

MISS BRUBAKER BECOMES BRIDE AT ST. PAUL'S

Wedded to Henry L. Dithmer Jr. in Pretty Church Ceremony.

A beautiful spring wedding took place Wednesday night when Miss Betty Brubaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Brubaker, 119 E. Twenty-fifth St., became the bride of Henry L. Dithmer Jr., at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Full cathedral candles, entwined with amaranth, marked the aisle along the center aisle and soft lights from candles throughout the church made beautiful the floral decorations of ferns, palms and lilies. At the altar, banked with ferns, large baskets of spring flowers of orchid, sweet peas and tulips carrying out the bridal colors were flanked by clusters of candles.

Organist Plays

Preceding the ceremony, Clarence A. Carson, organist, played and Miss Ocie Higgins sang "At Dawning" and the "Thema Prayer." The Rev. Lewis Brown, pastor of the church, read the ceremony.

Mrs. Wilbur Linton Atkinson, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and the only attendant. She wore a gown of orchid chiffon fashioned in bouffant style trimmed with lace, and carried a colonial bouquet of orchid sweet peas and delphinium. Little Patricia Ann Dayton was the flower girl.

Entered With Father

The bride, who wore a bouffant gown of white tulle, entered upon the arm of her father. She wore a tulle veil arranged with a ruffling effect, and clusters of orange blossoms on each side. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and white sweet peas. John Dithmer, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

A reception, following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Dithmer, left immediately on a wedding trip to Chicago, Buffalo, N. Y. and Canada. They will be at home after May 15, at 2035 N. Meridian St.

SOCIAL CLUB ELECTS

Mrs. Carl Dearnin Heads Independent Group.

Members of the Independent Social Club held an election Tuesday at the home of Mrs. C. G. Simon, 48 Mount St.; Mrs. Carl Dearnin was re-elected president and Mrs. Hattie Ryder re-elected treasurer.

Other officers are Mrs. Grace L. Sandy, and Mrs. A. M. Tarr, vice presidents; Mrs. C. W. Abraham, recording secretary; Mrs. S. O. Trimble, corresponding secretary. Delegates chosen: Mrs. C. L. Dearnin and Mrs. Allen T. Fleming, Indiana Federation of Clubs; Mrs. G. L. Sandy and Mrs. W. E. Ratcliff, alternate; Mrs. J. D. Davy, Seventh District Federation of Clubs; Mrs. C. E. Wilson, alternate; Mrs. E. A. Hunt, General Federation of Clubs; Mrs. Frank Peters, alternate; Mrs. M. B. Spellman, Indianapolis Council of Women; Mrs. William G. Cressler, alternate.

KITCHEN ECONOMY

Give the drain board over your sink a coat of varnish every now and then. It will be much more attractive to the eye and will keep the woodwork from becoming dull and water-soaked.

BREAKFAST SUGGESTION

Sausage is not the only meat that fits in well with the griddle cakes and combination. Creamed meat, particularly creamed chicken, is quite as delectable.

Manual to Name Queen

Manual Training High School's beauty contest is so strictly amateur that the contestants are not permitted to solicit votes. This rule was laid down by the booster, school publication, which is conducting selection of the school's May queen, who will be crowned May 7 at school exercises. The five nominees are: Seated, left to right, Evelyn Coleman, 438 Lincoln St.; Marie Woerner, 407 Southern Ave.; and Dorothy Weir, 1009 Hervey St.; standing, Mildred Miller, 817 S. Pershing Ave., and Lillian King, 1120 Pleasant St.

Martha Lee Says

THOSE MAGAZINE ADS ARE PAINFUL!

Bunk! All that stuff in magazine ads these days about the "really clever woman" who always buys Blah soap, the "woman who knows" who never wears shoes that do not match her gown, is pure bunk.

Then there's the "woman who cares," who never goes forth without perfume herself to match her mood, and the "woman of refinement," who never neglects to wear her pearls! Unadmittedly! What about those thousands upon thousands of women who do not, just because they cannot, use French soap, manicure their nails every day, have embroidered pillows in a rose and cream boudoir, saturate themselves with expensive perfumes and serve caviar canapés for dinner every night?

