By VEDDER GARD

UNUSUAL interest centered today on the appearance of Bubbling Over in the fifth race of the Lexington program. The Idle Hour entry is one of the favorites for the Kentucky Derby; in fact, is only second to Pompey in public estimation.

It is said that Bubbling Over is in fine effort for his first three-year-old effort, having worked out fast at the private Idle Hour training track.

In the same race is Boot To Boot, another real good one of the same stable. This three-year-old finished second to his stablemate, Bagenbaggare, in the Louisiana Derby. Bagenbaggare and Boot To Boot will be shipped East to the Preakness.

WHEN the summer boxing season opens, May 25, at Ft. Harrison, outdoor arenas seats will be in evidence according to Lieutenant Porter, who again will have charge of the Army shows.

It will be recalled that last season the ringside seats were elevated gradually, starting from the ring platform, two rows of seats being placed on each successive rise. This season each row will be elevated above the one in front according to the "foot." Another needed improvement is the building of a restroom for women patrons.

IT looks as though the Minneapolis Millers are not particularly fond of left-hand pitching. Pitcher Hitter Krueger's double was the only blow off old man Cullup of Louisville on Sunday. Pitcher Henry of the Indians, another lefty, also stopped Kelley's outfit last week.

Don't worry about the Millers. They aren't going anywhere unless they get some reinforcements. The pitchers are nothing to brag about, and when the heavy hitters are stopped by good opposition hurling the result is disastrous to the Swedetown sluggers. If you want to worry about a club consider the Louisville luminaries, likely looking league leaders.

INDIANA University baseball team, facing the loss of many of its veterans of last season, does not seem to have a chance to repeat its Big Ten championship of 1925. The new performers are proving unsteady, and the pitching very mediocre.

The loss of Hall, star shortstop, who was injured in a southern training trip game at Vanderbilt, was a severe blow to the Crimson hopes. Davis, who has been playing the outfield, has been moved in to fill the hole at shortstop.

I. U. was swamped in its first conference game at Ohio State, last Saturday, 16 to 0, and faces a strong Purdue team at Bloomington on Wednesday.

The Bollermakers have been playing fine ball. They lost their first game of the season on Saturday to the classy Michigan University nine, 6 to 4. The slants of Jablonowski proved too much for Lambert's men.

The dopesters give Purdue a decided edge over Indiana, but one never knows what will happen when these two get together. Seven games are on the Big Ten card this week. The schedule:

Today
Michigan at Ohio State.
Illinois at Iowa.
Wednesday
Purdue at Indiana.
Saturday
Wisconsin at Chicago.
Minnesota at Iowa.
Ohio State at Illinois.
Northwestern at Indiana.

THE best showing in the Penn relay and Drake carnival was of the first in the pole vault by Harrington of Notre Dame at Penn, and a second place by Pepper of Indiana in the 100-yard dash at Drake behind the great Locke of Nebraska, who sprinted the century with a wind at his back in 9.5-10 seconds.

Butler tracksters placed third in the college medley relay at Drake. They won their heat in this event, but were placed third according to time made. The Butler team was unplaced in the mile college relay.

The weather was so bad that some of the events were called off and Phillips did not get a chance to show his prowess.

BUTLER VS. DE PAUW
Butler and De Pauw were to meet this afternoon at Irwin field in a baseball game postponed from last Saturday because of wet grounds and high wind. Captain Ewing was to take the mound for Butler. Franklin will play the locals on Tuesday.

ATHLETICS AND BROWNS FIND EARLY GOING HARD AND ROUGH

Owner Anderson Refuses to Give Up Hope Despite Trainer's Opinion.

By United Press
LOUISVILLE, April 26.—Don't give up yet! There's still a chance for that money placed in the winter books on Carlaris to see some action.

Although Trainer Fred Kraft announced Saturday that Carlaris definitely was out of the Kentucky Derby with an infected right hind hock caused by the 3-year-old kicking himself after winning the Coffroth handicap, there is still hope.

Owner W. T. Anderson changed the outlook of the thing when he arrived in Louisville Sunday from California and went immediately to the stable. He saw a slightly enlarged hock with a half-inch rawcut right in the very joint. The horse, however, did not limp and did not seem to favor the leg.

After looking at his wonder 3-year-old, Anderson stated he would have a consultation of the best veterinarians obtainable and, that as long as there was a chance, every means possible would be tried to get Carlaris in shape for the classic.

An electrical treatment is being tried now.

You'll See Them at Home Thursday

It won't be long now until Indianapolis fans will journey to Washington Park to see the Indians of 1926 in action. The Bushmen are due to open the home season, Thursday of this week, with Kansas City supplying the opposition. The rapid-fire infield has been doing good work on the road and is playing up to expectations.

Walter Holke is the new member who will attract the observing eyes of the Washington Park rooters. Klugman, utility, was here last year for a few games and Yoter played utility for the Tribe all last season and finished well at third base when Johnny Hodapp graduated to the majors. Sicking and Schreiber need no introduction. They are Washington Park vets.

