

STONE INDUSTRY IN STATE BOOMS

Bedford, Bloomington Have Record Year.

WASHINGTON, April 26. — Indiana's huge limestone industry near Bedford and Bloomington, enjoyed the best year in its history in 1925, the Bureau of Mines reported today. The sales amounted to 11,803,890 cubic feet, valued at $14,203,120. The amount is 7 per cent greater than last year, but the value only about 1 per cent. The quantity sold is slightly in excess of that in 1923, the record year until now.

Stone sold in rough blocks for further dressing amounted to 5,168,780 cubic feet, valued at $3,109,746, an increase over 1924 of 12 per cent in quantity and 9 per cent in value.

Sales of dressed stone made up the rest of the output. Lawrence County had $3,671,397 of the business and Monroe County $5,531,723.

INFLUENZA HAD LEFT THIS LADY A HEALTH WRECK

Practical Nurse of Indianapolis Tells How the Konjola Renewed
Her Health.

"In my opinion, there never was a prepared medicine that can do so much for suffering people as Konjola, for this wonderful new compound has certainly made an amazing change in my physical condition, and I do not hesitate to urge others who are in ill-health to take Konjola, for it will surely benefit them." said Mrs. Anna Green, popular Indianapolis lady, who is a practical nurse living at 2323 Haynes Avenue, this city, while talking a few days ago with The Konjola Man, who is at Hook's drug store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Streets, Indianapolis, where crowds of men and women call every day to hear his personal explanation of this celebrated medical compound.

MRS. ANNA GREEN

"The influenza which I had two years ago left me a health wreck," said Mrs. Green. "My stomach and kidneys and nerves were affected, and as a result, my general health failed and so I finally had to give up my nursing duties. In spite of careful dieting, I would still continue to suffer with my stomach. The meals I ate would only bring misery instead of strength to my body. I would belch, and bloat and have sourness in my stomach constantly, as well as severe pains. My kidneys were disordered and sluggish, and sharp, terrific pains would enter in my back. Instead of resting at night, I would be so miserable that I just had to lay awake and roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other. I was just a bundle of nerves every day, and I got so bad that I couldn't stand the least noise. This nervousness gradually brought on spells of neuritis, and only those who suffer this disease know the torture that it can bring to the victim. The back of my neck and shoulders and arms would become a mass of pains. Yes, indeed, I had been in misery all through my system from these troubles.

