

OGDEN BACKS PRESIDENT IN HIS KEYNOTE

Favors Fort Rehabilitation and Completion of Federal Bldg.

Support of the policies of President Coolidge, rehabilitation of Ft. Harrison and completion of the Federal Bldg., were advocated by James M. Ogden, candidate for the Republican nomination for Seventeenth District representative in his keynote speech at 2909 Central Ave. Friday night.

Ogden praised the recent speech of President Coolidge against American participation in the League of Nations, drew attention to the present administration's tax reductions and urged farm relief, without charity.

Slogan of Party.

"The American people believe in the leadership of the quiet man in the White House," Ogden said. "The slogan of the Republican party now seems to be 'Stand by the administration.'"

The rough board barracks at Ft. Harrison are almost uninhabitable because the War Department has ceased making repairs, Ogden said.

"The temperature in those barracks during the winter has been about 65 degrees and the troops have been compelled to wear their heavy overcoats to keep comfortable," Ogden explained.

The Government has the money from the sale of lands and other property bought during the war. Ft. Harrison should have relief. I am asking that you nominate and elect me that I may see that Uncle Sam's boys are treated a little more like you and I would like to be treated were we in their places."

For Building Completion

With respect to completion of the Federal Bldg., Ogden said:

"If I am nominated and elected, I will urge an early extension of this structure, with a front in keeping with the architecture and surroundings of the World War Plaza and with plenty of room so that none of the departments will find it necessary to operate in outside buildings."

Belief of veterans, restriction of immigration, protection of child life and the protective tariff also were named as planks in his platform by Ogden.

New Rules for Bridge are Announced

Three Important Alterations in Code Are Made by Czars.

A. J. KRYGER, Jr., one of the bridge rule makers.

In business life Bryant McCampbell is a textile manufacturer. At play, he is a bridge expert. He headed the committee of the Whist Club of New York that drafted the new code of auction bridge rules.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Auction bridge has taken note of the demand for new spring styles.

This by stepping out in a new set of rules tailored by the Whist Club of New York City. Three important alterations in the game's former rules are made. They are:

Honor values revised, so that honors are scored uniformly for all suits instead of varying in accordance with trick values. Bidding in minor suits stimulated.

High instead of low wins the deal and decides partnerships in the draw.

penalties imposed for the revoke.

Other changes regulate the correction of insufficient bids and leads out of turn.

Spades Highest

Five wealthy New York business men comprising the card committee of the Whist Club, drafted the revised code. Approval of the American card league has been given.

The revisions are the first since 1920. Edicts of the New York club are observed in several foreign countries, including Canada, as well as in the United States.

Adoption of the new scheme of honor values is the most radical of the rule changes. Scoring is simplified and the importance of bids in the minor suits is enhanced by the change. Honor values in No Trump bids are not altered.

Honor values were based on suit values under the old auction bridge code. The new rules prescribed the following, uniform for all suits:

Three honors, 30 points; Three in one hand, fourth in partner's, 40 points; Two in each hand, fourth in partner's, 40 points; Two in one hand, third in partner's, 50 points; Four in one hand, 80 points; Four in one hand, fifth in partner's, 90 points; Five in one hand, 100 points; No Trump honors, (unchanged) Three aces, 30 points; Four aces, 40 points; Four in one hand, 100 points.

"In the draw, as between cards of equal rank, the suits rank: Spades (highest), Hearts, Diamonds, Clubs (lowest). High wins," reads the brief new rule on the draw.

An insufficient bid—that is, one which is not higher than the last previous bid—may be corrected by the bidder without penalty before another player calls attention to it or declares. The correction must be in the same trumps, however.

If the player on the left of the insufficient bidder declares before attention to the error is called, the insufficient bid stands and is treated as if sufficient.

Over-bid Is Void

If another player calls attention to the insufficient bid before the next player has declared, the erring bidder must make his bid sufficient and his partner is barred from further bidding. The erring bidder has no right to object.