TRIBESMEN IN SECOND STRUGGLE WITH SAINTS

Indians Open New Series With Victory and Move Into Second Place—Stephenson Swats Ball.

By Times Special
ST. PAUL, April 26.—The Indians did very well over the week-end and put away two victories in the old bag. At Minneapolis Saturday the Hoosiers downed the Millers, 12 to 1, and in the series opener with the Saints here Sunday the boys from the Hoosier capital crushed Nick Allen's aggregation, 14 to 5.

Carmen Hill made the Millers limp back to their dugout Saturday and Bill Burwell eased his way to his third pitching victory of the season out at Lexington Park here yesterday. Hill also has three games to his credit.

Niles Due on Mound
The second Tribe-Saint struggle here this afternoon was expected to see Ned Niles on the mound for the Bushmen. He hurled against the Millers last Wednesday, and though he knocked out in the ninth, he pitched dazzling ball until that session. He is due to have better luck.

This is a three-game series, and it will wind up Tuesday, and then the Indians will depart for Indianapolis to open their home season against the K. C. Blues Thursday. Wednesday is an off day.

The Tribesmen went into second place in the A. A. standing Sunday, the galloping Louisville Colonels retaining the lead. The Colonels plastered the Millers a-plenty across the river at Minneapolis Sunday, 12 to 0.

541 IS HIGH

Mrs. Lee, Indianapolis, Tops Women's Pin Singles.

By United Press
MILWAUKEE, April 26.—First out-of-town teams took the alleys in the Women's International Bowling Association tournament here over the week-end and as the result some of the leaders were displaced.

Mrs. Lillian Lee, Indianapolis, a member of the Elm-Roe team of the Hoosier capital city, posted a 541 score to lead the singles standing.

In the five-woman team event the Brod and Kronin five of Elmhurst, Ill., is leading with 2,312, while the Gateway Grape and Fruit Company five of Omaha is second with 2,265.

J. Anders and S. Rauder of Omaha are out in front in the doubles with 961, while E. Bauerline and E. Kopperd of Milwaukee are second with 950.

GOOD SEATS FOR OPENER

Many Grand Stand Tickets on Sale at 12:30 Thursday.

Grand stand and bleacher tickets for the home opening game at Washington Park Thursday will go on sale at 12:30 the day of the big struggle.

Fans reaching the park early will not have trouble obtaining good seats. Only boxes and the one screened-in section back of the visitors' dugout will be reserved. This is the same plan that exists on Sunday and holidays during the regular season.

There are no reserved seats left for Thursday.

GAMES OF SUNDAY

Rabbit Maraville, veteran shortstop, nipped a rally in the ninth inning with a curve and the Robins downed the Giants, 8 to 6.

The Cubs scored Wilson in the eighth inning with the squeeze play and beat the Pirates, 4 to 3.

The heavy artillery of the Yankees blasted Sammy Gray all over the yard and blew up the Athletics, 7 to 2.

Nick Cullup turning in a one-hit game. Krueger, a pinch hitter, got a double in the sixth and robbed the veteran southpaw of a no-hit performance.

Gain Early Lead
The Indians got busy early Sunday and scored six runs in the first inning, one in the second and seven in the third. They didn't score again, but the lead was safe behind Burwell.

Outfielder Riggs Stephenson was a batting demon over the week-end. In five trips to the plate Saturday he got two home runs, a triple and two singles. Against the Saints Sunday he got two singles out of three official times at bat. He grounded out once, drew a walk and had a sacrifice. Seven hits out of eight attempts is going some.

Riggs hit safely his first two times up Sunday, which gave him a record of seven consecutive hits in as many times at bat over the week-end.

Tribe Gossip

By Times Special
ST. PAUL, April 26.—Hank Schreiber, Indian shortstop, hit safely four times out of five efforts against the Saints, Sunday.

Against the Millers Saturday the Tribesmen collected seventeen hits, and in the St. Paul series opener they poked sixteen.

Wid Matthews was busy in the outfield Sunday with six putouts, an assist and one error. He made a great catch once and threw to first for a double play.

Dick Wade, always a difficult man for the Indians to retire, was active Sunday and got three hits for Nick Allen's boys. One of his wallpops was good for three bases.

Matthews got a triple and stole a base.

St. Paul used four twirlers. Pip-grass, Kolp, Holtzhauser and Watts.

Bill Kuhny, new umpire in the American Association, is working with the veteran, Ollie Chilli, in this series.

AROUND LOCAL COURSES WITH THE MAN WHO GOLFS FOR SPORT

HARDENED to the wind and rain after Saturday, Sunday soon was found to be like anything but a golfing day. Minus the rain, there was wind and cold. The weather did not stop the real golfing enthusiasts, however.

Highland Golf and Country Club was fairly deserted, although here and there could be seen a two-some or a four-some, practically always made up of male members.

At Broadmoor the grand opening planned for last week was scheduled for Sunday. George Soutar informed us that the opening has again been set over for another week, and will take place next Sunday.