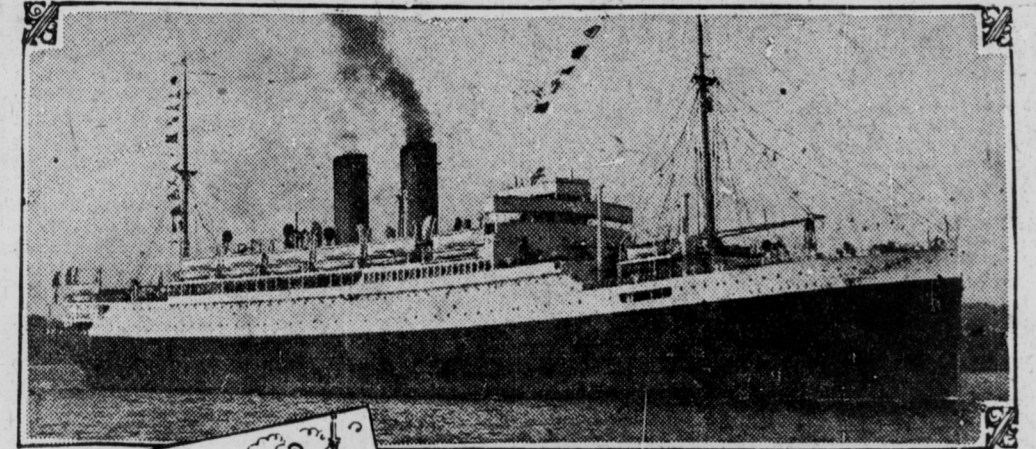

"But Konjola certainly made a great change in me. I am once more free of misery, since I got this medicine. My nerves are quiet and stronger, and the neuritis pains in my shoulders, arms and neck have all disappeared. My stomach has been restored to a healthy, active condition, so that my food doesn't lay and ferment and cause suffering as it did before. Everything I eat agrees with me, and each day I seem to get more and more strength from my meals, so naturally my whole system is improved. The pains have completely disappeared from my back, because my kidneys are working in good order, and I feel a great deal rested every morning, now, because I can sleep fine all night long. I get up without that wretched aching feeling, and so I feel like going about once more with my work.

"Yes, as I stated in the first place, I do not hesitate to urge others to get Konjola and take this wonderful medicine, for I am sure it will help them just as it did me."

The Konjola Man is at Hook's drug store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Streets, Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free Samples given.

Konjola also is for sale at every Hook drug store in Indianapolis and by all druggists in the nearby towns. —Advertisement.

Plan Made for Trip of Legionnaires From Indiana to Convention in France

Below—Promenade deck on one of the liners.

Veterans and their American auxiliary wives, daughters, sisters and mothers from Indiana will sail to France to attend the American Legion convention there in 1927 from New York on a steamer of the French line, it was announced here today by Bowman Elder, chairman legion's national France convention travel committee.

Though the ship for the Indiana delegation has not yet been announced the French line will be responsible for the embarkation of State delegations from California, Delaware, Texas, Louisiana, Arizona, Civic clubs at Bloomington are seeking a more humane method of killing dogs. It was necessary to shoot one dog fifteen times before it was killed, police said.

Da Batten and Wilbur Kendall, of Greensburg, were appointed generals in the membership drive of the John Welsh Post of the American Legion.

Mike Hackett of Bedford has completed fifty years service with Monon Railroad. His last run was on the Louisville to Chicago division as conductor.

An Evansville woman is asking for a divorce, because she just "ran away to spite her mother." The case has been taken under advisement by the judge.

The Goddess of Justice at Anderson is enjoying a rest. The goddess is a statue and has stood on the Madison County courthouse for two score years. She is being cleaned.

Hansen Brattain, a farmer living near Pendleton, has just completed a 150-foot square gold fish pond—stocked with 300 fish.

"Wanted—A brave man." Hundreds have applied for the position, but all have failed or fallen down on the job. Carl Durkin said. The job is washing windows at the Richmond courthouse.

"It's cheaper to put the kid in school," A. F. Dohn of Steubenville, said, after he was fined a total of $12.25 for keeping his 15-year-old son from getting an education.

30,000 to Attend

Present indications are, according to Elder, that at least 30,000 veterans and legion auxiliary members will make the pilgrimage to France with the legion, the greatest peace time migration in the world's history.

Part of the program in Paris will be the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the entry of the United States into the World War. The veterans also will have an opportunity to visit battlefields of the war and at the American cemeteries will pay homage to the thousands of their former comrades who now lie buried there.

Plans of the Legion have been endorsed by President Coolidge and a cordial invitation from the government of France, has been received.

Minimum Rate $175

In order to place the trip within the reach of almost every veteran, extremely low rates are to be provided. The minimum rate, which will include transportation both ways on the Atlantic, hotel in Paris and transportation in France, including a trip to an American battlefield and an American cemetery, will be about $175. Other rates providing better grades of accommodation will range to $450 for the maximum. It is estimated that the entire trip, including all reasonable expenses can be made for as little as $300.

In order to make it possible for the rank and file of veterans to save their money for the trip, the France convention committee is sponsoring the organization of American Legion saving clubs through banks in all parts of the country. A number of local clubs have been organized in cooperation with Legion posts through authorization obtained from John J. Wicker Jr., Richmond Va., national travel director for the France convention travel committee.

The Legion also is backing a national movement to grant ex-service men sufficient vacation time in 1927 to make the trip. It is estimated that it will require at least four weeks to go and return from France.
