DOCTORS AMAZED AT RECUPERATION OF HELEN WILLS

Finest Specimen of Girlhood They've Ever Seen

—Precedent Set.

(Copyright, 1926.)

NEUILLY, France, June 14.—Helen Wills of Berkley, Cal., is the finest specimen of girlhood ever seen by Dr. Thierry de Martel, the greatest surgeon in France, who operated upon the American tennis champion for appendicitis recently.

Dr. de Martel predicts the California will be playing tennis again within four weeks.

Unusual Operation

Dr. Gabriel Maurange, who assisted at the operation, disclosed that Miss Wills' unusual muscular development permitted the removal of an appendix for the first time in the history of French surgery—possibly of the world—without cutting the abdominal muscles.

When Dr. de Martel had made an incision one inch deep and found no fat whatever, he was able to pray aside the right abdominal muscle and reach the appendix underneath, whereas customarily a surgeon is obliged to make a horizontal incision in this muscle, his colleague explained.

Wonderful Athlete

Helen Wills' "poker face" came for more enthusiastic comment from the French physicians. "Your Miss Wills not only is a wonderful athlete," said Dr. Maurange. "She is undoubtedly one of the greatest characters in the world. This has enabled her to convalesce at record speed.

Church Gets Likeness of Late Rev. Allan B. Philpott.

A life-size portrait of the late Rev. Allan B. Philpott was unveiled Sunday at the Central Christian Church, where he served as pastor for twenty-eight years. The painting was covered by a large American Flag, which had been presented to him for services with the State council of defense during the World War.

The portrait was painted by Simon P. Baus and was presented to the church, by U. Z. Wiley on behalf of the Men's Bible Class.

MANY HOMES PUT AT DISPOSAL OF NATION'S CHIEF

President Will Probably Go to Hotel While White House Is Repaired.

Times Washington Bureau, 1322 New York Avenue.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Politics may crush him—eventually—but President Coolidge does not want the White House roof to do it.

While he is occupying the summer White House up in the cool Adirondack woods this summer, the carpenters will repair several of the wooden joists supporting the heavy iron roof of the Washington White House. For the last two or three years this has been considered unsafe, but only within the last month or two has Coolidge's seeming apprehension about his family's safety in the historic old mansion.

Hotel Favored

This work will cost between $325,000 and $400,000. It may not be finished by the time the President returns to Washington this fall. In that case the executive and the first lady of the land are expected to seek quarters in one of the presidential suites in one of Washington's swankiest hotels.

She is survived by four daughters, Misses Emma Lagler, Bertha Lagler and Alma Lagler, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Parker Byers of Gould, Fla., and three sons, Edwin C. and Frank L., of Indianapolis, and Frederick J. Lagler of Dallas, Texas.

United States Flag Flies

Within the shadowed cathedral the great altar heaped with yellow and white flowers, was a blaze of light. A large American flag hung from the organ loft, together with two smaller papal emblems. Four priests raised a canopy above Cardinal Bonzano's head as he moved up the aisle to take his place on the pontifical throne. The other cardinals were seated in antique chairs of crimson plush and gilded wood.

In a brief address Cardinal Bonzano expressed his thanks for the welcome, saying he was deeply touched.

At the cathedral scenes of even greater splendor were enacted. It is estimated that 75,000 were jammed into a few blocks surrounding the Fifth Ave. edifice. Only 5,000 could obtain admittance.

ON PAROLE, HIT BY CAR

Thomas Kempy Charged With Intoxication Second Time.

Thomas Kempy of Frankfort, Ind., a parole violator, is held today on a drunkenness charge under $1,000 bond after he was struck by an auto at Capitol Ave. and Market St., Saturday.

Thursday he was found in an inebriated condition in Military Park and Friday in municipal court was ordered back to the Indiana State Farm, where he was sent to serve time for an intoxication charge. He was taken to terminal station by police, who put him on a traction car bound for Putnamville.

Kempy was granted a parole so that he could visit his wife, who is ill in Frankfort, Ind.

ELKS HOLD SERVICE

Two Surgeons Examined Miss Wills' Heart and Lungs and Found them Perfect, Dr. Maurange Said.

"Like her whole body, they are marvelously well," he added. "She is a splendid example of what sport can do for women. It should encourage all girls to do two things; first, select some sport and play it at moderate speed; second, seek to cultivate such excellent calmness as hers, which is largely responsible for her quick recovery."

"Certainly there are not ten women in all the world whose development would permit such an operation," he continued.

Mrs. W. H. Blodgett was elected president of the Wayne County Society of Indianapolis at its annual picnic at Garfield Park Sunday.

Others elected were: Karl Wolfe, vice-president; Mrs. Effie Hill, secretary, and Mrs. A. F. J. Baur, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren E. Miller will be in charge of the program for the next meet, which will be held at the home of John Shafer, Aug. 7.

Even His Church

Roofs seem to be falling all about the President. The latest is that the First Congregational Church here where he worships, has been closed because the plaster has been falling.

Nothing has been heard about the effects of poison she swallowed.

GOTHAM AWED AT MAGNIFICENCE OF CATHOLIC PARADE

Tremendous Crowds Welcome Cardinal Bonzano Pope's Representative.

By United Press
NEW YORK, June 14.—In glittering pomp and pageantry, Cardinal Bonzano, papal delegate to the forthcoming eucharistic congress in Chicago, moved through tremendous crowds on Fifth Ave., Sunday, to St. Patrick's cathedral, receiving the archdiocesan welcome of Patrick Cardinal Hayes.

In color and brilliance, in glamor of tradition and magnificence of setting the scene was a religious demonstration such as the city had never seen before. More than 200,000 persons held back by lines of foot and mounted police flooded central Manhattan.

As the procession moved through the streets, men and women knelt on side walks and in gutters to receive the blessing of the Pope's representative.

10,000 March

Ten thousand people marched, Military escorts from the 165th regiment, the old 69th, were in line with Father Duffy, fighting chaplain. There were chaplains of the police and fire departments, cadets from Clausen Military Academy and from Catholic schools, Knights of Benedict, Knights of Columbus and members of other Catholic organizations.

Excitement increased as the parade moved through the crowds, but the spectators were not prepared for the overwhelming magnificence of Cardinal Bonzano's entourage. It was preceded by a color guard of