After Wolfe drove several down the middle, Soutar, looked over at him and said, "You better come over here and tell me how."

Far be it from this column to take any glory from those who deserve it. We said that Tad Jones shot a 76 over the Riverside course, but it was Tad Brown who did the shooting. Chick Nelson said he felt all the more pleased about the way Tad shot because he finally persuaded him to adopt a set of steel shafted clubs.

They are falling in line. This week the Burke Golf Company announced the reduced price of the "Golfrite" ball at 75 cents, and the Burke "30" at 50 cents in a letter to Harry Schopp at South Grove.

The golf bug struck the Real Silk Hostelry Mills the past week. Misses Gallagher and Kerr took their first lessons from Schopp.

Buddy Gass, who at one time played a mean basketball game for Manual Training High School, has gone in for less strenuous sports. Buddy, with Bill Mason, H. Hickson and W. J. Hartman, played at Riverside Sunday.

It takes weather worse than bad to dampen the golf ardor of Misses Lennie and Roxie Sharp. They were among those present at Coffin Sunday.

John Milnor drove the first ball at Coffin Sunday noon, and everything was lovely for thirty minutes. Then all the loveliness blew away. Some stuck it out and played around between showers. The same was the case at practically every course.

More than a hundred, however, left and went home at South Grove, saving their tickets for some other day.

Sol Schloss, president of the city board of health, and Harry Goldstein played together at Broadmoor, as did I. F. Kahn and J. J. Kiser. Leonard Solomon and George Soutar II. paired up. Young George was slated for the Madison (Ind.) course this year, but returned and now is slated to go to Anderson, Ind.

Mrs. I. F. Kahn and Mrs. Joe Michaels were not to be frozen out, and they carried out their little golf engagement Sunday just as if it were 90 in the shade.

The Squeeze Play Comes Back

By United Press
CHICAGO, April 26.—The return of some old-fashioned baseball tactics was sponsored by Manager McCarthy of the Cubs when he issued orders to score Wilson on a squeeze play that won the game for the Cubs Sunday. The Yankees also pushed the Babe across the plate with the same play in New York.

By Henry L. Farrell,

NEW YORK, April 26.—Like most any manager whose prospects are slim in the spring, Connie Mack, veteran manager of the Athletics, believes that better times are coming.

The most absorbing topic in the American League concerns what ails the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns. They have won only four games and are tied for the cellar.

"The boys aren't hitting right. There's nothing the matter with them," Mack said here today. "If we have to get in a bad slump—and we are in one now—I would prefer to have it at this stage of the race. Many of the clubs ahead of us are playing over their heads and mid-season will knock them down."

It was observed last week in Philadelphia that the fans are not as sanguine as the manager of the club. There were reports that dissensions on various issues had disturbed the spirit of the club, that certain cliques were against Chick Galloway and Mickey Cochrane.

It is too early to count the Athletics and Browns out of the pennant race, but the race is reaching the stage where they should begin to show something.

"Looks like the Yankees are the club that we'll have to beat," Bucky Harris, wise young manager of the Senators, told the writer.

Profs Want Grid Game Curbed

By United Press
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 26.—Rules limiting college students to one year of football and the individual institution's program to four games are proposed by the American Association of University Professors, who see the sport as a moral menace.

A bulletin issued by the association asserts that intercollegiate football is conducive to drinking and dishonesty and that it distorts the student's conception of the meaning of higher education.

The professors suggest that faculties appoint committees at once so that a plan may be formed to affect the conduct of football activities next fall.

LOCKE is recognized, however, as one of the fastest runners who ever pulled on a spiked shoe, and if he comes East for the intercollegiate likely will find no one able to stay within ten feet of him. The Nebraska star equalled the world's record of 9.6-10, which has stood for twenty years, in the Kansas relay carnival April 17.

Taylor and Rosenberg Are Wanted in Chicago.

By United Press
CHICAGO, April 26.—Articles for a world's-bantam-weight championship fight in Chicago this summer between Charley Rosenberg, the title holder, and Bud Taylor, Terre Haute challenger, may be signed here today, according to Eddie Long, Taylor's manager.

James Mullin, who is here with Long, said he would guarantee Rosenberg $45,000 for his end.

Shortridge and Cathedral High School baseball teams were to clash this afternoon at Riverside Park at 4 o'clock in a game postponed from last Friday.

New Dash Mark Made With Wind at Back.

By Times Special
NEW YORK, April 26.—The Amateur Athletic Association will not accept as official the world's record of 9.5-10 for the 100-yard dash made by Roland Locke of Nebraska U., in the Drake relay carnival.

A strong wind blowing at the sprinter's back gave him a slight advantage and in the past such a circumstance has been sufficient to cause officials to decline to allow new records.

Locke is recognized, however, as one of the fastest runners who ever pulled on a spiked shoe, and if he comes East for the intercollegiate likely will find no one able to stay within ten feet of him. The Nebraska star equalled the world's record of 9.6-10, which has stood for twenty years, in the Kansas relay carnival April 17.
