

ADAMS REPLIES TO STATEMENT OF FAIRBANKS

Candidate Says Newspaper Owner Was Aspirant After Ralston's Death.

By Times Special
COLUMBIA CITY, Ind., April 8.— Replying to a statement by Warren C. Fairbanks, owner of an Indianapolis evening newspaper, that he is neither an "active or receptive" candidate for the Republican short-term senatorial nomination, Clarks Adams, candidate for the Republican long-term nomination, Wednesday night said:
"Immediately upon the death of Senator Samuel M. Ralston, Fairbanks became an active aspirant for the appointment from Governor Jackson. Through employees of his newspaper, Mr. Fairbanks sent out the word to political leaders that unless the senatorship appointment was right, he would throw the whole influence of his newspaper against them.
"When Governor Jackson announced his appointment of Arthur R. Robinson on Oct. 20, Mr. Fairbanks immediately turned his newspaper against the appointee, against Governor Jackson and against the Republican nominee for mayor of Indianapolis."

Adams attacked a statement by Fairbanks that he supports Senator James E. Watson because of his "singular fitness," for his long-term renomination after thirty years in public life.

"Isn't it strange that, prior to six weeks ago, Mr. Fairbanks and his newspaper were never for Senator Watson in all his thirty years of public life?" Adams asked.

WATSON AIDS HEARD

Fay Kittelman and Mrs. James Larnore, in charge of the campaign of Senator James E. Watson for re-nomination in the Eighth district, spoke to organization workers at the Severn, Wednesday. Mrs. Vivian T.
Wheatcraft was active in arranging the program.

Detained at his home in Warsaw because of illness, John O. Motto, Watson's State manager, will return to Indianapolis today or Friday.

VISIT OF DRY LEADER IS OFF

Yellowley Can Not Come to City Because of Business.

Visit of E. C. Yellowley, prohibition administrator of the Thirteenth district, to local enforcement offices was postponed indefinitely today, according to Deputy Administrator A. R. Harris. Yellowley had planned to arrive here today, but business caused postponement of the trip.
Harris said Yellowley has not been in Indianapolis since he became deputy administrator, and that if the dry chief did come here it would be on Harris' solicitation.
That a visit of the administrator would be to investigate the alleged disappearance of 350 cases of W. P.

Squibb Company liquor in the Federal Bldg., was labeled as "bunk" by Harris.
