

SAYS BARRETT LAW LOSS MET BY TAXPAYERS

Pre-Payments Cause Deficit Each Year, Raub De- clares.

Sooner or later, Marion County taxpayers must meet the deficit in the Indianapolis Barrett law fund existing as a result of pre-payments of assessments, Democratic Councilman Edward B. Raub said today.

Interest earned by the pre-payments, under Federal and Marion County Court rulings defeating in effect, the intent of the law, goes to the county treasurer, ex-officio city treasurer.

While the treasurer takes this interest, outstanding bonds are costing an equal amount of interest which the public ultimately must pay.

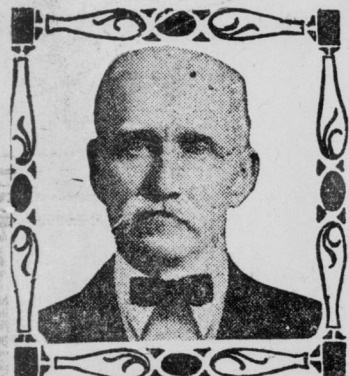

Raub and Lawrence F. Orr, State board of accounts chief examiner, investigating the system, estimated the treasurer gets from $45,000 to $60,000 a year under the arrangement, incurring a slightly smaller deficit in the fund.

The fund never has been exhausted.

OHIO MINISTER INDORSES THE NEW KONJOLA

Suffered Rheumatism, Kidney and Nerve Dis- orders; Pays High Tribute to New Medicinal Compound.

The most severe test of any medicine is what it will accomplish in the case of an aged person. This was conclusively proven just recently in behalf of the new Konjola preparation, which the Konjola Man is introducing in this city at Hook's drug store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis, where suffering and ailing men and women call daily to find out about this surprising medicine that has been accomplishing such unusual results in the larger centers of population through the Ohio valley in instances of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders and catarrhal and rheumatic troubles.

"Since the fall of 1917, when I had a nervous breakdown, I have continually treated myself and taken many medicines, but never have I found anything to equal the Konjola," says Rev. W. F. Bray, whose home is at 1108 Malvern Ave., Middletown, Ohio, (near Cincinnati), in a statement which he issued as a public indorsement of this celebrated Konjola medicinal compound.

"I suffered severe attacks of backache and kidney troubles for years. I had rheumatism, and nearly all my life I have stood the misery of hemorrhoids and constipation," continued Rev. Bray. "The trades I followed through life were more or less strenuous. I was a farmer, a millwright, a stone mason, county surveyor, and for twenty-one years I have been a minister of the Gospel. My health began to go down after my spell in 1917, and I really became so bad that I was actually given up to die. My heart acted just enough to sustain life. I was in a weakened condition and my kidneys and bladder refused to act at all. I used cathartics regularly. My physical energy and strength left me, so I just became a 'set-in' waiting for the end to come. For the past seven years, I suffered with the troubles I have described. Hundreds and hundreds of nights I never laid down—my pains were so agonizing that I knew I couldn't sleep. When winter came I retreated to Middletown, my home, and there I found Konjola. The druggist told me he had never known a medicine to be like it. Well, sir, the time of year was close when I usually had those spells of severe suffering, but I went past the period without the slightest discomfort. Here it is past winter, and I've gained flesh and strength, and so much more vigor that I'm actually a new man. Of course, I have taken several bottles of Konjola, and the way it has built up my entire system and restored my health is really astounding. I believe in giving credit where credit is due, and I would be glad to have you publish my testimony, and use the photograph if you think it advisable. Besides this, I will also be glad to tell anyone personally about the improved health I have enjoyed since taking Konjola. It has been a sound blessing to me."

The new Konjola preparation is a medicine of such unusual efficacy that it is believed to be just what thousands of sufferers have needed for years to actually reach their rages, and for stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, as well as rheumatism and neuritis, it is declared that no suffering person can afford not to try it.

The Konjola Man is at the Hook drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Sts., (the busiest downtown section in Indianapolis and the easiest to get to), where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Konjola is for sale also at the other Hook drug stores located throughout the downtown section.—Advertisement.

ed under this system because each year more bonds are floated, some of which will not be due for ten years, others which will not be due for nine years, others for eight, and so on, and the prepayments of assessments by property owners who first elected to pay in installments keeps money in the fund, although the total would not be large enough to meet all claims.

The fund is created by the Barrett law, giving property owners the privilege of paying for street, alley, sidewalk and sewer improvements in twenty installment payments, over a period of ten years. The contractor is paid for the improvement with bonds issued in the amount of the collectible installment payments. Prepayments are made by property owners to escape paying interest on their unpaid balance for the entire ten years.

A 1-cent tax levy was levied in 1915, Raub said, to meet the deficit. Since it has been cut to a 4-mill tax. Neither are large enough to wipe out the deficit, Raub said.

Not Law Intent

Taxing all property owners to pay for the deficiencies of the Barrett law system, he said, was not the intent of the law, which provided the interest on outstanding bonds be paid by returns on the investment in interest-bearing securities by the city controller of assessment pre-payments.

But Federal Court held the fund was not public money in 1903 and restrained the then treasurer and his successors from depositing the funds in a public depository, where the controller could get it for the purpose of investing it.

When Barrett law bond interest comes due, it is paid out of the fund. Therefore, pre-payments having been made, more money is paid out of the fund than is paid into it.

