TAKEN AMONG
LABOR UNIONS

Shows Twenty-Four State
Federations on Record
For Modification.

Times, Washington Bureau,
1322 New York Avenue
WASHINGTON, April 26.—Twenty-four State Federations of Labor are on record in favor of modification of the Volstead act, according to a poll taken by the New York Times. The Times' poll was taken after William Roberts of the American Federation of Labor, representing President Green, told the Senate investigating committee that the A. F. of L. is in favor of modification. Senator Walsh, dry, wanted to know how many State and local federations had taken action. Roberts said he did not know, but that many had passed resolution favoring modification and that no protest against the action of the A. F. of L. convention had ever been received from local bodies. The Times thereupon wired its correspondents asking them to ascertain what action, if any, had been taken by State labor bodies. The replies show that sixteen federations, including those of Maryland, Colorado, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Kentucky, Minnesota and California, have passed modification or repeal resolutions. In eight States no formal action had been taken, but officials of the unions said their membership was "wet." These included New Mexico, Nebraska, Washington and Texas. State federations taking no formal action, and in which it is impossible now to obtain majority sentiment, included that of Tennessee. There were six of these. Only three State federations have voted dry.

MOTORISTS BREAK LAW
Report 2,000 Violations of Motor
Starting on Ferry.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 26.—Nearly all motorists are violating the law prohibiting the starting of engines on ferries before the vessels have docked, Arthur J. Fryer, deputy commissioner of navigation of the Department of Commerce, has found. Within two months after the law went into effect last year, inspectors of the department reported two thousand violations. Fryer concedes that some violations are unwillful because of conditions that motorists meet when traveling on ferries.

The spring business of the O'Donnell Transfer Company, 437 E. Louisiana St., "is now in full swing," according to Ray O'Donnell, proprietor of that company. The annual "moving season" has been keeping the firm extremely busy during the past two weeks, he said. Thirty-five men are employed to operate the company's fleet of trucks in general transportation. O'Donnell has ordered two new trucks which will be put into operation soon. The company maintains a regular overland hauling schedule to Richmond and Connersville. Trucks leave the company garage each day at 9 and 11 a. m. and 6 p. m. This overland hauling service has been in operation for the past four years, O'Donnell said. He has been in the transfer business for the past ten years. Five-ton trucks are operated over hard-surfaced streets. Special care is given to handling the heavy loads and household goods and the company trains its men in modern methods of loading and unloading. The transfer business has been greatly improved by modern methods of transportation, making it much easier now to carry on a good business," said O'Donnell. Traffic conditions between Richmond and Connersville and intermediate points are greatly improved, he stated.

"Service first." That is the slogan of the Capitol Loan Company, 141 1/2 E. Washington St., which has been in business in Indianapolis for twenty-four years. The company has built a reputation for fair dealing and service, justifying its business slogan, according to L. L. Bishop, manager. It makes chattel loans up to $300 on pianos, automobiles, household goods and other chattels. Since the new Indiana loan law, passed seven years ago, the loan business in our State has undergone a radical change, Bishop said. Bishop asserted that the old stigma of the loan business is a thing of the past and that the loaning of money now is looked upon as a potent, essential factor of business progress. YELLOW PERIL
UP BY EXPERT

Orient Too Deficient in Commercial Minerals, Says Professor.

By Times Special
SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—The bugaboo of conquering hordes of the Yellow Peril, industrialized and militarized after the pattern of western nations, is a fiction based on false, not fact. Prof. C. L. Keith of the geological department of University of Wisconsin is authority for the statement, and he bases it on results of a ten-year geological survey of China recently completed. The survey showed that, contrary to popular belief, the Far East is deficient in those commercial minerals essential to industrial supremacy. Eastern Asia, the Philippines, East Indies and Japan altogether contain only 5 per cent of the world's copper, 1 per cent of the world's iron, 5 per cent of its coal and 3 per cent of its oil, says Keith. In contrast to this, the countries bordering the North Atlantic have 90 per cent of the world's coal, 98 per cent of its iron ore, 65 per cent of its copper and 90 per cent of its oil.

