

EXPECT WORK ON SHORTBRIDGE TO BEGIN BY OCT. 1

Change of Plans for 2,500
Capacity Building Expected Tuesday.

Work on the foundation of the new 2,500 capacity Shortridge High School at Thirty-Fourth and Meridian Sts. can be begun by Oct. 1, School Board President Theodore F. Vonnegut stated today.

Vonnegut said he hoped the board will authorize changing the plans for the structure at the meeting Tuesday night. This will depend on a report of a committee appointed at a special board meeting Friday to consider revision of the present plans, drawn by the former board, or casting aside these plans and drawing new ones.

Action Not Known

Committee is composed of Charles W. Kern, buildings and grounds committee chairman, Jacob H. Hilkene, superintendent of that department, and Walter G. Gingery, Shortridge faculty member.

The committee has met, but action has not been divulged.

If the committee reports on either of the propositions Tuesday, architects will be selected immediately.

Vonnegut declared a preliminary drawing of the new plans can be prepared in thirty days, and that sixty days later majority of specifications and measurements can be incorporated in finally completed drawings.

He said with this action the board can advertise for bids and take the

LOCAL MAN WAS IN MISERY WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE

Konjola Quickly Relieved
the Store, Stiff, Achy
Feeling Across
His Back.

Disordered kidneys often affect the whole general system, so that a state of ill-health is set up over the entire body. The sharp, terrible pains in the back, soreness and stiffness across the kidneys, dull aching feeling, especially in the mornings, dizziness, tingling nerves, circles underneath the eyes, black spots, and many other symptoms, are often the result of unhealthy kidneys. It is surprising what Konjola has accomplished for many Indianapolis people in similar instances of kidney suffering.

Recently, Mr. August White, well-known local citizen, living at 852 West Tenth St., this city, made the following statement while talking with the Konjola Man, who is explaining this remarkable medicine to crowds of people daily, who call to see him at Hook's drug store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis.

"It was certainly in misery with kidney troubles," said Mr. White, "and I had gotten so bad that my whole system was in awful condition. I was always sore, stiff and achy across my back, and the pains would grab me sometimes so that I just felt as tho I couldn't hold up any longer. My nights were restless, so I couldn't sleep, and my blood circulation was very poor. As a result, my limbs and entire body would get numb, and I felt like my nerves were going to sleep. I had pains in my shoulders and back of my neck, which added to my misery and kept me awake at night. My stomach was also affected, so that I couldn't get much nourishment from my food, because it would sour, and form gas which brought on those awful bloated spells. I certainly was in bad condition all over, and it's a fact when I tell you that I tried treatments, rubbing, and I don't know how many different remedies—why I actually paid $10 for one quart bottle of medicine—yet I kept right on suffering, and it was only when I began taking Konjola that I felt relief, and now since I have continued with the new compound, I feel well again in every way. All the soreness has left my back, and my kidneys are strengthened, so I never have those pains come over me. At nights I can sleep good, and my blood seems to be in fine condition, as I never have the numbness in my limbs and over my body. My shoulders and neck are free of pains, and now my appetite is better and I really get some good from my food, because my stomach doesn't bloat up and what I eat never becomes sour or gassy. Konjola has surely put my stomach, kidneys and whole system in better condition than it has been for many years, and I am pleased to endorse this medicine to the public and all who suffer as I did."

The Konjola Man is at Hook's drug store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given. Konjola is also for sale at every Hook drug store in Indianapolis and by druggists in each nearby town.—Advertisement.

bond issue, which will be $1,000,000, before the State tax board for approval and begin work by Oct. 1.

It is probable that construction of the building will take more than a year.

Over a Year Needed

Fred Bates Johnson, minority faction member, said revised plans will permit construction on the building Sept. 1.

It is believed Kopf & Deery, architects, who drew the plans for the former board, will be selected for the new plans.

Vonnegut said if these architects are selected their experience on the other plans will aid them in handling the new ones rapidly.

INDICT TWO MORE IN LIQUOR STEAL

Thursday were for theft of twenty cases, the men were charged with conspiracy to violate the Federal liquor law.

Ward hopes to reach "higher-ups" in connection with the thefts, and a more exhaustive investigation is expected, despite his decision to ask for destruction of the liquor. The district attorney said he was "not satisfied" as yet and stated that the investigation will not be halted until every clew is traced down.

One Released

William Ridley, 1050 Mile Ave., Federal Bldg. Negro janitor, arrested with the other two Thursday by Louis Loeb, department of justice agent and George Winkler, city detective lieutenant, who also arrested "Uncle" Joe Shores, Negro, 1021 Coe St., Federal Bldg. night watchman; Lander Dearson, Negro, 2402 Ralston Ave., a janitor, and William H. Marshall, Negro, fireman, who pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell, Thursday afternoon.

The men were held without bond, pending further investigation, and were returned to the Marion County jail.

They appeared before the grand jury this morning.

"Most Scandalous"

Baltzell referred to the liquor theft as "the most scandalous thing in Indiana."

"I am surprised to find you in court on this charge," Baltzell declared. "I am not going to pass sentence at this time. I do not want you to tell me now, but it is my opinion that there are other persons in this case. You men have gone too far to help yourselves by telling what you know about this conspiracy. You should, however, make known who else entered into it. If you think more of shielding these guilty persons than of your wives and families, then you must take the consequences."

May Have More Arrests

In speaking of further investigation Ward declared he was of the opinion that more arrests will be made, although not immediately. He said he will confer with Loeb and Winkler to learn their opinions as to whether the investigation up to date is sufficient.

Confessions Signed

Shores, Marshall and Dearson, according to authorities, signed confessions telling of the theft of 200 cases of the booze. Later, however, they told a Times reporter they did not take more than thirty cases.

Ward said he was confronted with the problem of determining how much of the $80,000 worth of booze the Negroes did take. It was believed that with the arrest of the other men authorities might be able to trace the booze and clear up the amount of the theft, provided the new men are found to be connected with the whiskey disappearance.

Punishment for the offense is two years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine, or both.

Among the twelve true bills returned today, six were for auto theft, naming nine persons. Among those charged with auto theft were

LA GUARDIA MAY COME

Representative Says He Received
Courteous Request From Ward.

By Times Special

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—Representative La Guardia, whose charges in the House of Representatives brought about the investigation disclosing theft of 330 cases of Squibb booze from the Indianapolis Federal Bldg., has received a telegram from District Attorney Albert Ward, Indianapolis, asking him to come to Indianapolis at his convenience to testify before the grand jury in the Squibb Liquor case.

La Guardia said the telegram was extremely courteous. He would not give it out, he said, until he had talked to Speaker Longworth about the matter, but intimated he may go to Indianapolis when the House session is over.

It was his impression, he said, that Ward sent it after talking to Judge Baltzell, to whom La Guardia has written a letter about the subpoena to appear before the Indianapolis grand jury recently received by him.
