

PERFECT SCORE MADE BY RUSH COUNTY BANKER

250 Vigilantes Sharpen Aim for Bandits at State Shoot at Fort.

Perfect score of S. Finney, of Rush County, put his county's entrants in the first State shoot of the Indiana Bankers Association in the lead at the conclusion of the first two events today at Ft. Benjamin Harrison rifle range.

Two hundred and fifty vigilantes participated, sharpening their aim for bank bandits. The entrants were winners of local shoots in sixty-two counties, where vigilante organizations have been perfected.

Post officials, headed by Col. George Freeman and Capt. Thornton Chase, assisted association officials and Joseph Ryland, organizer of the State vigilantes committee, bank protective organization, in making the event a success.

Two participants from Delaware County, Sheriff Harry McAuley and Deputy E. B. Basham, flew from Muncie to the fort.

Ideal weather prevailed. Post authorities provided tent shelters from the bright sun, in which lunch was served in Army mess kits. Soldiers handled traffic to the range and kept crowds of spectators out of danger zones. Glowing praise of the cooperation of post authorities was voiced by Miss Forba McDaniel, bankers association secretary.

At the conclusion of the first two events, 100-yard and 200-yard rifle shoot, standing of leading counties by points was as follows:

Rush	158
Henry	150
Marion	130
Elkhart	125
Madison	120
Payette	115
Greene	110
Montgomery	105
Orange	100
Ellettsville	95
Wayne	90

J. W. Hurt of the City Trust Company, one of two Marion County entrants, tied for second place with a score of 49 out of a possible 50 bullseyes. He tied with M. D. Snyder of Noble County.

I. Laird and H. M. Turpin of Henry County tied for third place with a score of 48.

MR. FIXIT

Days of Oliver St. Bridge Numbered.

Let Mr. Fixit present your case to city officials. He is the future representative of the city hall. Write him at the times.

The days of the tumble-down bridge at Olive St. and Pleasant Run Blvd. are numbered, and there will be no mourning among citizens of that part of the city.

DEAR MR. FIXIT: Wish you would inquire from the proper authorities whether they ever intend to tear down that disreputable Olive St. bridge. It has been about half down for ten years and makes a very pretty sight from Shelby St.

The bridge has been useless and an eyesore for years, that's sure. Mr. Fixit has the promise of the street department that they will try to obtain action for you.

DEAR MR. FIXIT: Some time ago when the new street signs were set up, a Holiday sign was put on Nelson Ave. On inquiring we found the street name had not been changed by city council. The cement walks have Nelson Ave. on them. Aside from the confusion the change causes, we who own our own homes do not like it.

RESIDENT OF NELSON AVE. The signs will be removed at once and an effort will be made to substitute the proper street name.

NERVE OF GROCER THWARTS BANDITS

Hold-up Men Fire One Shot on Leaving Store—Resident Loses Tussle With Burglar in Own Home.

An attempted hold-up of a south side grocer, a tussle of a resident with a burglar in his home and minor thefts were investigated today by police and deputy sheriffs.

E. H. Shirley, grocer, Shelbyville Pike and Carson Ave., frustrated two bandits early this morning when he ducked beneath a counter, instead of "sticking 'em up" as ordered by the bandits. He had about $100 in the store.

Fired One Shot
After firing one shot the bandits fled to a parked car. Deputy Sheriff Reagan and Brown said Shirley did not get license number of the car. The men were medium size, about 23, Shirley declared.

Grappling with a burglar in his room, George Gornstein, 262 N. Gray St., for a while put up a winning battle, but the invader finally escaped.

Gornstein was awakened and saw the intruder in his room. Leaping from the bed, Gornstein seized the burglar and tried to overpower him. He was unsuccessful. Gornstein discovered $28 missing.

Use Fishing Pole
A burglar using a ten-foot fishing pole attempted to "hook" purses in the room of Mrs. Joseph Mayer, 1705 College Ave., she told police. A purse containing $11 was "landed" through an open window and found in a vacant lot next door, she said.

Gilbert Hoke, 16, of 26 W. St. Clair St., who works in Cal's lunch wagon, 327 N. Illinois St., told police two young men sold him a watch for $10 and then ordered two sandwiches late Tuesday night. While he was fixing the sandwiches the men picked up the money and watch and fled.

Thievery at Beaches
Thievery has started at the city bathing beaches. Police received stolen bicycles reports from C. E.

SEEK CUSTODY OF BANDIT SUSPECT HELD IN CHICAGO

Wanted for Questioning in Duesenberg Robbery, Haag Murder.

Detective William Rugenstein today left for Chicago to "get in on the ground floor" of the investigation of activities of Hilton (Pizzy Wilzy) Crouch, said to be held in jail there, on charges of banditry.

Inspector Claude M. Worley is making an effort to extradite Crouch, wanted here for questioning in connection with several cases.

Remy to Cooperate
Worley said Prosecutor William H. Remy's office would cooperate in seeking custody of Crouch. Worley conferred with Remy this morning.

Rugenstein was to call Worley tonight and give him the result of his investigation.

Crouch is said to be wanted here on an indictment charging complicity in the pay roll robbery, when $4,800 was taken from employees of the Duesenberg Auto Company, at Washington St. and White River bridge April 17, but no indictment is on file in the Criminal Court. He is suspected of taking part in the murder of Wilkinson Haag, local drug company official, who was shot by hold-up men at the Green Mill barbeque, 3000 E. Thirty-Eighth St., May 17.

Taken After Battle
Inspector Worley would not state definitely whether witnesses to the slaying of Haag, would be taken to Chicago, in an effort to identify Crouch, or his two companions, Steve Hagan and Arthur Bull, who were arrested with him, after a gun battle with the Chicago police, who had been planted to watch the house where they lived.

When they were captured $1,600 was found in Crouch's pocket, and it was charged he and his companions were the bandits who a short time before held up the bank messengers at the Ruetter Bros. Iron Works and escaped with $1,600. It is said they were going to the house where they were captured to divide the loot.

The police, who were laying in wait, wanted Crouch and the other gang members in connection with several other Chicago robberies and for the theft of the auto used here April 17 in the Duesenberg hold up. Crouch at first gave his name as Jack Haynes, but later his real name when confronted with his photograph. He and companions are said to be wanted numerous places for vehicle taking, and in the auto they were using at the time of capture police found 200 false auto license plates.