"The reserves of iron ore now known to exist in China are not large enough to warrant the huge capital investments necessary to the building of a great iron and steel industry," says Professor Keith. "In Japan the same condition exists. Nearly half Japan's iron reserves are in one mine, and her total, including Korea, does not come up to 100,000,000 tons. She is exhausting her coal faster than other nations, and is turning to water power as a conservation measure. "From the standpoint of mineral resources we may regard the Far East countries not as challenging western supremacy but as calling for our sympathetic cooperation in their contests with unsatisfactory environmental conditions."

Automobiles Rented By Boyer
Company on Basis of Mileage

Home of Walter T. Boyer Company

Salesmen, retail stores, tourists and thousands of car users have found the "U" Drive System of Walter T. Boyer Company, 35 Kentucky Ave. and 124 S. Capitol Ave., a solution for their transportation problems. The business of the company has increased each year until it now enjoys a very successful trade. The company rents Chrysler and Ford to reliable persons on a mileage basis, not on the time which the cars are kept out of the garage, according to Walter T. Boyer, head of the firm. The present rates are based on a flat 10 cent per mile rate for Ford open cars plus a 2 cent per mile charge for gas and oil. Ford coupes cost a total of 14 cents a mile and Ford Sedans cost 15 cents a mile, Boyer announced. Twenty cars now are operated by the company, which has been in operation four and a half years. The average charge per customer is $3.50, Boyer said. The company also is operating a similar system in Terre Haute, with Frank M. Boyer, a brother, in charge. The firm is affiliated with the Central States Drive-It-Yourself Association, which association issues identification certificates to reliable users of automobiles to facilitate obtaining cars in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri and Indiana.

OIL IS LEPROSY CURE
Was Used by Monks in Year 1500

By United Press
BERKELEY, Cal., April 26.—Chalmers oil, the modern remedy for leprosy, was known hundreds of years ago, but its use was not general because of its unpleasantness, according to Dr. Ruth Stone Alvarez, bacteriologist of the University of California, who has made a study of the history of leprosy. He found that Buddhist monks in about the year 1500 knew of a treatment. Records set down in that age showed that improvements in patients suffering from the disease were seen after they chewed the seeds from which chalmers oil is now extracted.

SCHOOL IDOL
IS DESCRIBED
BY I. U. GIRLS
Perfect Man Should Be Tall,

Says Co-eds.
By Tim's Special
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 26.—
The perfect college man has been described by more than one hundred enthusiastic Indiana University co-eds. They haven't really found him yet, but they are tracing him to his lair and they know what they are looking for.
He is a tall, clean-shaven, rather handsome brunet with athletic build, devilish brown eyes, dark wavy hair parted on the side, and a humorous manner. This was decided by the young women students at
I. U. in a recent census conducted by the Daily Student, campus newspaper.
He has money, plenty, the co-eds
says, and is an immaculate dresser.
He is about 20 years old, has a cheerful disposition, dances well and does not drink or swear, except, of course, when fooling.
The co-eds waxed rather personal and said he did not wear garters, that is, 116 women said he didn't and only fourteen of them said he did.
Ninety-six said he didn't have a mustache, but twenty-two vowed he had a "cookie duster over his dining room door."
Almost all said he was a gentleman and not a caveman. Some intimated he was not a good dancer.
One girl said he was thin and three said he was fat.

SHIFTS TO INDUSTRY
By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 26.—This country is shifting more and more to an industrial and manufacturing basis, Dr. David White, of the United States Geological Survey, wrote Herbert Hoover, commerce secretary, warning that unless more financial aid is given to pure science research this country will be unable to cope eventually with the needs of human progress.
United States has sacrificed pure science in gaining pre-eminence in applied science, Dr. David pointed out, and the latter will dry up unless something is done to better maintain the source of fundamental science.
