give it."

The Konjola is the surprising new medical preparation that has recently been accomplishing such unusual results throughout the Ohio valley in instances of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, and catarrhal and rheumatic troubles. Many people say it seems to act like magic.

The Konjola Man is at Hook's drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets (the busiest downtown section of Indianapolis and the easiest to get to), where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given. Konjola is for sale also at the other Hook drug stores located throughout the downtown section.—Advertisement.

paing, as Watson has done. The answer to the query comes readily to those familiar with legislative processes.

Parades Record

Jewett paraded Watson's record of service on committees in Congress and declared that service is not measured by the number of bills a Congressman can write, but is judged by work done for legislation and against vicious measures at committee sessions and hearings.

He cited Watson's present wrestle with committee work on railroad consolidation, bus and truck regulation and radio supervision before his Interstate Commerce Committee, and his recent work on the Senate Finance Committee in connection with the Federal tax reduction.

Jewett also called attention to the Watson-Parker railroad act and the women's suffrage law, in the passage of which Watson was instrumental.

"Experience and Knowledge"

"We need a man to represent us in the Senate of the United States," Jewett said. "His is a record of constructive, beneficial service." Dr. Henry Noble Sherwood, State superintendent of public instruction, spoke for the county unit school system. Charles M. Clark, Republican county treasurer nomination candidate, revealed he was not seeking "the $45,000 a year interest" under the Barrett law, "which rightfully belong to the county, the taxpayers," and that he hoped in two weeks to have Federal Court action directing the fees so collected go into the general fund. Orin W. Davis, Marion County Council Housechief, Detective Association president, and candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, promised war on bootleggers if elected.
