

FRENCH ENDIVE ON SALE HERE

White Asparagus Seen First Time at Market.

French endive, selling at the high price of $1 a pound, reappeared on the stands of the city market today. New Texas onions sold at 20 cents a pound. White asparagus was seen for the first time this season and sold at 75 cents a bunch.

Mushrooms were cheaper at 70 to 85 cents a pound. Ripe strawberries were quoted at 50 and 60 cents a quart. A new shipment of artichokes were unchanged at 10 cents each. Blood oranges were slightly lower because of size and sold at 40 to 50 cents a dozen.

Other prices included. Asparagus, 25 to 60 cents a bunch; lima beans, 80 cents a pound; limes, 50 cents a dozen; pears, 20 cents a pound; cucumbers, 20 to 30 cents each; pineapples, 30 to 50 cents each; green beans, 15 cents a pound; peas, 30 cents a pound; Michigan potatoes, $1 a peck; Idaho, $1.50 a peck; new red potatoes, 10 cents a pound; sweet potatoes, 10 cents a pound; and russets, $1.50 a peck.

Eggs were unchanged at 30 to 35 cents a dozen; butter was 55 to 58 cents a pound; salmon sold at 40 cents a pound, and halibut at 35 cents a pound.

RAILROAD MAN IS RELIEVED OF RHEUMATISM

Strongly Indorses New Konjola Compound to Benefit Others, He States.

Many authorities consider rheumatism as the demon ailment—one of the most terrible afflictions of mankind. They point to the way this dreaded disease often swells and stiffens the fingers, hands, arms and limbs; they describe the agonizing aches and pains that usually come in the muscles and joints; they relate how the trunk of the body is sometimes twisted and bent all out of shape by this awful ailment and they say these things make rheumatic trouble one of the most terrible of all ailing conditions.

It is surprising what this celebrated new medicine, Konjola, often accomplishes in such instances of rheumatic misery. This remarkable preparation has such a wonderful cleansing effect that it seems to drive the rheumatic poison from the system so that blessed relief comes. For instance, just a short time ago, Mr. Raymond Dheel, a railroad employee, living at New Boston, a small town on the Ohio River near Cincinnati, described the wonderful relief Konjola gave him from his rheumatic suffering.

"I want to give Konjola full credit for actually overpowering my rheumatism," said Mr. Dheel, while talking with the Konjola Man, whose headquarters are now at Hook's Drug Store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis, where he is introducing this new medicine.

"I suffered terrible pains in my legs and shoulders from rheumatism," continued Mr. Dheel. "The past few years my pains kept getting worse, and I thought I would have to give up my work. Such agony would come over me at nights and whenever I tried to get my rest, so I felt pretty bad when I got up to go to work. My stomach went bad on me several months ago, and I really believe those strong rheumatic medicines I had taken just about ruined my stomach."

"I began taking Konjola, and the first thing this medicine did was to increase my appetite and put my stomach in order. My food digested perfectly after I had been taking Konjola only a few days. Pretty soon I was able to rest a whole night long without any rheumatic pains, except a few little twinges in the morning, and just a few days later these were entirely gone. I have taken four bottles of Konjola, and it is an honest fact that I haven't the least sign of rheumatic pains or aches. They left me about the second week and have never returned. Besides, my stomach feels like new. I eat heartily now, and with the sound rest I am getting, you would be surprised how much more energy and strength I have gotten back. As I said, I want to give Konjola full credit for the splendid health I enjoy today, and I am glad to have my statement published for the benefit of others who suffer."

This Konjola is the surprising new medical preparation that has recently been accomplishing such unusual results throughout the Ohio valley and in the larger cities in instances of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, catarrhal, rheumatic and neuritis troubles. Many people say it seems to act like magic.

The Konjola Man is at Hook's drug store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Sts., the busy downtown section of Indianapolis and the easiest to get to, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given—Advertisement.