Those ads are all wrong. For to my mind the clever woman is the one who can make over her husband's shirts into little boy blouses; or use the left-over mashed potatoes in a meat and potato soufflé; or dye her rose satin last year's dress black and make a clever street frock out of it. The "women of refinement" I know are not so worried about how and when to wear their pearls, if any, as how to imbue their children with a sense of beauty, even though poverty encompasses their home.

Ends Won't Meet

Dear Martha Lee: I'm a woman 28 years old, have been married nine years and have four children. My husband's income is limited, though he works hard. He and I share a night's sleep, believe me, with the children's clothes and education. What I want to know is, how a woman like that going to keep beautiful?

Recipes By Readers

NOTE—The Times will pay $1 for each recipe submitted by a reader and printed in this column. One recipe is printed daily, except Friday, when twenty are given. Address Recipe Editor of The Times. Checks will be mailed to winners. Write only one recipe, name, address and date on each sheet.

CHERRY CREAM PIE

Two cups cherries, two-thirds cup sugar, one cup cherry liquid, two tablespoons butter, one egg, one tablespoon lemon juice, five tablespoons cornstarch. Place cherry liquid and lemon juice in double boiler. Mix cornstarch with four tablespoons of ice water. When the juices have come to boiling point add the cornstarch. Mix well and let it boil five minutes, add butter and sugar, and let it boil one minute longer. Just before removing from fire add the well beaten egg. Let it cool and fill a baked pie shell. Serve with whipped cream.

FOR LUNCHEON

For a luncheon dish there is much nourishment and well balanced food values in a platter of green string beans and crisp broiled bacon.

Almost Bursting With Gas

Thousands of people who suffer from that terrible feeling of oppression after eating, extreme nervousness, pains about the heart, headache, dizziness or shortness of breath do not know that such distress is often caused by pent-up gas in the stomach and bowels. In many cases the heart is actually pushed out of place by the stomach. Is it any wonder that the circulation is impeded, causing the hands and feet to grow numb? Is it strange that the heart palpitates or "acts funny" at times? Genuine, lasting relief from all annoying symptoms of gas can easily be obtained by taking Baalman's Gas Tablets at meal time. These simple, harmless tablets get at the very cause of the trouble and help to remove it completely. Be sure to ask for Baalman's Gas Tablets—yellow package—price $1 everywhere. On sale at Hook Drug Co. and other good drug stores. Mail orders accepted. J. Baalman, Chemist, San Francisco—Advertisement.

Judges in Contest Named

More Contestants for $100 Prize Are Placed on Entry List.

Miss Louise A. Ross, executive and general chairman of the Indianapolis Woman's Exposition today announced judges of the Unique Woman Contest of The Indianapolis Times, cooperating with the business women's department of the Indianapolis Woman's Department Club.

The judges: Miss Isadora Kessler, 232 1/2 Central Ave., Miss Daisy Reagan, L. S. Ayres and Company, and Mrs. Margaret L. Shuler, 512 Guarantee Bldg.

These women will decide the winner of the $100 prize for the Indianapolis woman doing the most unique work, and the $10 prize for the person to first suggest the name of the woman who wins the capital prize.

Rules of Contest

The contest ends May 8. It is an advance feature of the woman's exposition at the State fairground May 17 to 22.

To be entered in the contest the woman must be over 18 years of age and must reside in Indianapolis.

Any Indianapolis resident may enter the name of a friend in the contest. Write a letter to the Unique Woman Contest Editor, Indianapolis Times. Give the name and address of the entrant and tell in detail why you think she is the most unique woman. Remember she must do something which brings her money. She may be a business or professional woman she may be a school girl or housewife with a profitable sideline.

Give Addresses

Do not forget to give the address of both the person you are entering in the contest and yourself. Several entries have been held up because the person writing to the contest editor have neglected this important detail.

Among new names entered today were those of Leona Popplana Pollockman in charge of the missing person bureau; Mrs. Gertrude Minton 630 1/2 S. West St. who with her husband makes and sells from 1,000 to 1,100 pounds of sausage a week; Mrs. Ona B. Talbot, one of the few women fine arts impressaries in the country, and Miss Margaret O'Connor, 1913 Ruckle St., a city recreation director.

Her Own Way. A Story of a Girl of Today

DESPAIR

"Of course, I know now, Julie," said Mamie, somewhat hysterically, "that both these notes were very 'high-hat,' but I did not know as much about the life of a poor working girl" as I do now.