Unblemished SKIN

Gives You confidence

HOW conscious we are of our skin! Even a little pimple on the forehead will so embarrass us that we want to hide right away. And eczema, boils, blotches and rashes! Why, these awful things simply destroy all our ambition!

But what confidence we have in ourselves if our skin is clear and unblemished—free from any eruptions or breaking out! A clear skin is one of the greatest possessions in the world—and it is so easy to have it. All that is necessary is to keep our systems full of rich, red, pure blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build this blood. And the impurities that cause these so-called skin disorders are driven right out of the system.

If you want the kind of skin that captivates men and compels the admiration of other women, just remember that you can't have it if your blood is impoverished. But, just build red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S. and your dream of a soft, rosy, velvet skin, clear of blemishes, will be realized. Then notice the difference in the way you feel.

S. S. S. has proven for generations that it helps Nature build the rich, red blood that makes beautiful skin and healthy bodies. Let S. S. S. prove it for you.

Get S. S. S. from any drug store. And get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

S. H. S. CHANGE PROTESTERS TO MEET TONIGHT

Status of Situation in Court to Be Explained by Attorney.

Persons living in northwestern Indianapolis, who object to relocation of the new Shortridge High School from Thirty-Fourth and Meridian Sts., to a site on Forty-Sixth St. between Central Ave. and Washington Blvd., will attend a mass meeting at 7:45 tonight at St. Paul M. E. Church, Eugene and Rader Sts.

Announcement of the meeting was made Sunday in many north side churches.

Bosson Will Talk

William Bosson, Indianapolis Public School Welfare Association attorney, composed of protesters, will explain the Shortridge situation as it now stands in the court of Judge Sidney S. Miller, Superior Court Three. The association filed a petition for a permanent injunction against the school board to prevent the site change. Last week Judge Miller upheld the board when he sustained motions of Martin Hugg, school attorney, striking out twelve of fourteen clauses in the complaint.

Date Is Delayed

With Hugg absent from the city, the date for the final hearing on the remaining sections will not be set before next week.

Hugg indicated he will file a general denial to the sections which allege illegality in handling the resolution to sell the Thirty-Fourth St. tract and purchase the Forty-Sixth St. location and in advertising for sale of the Shortridge property at Michigan and Pennsylvania Sts.

FAVERSHAM IS GENEROUS

Applies for Citizenship so U. S. Can Get Income Tax.

By Times Special
RIVERHEAD, N. Y., April 7.—Asserting that he was ashamed that he had not become a citizen before, William Faversham, the actor, applied for citizenship papers here Tuesday.

Faversham, an Englishman, has lived in the United States for forty years. One of the reasons for his citizenship application, he said, was that he desired his adopted country to receive his income tax rather than England.

SMASHING VICE IN PHILADELPHIA

although, to be sure, there were many times when I doubted him. Even now, however, I cannot understand how he expected to advance politically, as he often confided to me that he hoped to do, employing such insincere and ridiculously apparent tactics—siding with the strong and the rich against the poor and weak in an issue so vital. Neither army was deceived by these tactics. Only the people who elected him were deceived.

Price of Honesty

The cause of honest, vigorous, impartial law enforcement is more important than any individual advocating or combating it. Citizens cannot know the treatment to which honest public officials are subjected. Telling of my two years' experience in Philadelphia may be enlightening. If these articles serve that purpose and more people are led to support such public officials, then my effort will have been worth while.

I want to tell the "constructive" story of the progress made and the lessons learned. I will be forced to tell unpleasant experiences as well; to tell of the efforts of high and trusted officials to interfere with my work, of the means used to have me favor certain privileged interests—interests privileged because of their social, financial or political power.

Donates His Pay

I will not accept any payment for this work.

I want to help the movement for decency in Philadelphia. I will assign my share of the returns from publication of this story to a trust fund, for use in protecting honest policemen and police officials, who, because they persist in carrying out their oath of office, are harassed and harmed by politicians or privileged interests.

I was brought to Philadelphia and instructed to direct the police from politics. When I left, the word was passed around that those policemen who had been loyal to me—and their oath of office—and who had refused to comply with the demands of politicians, were to be "got."

Trust Fund Made

These honest, loyal policemen must not be harmed. The trust fund is to be administered by a group of Philadelphia newspapermen, whom I know to be honest and capable, and who cannot be swayed by promises or threats. I have selected these men, first because they were among the few Philadelphians who stood openly by me in this fight, and second because, without being public officials, they are fully aware of any injustice visited upon policemen.

While George W. Elliott, named as my successor, remains in control, all will be well with the police. I predict, however, that he will be dismissed if he forces the treatment issue to the front, unless the mayor changes his spots. If Elliott is dismissed the honest policemen will then be in danger and this fund perhaps useful.

Unless frustrated by decent citizens, Congressman Bill Vare will frighten the mayor into dismissing Elliott before the opening of the Sesqui-Centennial in June, when it is desired to have the city wide open to make the mayor's exposition successful.

Prohibition Cops Out

Round by round, I will relate the important skirmishes of the war and the question of prohibition will naturally crop up, for it played an important part in almost every scrap. Naturally I will discuss prohibition, but nothing that I will write should be construed as an effort on my part to proselyte for or against prohibition, for I am not a professional reformer. I merely want to show the more complex problems which confront enforcement officials and what, in Philadelphia we found to be effective means of coping with these problems.

Politics will be discussed, because politics is intertwined with public business and with law enforcement, but nothing in these articles should be construed as political propaganda of any kind. I never have been in politics and as long as I live I will never be a politician.
