

201 FISH, GAME ARRESTS MADE BY WARDENS IN MAY

Numerous Law Violations Reported to Conservation Department.

Fish and game law violators kept Indiana game wardens unusually busy during May, 201 arrests being made necessary because of various infractions of these laws. It was reported to the State conservation department today by George N. Mannfeld, chief.

Out of this large number of arrests 193 convictions were obtained when the cases were taken to court, while seven cases were continued, and only one was dismissed. Fines and costs totaled $4,445.15.

Without License.
Principal violation was hunting and fishing without licenses, fifty-nine persons being arrested for this charge alone.

Forty-one persons were arrested for possessing illegal nets and seines and forty others were charged with taking bass and bluegills during the closed season. Eighteen fishermen were arrested for possessing and using fish spears and an equal number for taking undersize fish.

Dynamite Used.
Four persons were charged with using fish traps and five others with dynamiting, three of whom pleaded guilty immediately. The other two dynamiters remain to be tried.

Mannfeld reported that the crew of wardens now clearing Indiana's lakes of gar and dogfish are meeting with great success. Most at-

NERVOUS, WEAK RUNDOWN LADY NOW PRAISES IT

"Konjola Renewed My Health Wonderful," Local Lady Says.

Life is just a constant drag for countless hundreds of people—they are weak, rundown, nervous and depressed all the time—only half living. This condition is generally due to improper functioning of the stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels. In such a state of health, people are apt to become discouraged and melancholy, but all that is needed in most cases is to get these various internal organs to more normal, healthy action. By invigorating the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the system is bound to undergo a remarkable change. Old metabolic and toxic poisons are eliminated from the system, the food that is eaten begins to nourish the tissues, and a fine, new state of health sets up within a very short time.

Here in Indianapolis, hundreds of men and women are endorsing Konjola, and they say this medicine is renewing their half-sick bodies to a natural, healthy condition. For instance, just recently Mrs. W. E. Carter, popular Indianapolis lady, living at 1717 Bellefontaine St., this city, made the following statement while talking with the Konjola Man, who daily explains the celebrated compound to crowds of people at Hook's drug store, corner Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis.

"Most of my trouble had been caused from a bad condition of the liver and kidneys," said Mrs. Carter. "I was subject to frequent night rising, was nervous, weak and rundown, and always had a headache. Black spots would dance in front of my eyes, and my eyes would water and become red and burn like fire. Sharp, terrific pains would center in my back, so that I couldn't rest at nights, and my nerves were so unstrung that I would be easily excited, and would just tremble and shake at times. I just had to push myself around to get my housework done, and the truth is that I was in a very bad state of health."

"My husband had taken Konjola, and he recommended it to me. I knew this medicine helped him greatly, but my own case was different than his, and I admit that I didn't expect Konjola to help me, for I had come to believe my case was hopeless and was about ready to give up, for everything had failed to relieve me. Well, I was astonished when Konjola seemed to take right hold of my trouble, and it gave me more life in only a few days. I continued with it, and each day I felt better. I enjoy every bite I eat now, instead of feeling nauseated like I was before. I feel so greatly improved that I can go about my housework with more energy, for the back pains are relieved, can rest better at nights and feel refreshed in the mornings. Yes, Konjola renewed my health wonderful, and I owe this medicine a lot of praise and gladly increase it."

The Konjola Man is at Hook's drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given. Konjola is also for sale at every Hook drug store in this city and by all druggists in towns surrounding Indianapolis. Advertisement.

Lad Gains Fame as Singer

Jack Blanco, Shreveport (La.) 4-year-old, has a voice that would do credit to a grown-up. He has won so many prizes in amateur nights at Shreveport theaters that now his parents are planning a professional career for him.

Attention is being directed to lakes where these species are doing damage by eating other fish. The work is being expedited through cooperation of different chapters of the Izaak Walton League.

FAVORS LONGER SEASON FOR BASS

Conservation Officials Want Greater Protection.

Officials of the State conservation department are of the opinion that the closed season on black bass and blue gills should be extended to July 1, in order to include the spawning season, which for a number of years has been from one to two weeks late, owing to the slow advent of warm weather. The present closed season begins April 30 and terminates June 15.

Thousands of blue gills were caught on their nests this year, according to George N. Mannfeld, superintendent of the fish and game department. By extending the protected season these fish would have ample time to complete their spawn, so necessary to the propagation of young fish. According to Mannfeld the 1927 legislature will be asked to extend the closed season sufficiently to care for late spawning.

RATTLING GOOD TEETH

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Mrs. A. G. Fraser accused Miss Mary Hanley of shaking her so hard all her good teeth rattled, so Miss Hanley was put under peace bonds.

ADD ROCK BASS AT HATCHERIES

Popular Demand for Species, Says Mannfeld.

Due to a popular demand for rock bass (goggle-eye), this species was added to the kinds reared at the Bass Lake and Avoca fish hatcheries this year. George N. Mannfeld, conservation department official announced. Formerly this species was propagated only at the Riverside Park hatchery.

No pike-perch eggs were obtainable from neighboring States this year, so Indiana will not propagate this species in 1926, and the equipment at the Tri-Lakes hatchery customarily used for hatching this species, was used this spring in producing yellow perch.

Mannfeld reports production of fish at all State hatcheries as good this season, and indications are that black bass and yellow perch will exceed the number in previous years. At the Tri-Lakes hatchery in Whitely County, 1,215,000 yellow perch fry, and at Indianapolis, several hundred thousand large-mouth black bass fry and 290,000 yellow perch fry had to be planted as such, there being no available ponds to rear them to the fingerling stage. Crowding the fry into ponds usually results in less fingerlings than might be produced if a lesser number had been introduced, he said.

COTTON PLANTER

An attachment for use on cotton planters to assure uniform depth of planting and proper packing of the soil around the seed has been perfected by the United States Department of Agriculture.

HAY COMPARISONS

Tests at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station show alfalfa hay to be a little superior to either soybean hay or clover hay for growing heifers, when liberally fed with corn. Alfalfa, clover or soybean hay fed with corn is capable of supporting better than so-called normal growth, according to experiments.

A Baby in the Home

NO KING on his golden throne demands and receives more homage from his willing subjects than a baby in the home.

The smallest member of the family requires a great deal of attention. Sometimes, in caring for her child, a mother overtaxes her own strength. Particularly when there are other children to work for, she must learn to preserve her health. Then her home becomes a place of order and happiness. She finds time to play with her children and the whole family enjoys the dimpled baby as he grows from day to day.

Many young mothers have learned that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps them to find the strength they need.

Before her marriage, Mrs. R. N. FRANKUM of 3947 Gold St., Omaha, Neb., was a working girl. Like many girls, she sometimes had to stay at home from her work. A friend told her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she found that it relieved her trouble.

She was in good health until her second baby came. "I began to take the Vegetable Compound again," she writes, "and was soon able to do my housework. Now I can say I never felt better in my life. Women ask me what I have been doing and I tell them about your medicine. I feel that I owe a lot to it."
