

SCHOOL BOARD TO GET PRELIMINARY SHORTRIDGE PLANS

Designs to Be Presented Tuesday Night—Summer Program Up.

Preliminary plans for the new $1,000,000 Shortridge High School, to be built at Thirty-Fourth and Meridian Sts., will be presented to the school board Tuesday night by Kopt & Deery, architects, it was announced.

Plans for carrying out a summer repair and building program, to cost about $325,000, on grade schools were to be formulated by the buildings and grounds committee at a meeting this afternoon.

The summer building program is, in part, the same as one drawn up three years ago by Jacob H. Hilkene, buildings and grounds superintendent, which was never completed.

Calls for Additions
In addition to repairs on a number of buildings, it calls for erection of additions to several grade school structures. The buildings to be added to were never completed according to plans, being left half finished so as to make part of the structure available to relieve congestion of the schools at once.

Blue prints of the Shortridge structure will be submitted to the advisory committee composed of Hilkene, Charles W. Kern, head of the buildings and grounds committee, and Walter G. Gingery, of the age faculty, either today or Tuesday, to the committee's final Tuesday.

The board has fifteen days in which to reject the designs, or to approve them, following which the board, Kopt & Deery, will prepare working plans.

Capacity of 2,500
The building will have a capacity of 2,500 students and will be a structure with two stories in the basement. Main entrance will be on Meridian St., with two Thirty-Fourth St. entrances and two rear exits.

Sixty-five classrooms and twenty laboratory rooms will be contained in the structure.

The gymnasium and the new Caleb Mills Hall, the school auditorium, will be in the elongated southeastern section of the building.

Classrooms are to be twenty-six feet long and twenty-two feet wide, with laboratories forty feet long and twenty-six feet wide.

ANSWER TO BE FILED FOR TRIO
Discharge of Shumaker, Aids Will Be Asked.

An answer to contempt charges brought against Dr. Edward S. Shumaker, Indiana Anti-Saloon League superintendent, and Ethan A. Miles and Jess E. Martin, league attorneys, by Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom will be filed late this afternoon or early Tuesday, it was announced today.

Last week the State Supreme Court allowed the three until Tuesday morning to answer original and amended informations filed by Gilliom. The attorney general's charges are based on criticism of his office and of the Supreme Court by Shumaker in the 1925 League report.

Based on this answer, Bingham will file a motion for discharge of the three, he said. In his answer, he will make a categorical reply to each of Gilliom's charges.

It was said that the attorney, in his motion for discharge, might use the question of the Supreme Court's jurisdiction, bringing out that it is a court of review and not of original jurisdiction.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 7.—Official investigation of the disappearance of Mrs. Aimee McPherson was abandoned by Los Angeles officials.

Both police and district attorneys' office investigators after tracing rumors and reports concerning the evangelist's asserted whereabouts have come to the conclusion she is dead.

"We believe, as at first, that Mrs. McPherson drowned," said Herman Cline, chief of detectives. "We have investigated all clues to the contrary and there is no evidence to substantiate any other theory."

She has been missing three weeks.

50,000 Applicants Storm Studios in Vain Hunt for Jobs.

By Times Special
HOLLYWOOD, June 7.—"Too many people; too few jobs." This is the plight of the new "Central Casting Corporation" in Hollywood and America's great industry, the making of movies.

Swamped by more than 50,000 "extras" and would-be stars beating at the gates of moviedom, the twenty-two studios have joined forces to bring some order out of the employment chaos by financing for themselves a central employment bureau.

They have registered 10,000 picked "extras" for all have closed the doors of the thousands of others who have flown from the four corners of the earth only to break their backs, like moths against a lamp, on the new system of popular work.

Classrooms are to be twenty-six feet long and twenty-two feet wide, with laboratories forty feet long and twenty-six feet wide. The building will have a clearance width of fourteen feet. Drawings approved by the former board limited the downstairs corridor width to twelve feet and upstairs to ten feet.

General dimensions of the building are 265 feet on Meridian St. and a frontage of 418 feet on Thirty-Fourth St. The size of the property is 600 feet on Thirty-Fourth St. and 400 feet on Meridian St.

TRADITION ABOUT WOMEN IN OFFICE IS DUE FOR SMASH

Fall Elections May See Them Re-elected for First Time.

Times Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, June 7.—The coming fall elections will shatter a cherished tradition concerning women in public office, according to every indication at the present time.

It has been the general belief that women are given one term in office only as a matter of sentiment, a sort of last tribute to the dead. No woman has ever been re-elected to Congress. Most of those who have served here were widows or daughters of members of the House.

Re-election Seen
That is not true of Mrs. Mary T. Norton of Jersey City who will be nominated for a second term, practically without opposition within a few weeks and will undoubtedly be re-elected.

Mrs. Norton worked her way up through the political ranks in her State. She worked on State and county Democratic committees in New Jersey.

Mrs. Florence Kahn of San Francisco, and Mrs. Edith Rogers of Massachusetts, were elected to Congress immediately after the deaths of their husbands. Both, however, are seeking re-election solely on their records of service to their districts. Mrs. Rogers seems to have a good chance to be re-elected. Mrs. Kahn will have to battle half a dozen candidates, one of them a woman, in the primaries, but believes that her familiarity with every phase of the complicated political game here, through years of life in Washington with her husband, will be recognized by the voters.

All Three Active
All three women have taken an active part in the business of this session, speaking before committees and on the floor and being in constant attendance.