"Sometimes I think that it is all the bunk to try to keep straight."

"Here I am all broken up because tonight at the restaurant I saw Buddy Tremaine, well dressed, among charming people, eating the most expensive viands on the menu."

"I thought to myself, if I had not been so grand and virtuous, I might have been for the last two years in all places where Buddy Tremaine could be found. I could be reveling in love and luxury."

"Besides all that I might be almost ready for grand opera instead of without hope of ever taking another voice lesson."

Mamie could not speak for paroxysms of sobs.

I let her cry for a while and then she raised her tear-stained face to me and said:

"Julia, do you think it's worth it? Up to date I've not found any great reward in being strictly virtuous."

I, Julia Dean, sat there stunned. For the first time in my life I realized the temptations a girl had to face. I was almost sure I would not have come through Mamie's unseated.

"Poor, poor Mamie!"

I truly wondered if she were not right when she said that she had made a great sacrifice and had not even got out of it the satisfaction of feeling that she had made herself a martyr to a particularly good cause.

"What am I now, Julie?" she asked despairingly.

"I'm just a hat girl in the Beaux Arts Restaurant in Chicago. Who cares what I am or who I am? Who cares, besides myself, whether I am virtuous or not? I probably will hold this position until I grow old and ugly and then what is there for me for the rest of my life?"

"Every night I see women come into the restaurant, eat the finest food, laughing and seemingly happy. They are covered with jewels, and the men beside them see no one else but them, and yet I know in my heart that these women are not what the world calls 'good.'"

"I'm getting sick of that word 'good.' I am sure if I had not run away from New York and come out here to Chicago, I could have held Buddy Tremaine's love, and some day I could have given to the world a glorious voice and added to the pleasure of thousands of music lovers."

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Breakfast—Grape fruit, scrambled eggs with rice, bran muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Cornmeal bunny, toasted muffins, radishes, stuffed fish, milk, tea.

Dinner—Hot pot of hodge podge, beef greens with buttered beets, dumplings, pudding, rye bread, milk, coffee.

The dinner main dish combines potatoes and meat with dried mushrooms in a most appetizing fashion. This dish is also economical, using a cut from the fore-quarter of mutton.

Cornmeal bunny is a bit out of the ordinary and worth trying "on the family."

Cornmeal Bunny

One and one-half cups hot cornmeal mush, one-half cup milk, one cup diced cheese, two hard cooked eggs, two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon salt, paprika, triangles hot toast.

Add salt to mush after cooking. Chop eggs. Add eggs, cheese, milk and butter to hot mush. Mix until cheese is melted and pour over hot toast. Sprinkle with paprika and serve.

Tapiocha, the quick cooking variety, is used in place of cornmeal to make a tapiocha "bunny." (Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

The WOMAN'S DAY by Allene Sumner

Chatterings!

Girl students of New York University are ordered to cease their boxing bouts till the faculty decides whether or no such pastimes are altogether fitting and proper for young damozels. Perhaps, who knows, this modern woman stuff is to be curbed!

There are no new causes for divorce, according to figures from the Yale Divinity School. Divorces have increased, true, but the proportion of men and women making complaint remains even as it was thirty years ago, and desertion, cruelty, infidelity and drunkenness continue to lead the list as marital disturbance causes.

Now they're fussing as to just who's to blame for the skinny birth rate. Health commissioners blame housing conditions and inflated standards of living which make men and women marry late in life "when we have enough." Birth control devotees say that their doctrine did it, even as did little Cock Robin. Hospitals are decent enough to admit that their high prices in maternity wards have something to do with it. Neurologists say that woman is diverting her energies into other channels than child-bearing.

In Our Schools

A certain hamlet of New Jersey is all riled because its teachers demand Oriental and not plain domestic rugs in their teachers' room. The board sardonically opines that "they'll be wanting old masters on the walls next!"

Well, what of it? Do you want females teaching your children to instill in them love for good things on don't you? And if you want your offspring taught culture, you might as well make up your mind to pay for it! And there's the vicious circle again of "the high standard of living" that makes paupers of us all!

Cornmeal bunny is a bit out of the ordinary and worth trying "on the family."