None of them has reported to any position of prominence, but this is true also of the masculine members, who are serving their first terms. Men seldom become important figures in Congress before their fourth terms. A few have served longer than that before they are given committee chairmanships.

YOUTHS CONFESS; BELIEVE BANDIT GANG BROKEN UP

Four Boys Held at Crawfordsville—All Members of Good Families.

By Times Special
CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., June 7.—With four youths in jail here, one more expected to be arrested within a day or so and two now in a Kansas prison, authorities believe a gang of young thieves and bandits responsible for at least a dozen robberies and hold-ups in this section of the country has been broken up.

Three of the young men held here, Russell Long, 19, Brazil; Henry Hester, 17, Waveland, and Carl Thomas, 23, Hollandburg, Ind., alleged leader of the gang, have confessed. Roney Redenbach, Crawfordsville, admitted taking part in only one job.

Byron Scott, 18, Brazil, a member of this year's Brazil High School graduating class, is held at Greencastle in connection with the thefts, but is expected to be released.

Two in Prison
Frank Dowden, 16, and Earl Carver, 18, of Crawfordsville, both given prison terms in Kansas recently on auto theft charges, are said to have worked with the others. One more youth is expected to be arrested in Brazil.

The thefts confessed were: Robbery of a general store at Milligan, Ind.; hold-up of a man by the name of Plannigan, 80, at Cartersburg, Ind.; robbery of a general store at Spencer, Ind.; of a store and barber shop at Bridgeport, Ind.; of the Sutherland-Cooper store at Putnamville; of a Manito, Ill. store; of an Edgingham, Ill. store; of a Vandallia, Ill. store; of the Early grocery, Greencastle; of the Oscar Knight store at Mt. Meridian, Ind., and of the Overstreet store, Racoon, Ind., and a hold-up at Marshall, Mo.

Long, Thomas, Hester, Dowden and Carver are said to have worked together on most of the jobs, though it is alleged that Long stole seven automobiles and used them in several lone-handed robberies.

From Good Families
The youths are from good families. Those at Crawfordsville were to be charged with auto banditry, according to Police Chief Vernon Shields of this city. The amount of the loot secured on the various jobs has not been estimated.

Arrests were made by Chief of Police Amos Fulk of Brazil, Chief Shields of Crawfordsville and a Waveland, Ind., official.

PRESENT SESSION SETS RECORD FOR NUMBER OF BILLS

More Measures Have Been Tossed Into Congress Than Ever Before.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 7.—What ever other fame it achieves, the present Congress will set up one record that probably will stand for a long time—the number of bills its members poured into the hoppers of House and Senate.

More bills have been introduced this year than in any other single session of Congress, according to veteran employees who have counted them for years.

If all the bills and resolutions were enacted, the treasury would face a deficit of billions of dollars, the country would be dotted with new and strange projects of all kinds, new procedure would be established, and the Constitution would have a new face.

There have been introduced during 134 days of this session a grand total of 16,906 bills, an average of 127 a day, of which 12,550 have been referred to the House and 4,356 to the Senate. This is the record for one session, half of the Sixty-Ninth Congress, and it surpasses that for the whole of the Sixty-Eighth Congress, which was 16,284. At the present rate, the record for the Sixty-Ninth Congress will be 33,910.

Few Pass
Of course members have no idea that any great number of these bills will be passed. To date only 373 bills have been enacted into law this session, slightly over 2 per cent of those proposed.

Bills range from the tax reduction measure to one fixing the price for human blood used in transfusions, from bills to eradicate disease among cattle to Federal supervision of thermometers to protect the health of people, and includes measures to regulate chiropractors, to regulate mediums, to turn over to a Rotary Club in Indiana a bell from a battle ship. Resolutions for probes of various kinds include one to investigate those who criticize Congress.

It is usually the new House member who feeds the hopper most freely. The record in the House this year is held by a new member, Representative Menges of Pennsylvania, who has introduced 100 bills. One of the bills assigned in the record book with 190 bills, all private in character.

Curtis Hold Record
The record in the Senate, however, is held by a veteran, Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican floor leader, who has introduced 309 bills, mostly private claims. His closest rival is a comparative newcomer, Senator Copeland, New York, Democrat, who has presented 205 of which about twenty relate to immigration.

Senator Carber of Kansas has introduced 182. One of the Senate millionaires, Senator Du Pont, Delaware, Republican, is close to the bottom with four.

Eccentricities of members are recorded in the bill files. Representative Lankford, Georgia, Democrat, for instance, openly admits his belief in the good luck of the numbers 7 and 11, and every bill he has introduced, with four exceptions, has one of two numbers in it. He arranges the numbering to this end. For three sessions, another Georgia Democrat, Representative Uphaw, has introduced an amendment to the Constitution for restriction of sectarian schools, and has held it for the same number, 159 in which to date there has been no particular efficacy.

War Blamed
The flood of bills this session is laid to the reduction in the need for major legislation. During the war all minor legislation was shoved aside for war measures, and for four years the private calendar was never called. Hundreds of claim bills have been waiting and are now being brought forward while the general disposition to pay more attention to small measures has encouraged members to bring in many small bills. The majority of bills introduced this session are minor measures.

There is one noticeable tendency in proposed legislation this year, which may be a reaction from the World War, the introduction of numerous bills for inspecting Civil War battlefields in the South to the end of preserving them as national parks, and requests for markers for historical personages and events, such as the proposed monument to Virginia Dare, the first white child born in this country. Congress also passed a bill buying for the Federal Government the famous Oldroyd collection of Lincoln relics.
