

WAR EVENTS TO BE RECALLED ON FAIR LEGION DAY

Extensive Program Planned
as Indiana Department Feature.

A number of events reminiscent of the late war are to be a feature of the Indiana State fair program, Sept. 7, which has been officially designated by the state fair board as American Legion day. John H. Klingler, state adjutant, announced today.

A special Legion day program is to be sponsored by the Indiana department and there is being planned for that day a band contest in which State Legion bands of the State will compete; an exhibition of formation flying by an airplane squadron, an exhibition of military tactics and drill by infantry and machine gun companies from Ft. Benjamin Harrison, and an exhibition of captured war trophies.

The winner of the Legion band contest at the State fair will represent the Indiana Department at the Legion national convention at Philadelphia this fall. The preliminaries of the contest will be held at the State Legion convention at Marion, Aug. 30-31. The band contest will be in charge of Herbert Condon of Logansport.

The exhibition of formation flying will be put on by the State Legion committee under the chairmanship of J. W. Ebaugh, State representative.

The State Legion organization also plans to have at the fair a service officer, who will supply information to ex-soldiers, and where disabled ex-service men may take up the matter of compensation claims.

Quarrel Over $80,000 Gem Robbery Is Seen.

By United Press.
CHICAGO, July 14.—Julius Portogues, well known to police, was found shot to death near Niles, a Chicago suburb, early today.

Portogues, police said, specialized in jewel robberies and the theory was advanced that he may have been implicated in the $70,000 robbery of a New York jewelry salesman a few days ago. Police said a quarrel over the spoils may have caused his death.

WOMAN IS IDENTIFIED

Roomer Says Body Is That of Mrs. Kate Elliott.

The body of a woman, found in an unconscious condition near Delaware and Market Sts. Tuesday, who died in the People's Bank building, where she was carried for medical attention, was identified at the city morgue as that of Mrs. Kate Elliott, 921 N. Alabama St.

Charles Nellis, a roomer at the Elliott home, identified the body. Coroner Paul F. Robinson ordered the body taken to Hisey & Titus funeral home, Delaware and St. Joseph Sts., where it will be held pending word from a niece, Miss Elsie Sloan, Los Angeles, Cal.

FIELD DAY PLANNED

State and city officials and distinguished citizens comprise a citizens' committee to aid in the annual field day for the benefit of the firemen and policemen's pension fund, Aug. 20 and 21, at the State fairground, it was announced today. Committees are active now arranging details of the celebration, which will be known as the "Greater Indianapolis field days."

FLETCHER LOAN HEAD STRESSED VALUE OF THRIFT

Systematic Saving Will Enable Person to Own Home, Says Yoke.

Systematic saving will enable any one to own his own home, according to Charles R. Yoke, president of the Fletcher Avenue Savings and Loan Association, 10 E. Market St.

As one of the best established savings and loan companies of Indianapolis, the Fletcher Avenue Savings and Loan Association has made great strides in its development over a period of thirty-five years.

Located in the "heart of the business district," the company is one of the most progressive of the savings and loan associations of Indianapolis.

"Young men should form the habit of systematic savings," said Yoke. "A fixed amount added to an account each month eventually means a nest-egg. In ten years, if only $1 a month is saved, it will mean an accumulation of $120.00. Figuring on a basis of $10 a month, which is systematically saved, a young man will have $1,200.00, with dividends at 6 per cent compounded semi-annually."

Yoke insisted that children should be taught the value of thrift in order to encourage them as they grow older and realize the value of investments.

The Fletcher Avenue Savings and Loan Association has enjoyed a prosperous year and expects to close 1926 with considerable added increases in business volume over 1925.

BIG DEMAND FOR CAMP EQUIPMENT, DECLARES DEALER

Demands for camp equipment are strong at this season indicating a large number of city folks are making plans or are participating in the road pilgrimages of vacations, according to W. H. Thorp of The Thorp Awning Shoppe, 2407 College Ave.

A special feature of the company's line of camping equipment has been the Bed-room tent, a specially-built tent, giving more floor space than the average tent. This tent, he said, is made of water-proof drill and can be put up and taken down in five minutes. It weighs fifty pounds. With a folding pole and metal stakes, convenience in packing the tent, he explained, has made it especially attractive to automobilists on vacation trips.

"When calls are made for camp equipment as they have been made this year, we are certain of an increased tendency on the part of persons in this city and elsewhere to enjoy vacations on the road," said Thorp.

"There was a time when tents were bought largely by the demands of shrewd and stand owners. Occasionally parents bought tents for children, but now the demand shows a tendency on the part of automobile owners to obtain tents as a necessary part of equipment for vacation trips."

Thorp handles other camp equipment, including cot, camp stove, folding tables and chairs. Only tested lines are goods are kept in stock by his company, he said, and all camping goods are guaranteed.

The company enjoyed a splendid summer months and a fairly good business in that department is being enjoyed at present, although most of the awning buying is done earlier in the season, he said.

Combination Convenience Charm and Comfort in Home

New De Witt Young home

Comfort, convenience and charm are embodied in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. De Witt Young, 5831 Guilford Ave., built and designed by Mr. Young's father, Alfred Young, of Cold Springs Rd., a veteran home builder of Indianapolis.

The new Young home is situated in the heart of one of the most attractive residence sections of Indianapolis, surrounded by majestic trees. The house is located in a cleared area, on a high and well-drained double-terrace. It has five rooms and a sun-porch on the first floor and two rooms on the second floor.

Built of selected materials and designed for home convenience, the new house has a number of interesting features. Entrance to the house is from a spacious brick and cement porch on the northwest corner into the large living room, which is well lighted and ventilated by triple windows on the west side. A large dark brick fireplace with a dark tile hearth adds a special note of comfort to the room.

Special Riddle lighting fixtures, giving an amber light as well as a white one, and side lights, have been installed. In the fireplace corner has been built a section of bookcases. The room is prepared in tapestry gray.

Leads to Sun Porch
An arched doorway leads into a pretty room to the east. The dining room is especially large. A low window seat, which serves as a linen storage compartment flanked by built-in buffets, occupies the south side below the triple leaded glass windows.

To the east is a large, light willow green-finished kitchen with a breakfast nook. The floor is laid with a block-design linoleum to match the wall tint. A kitchen cabinet is built in on the south wall with a sink below the south window. Plenty of storage space for vegetables and foodstuffs has been provided in the cabinet. The kitchen is equipped with an electric range.

Two Bedrooms
On the north side of the first floor are two bedrooms with connecting hall and bath. The front bedroom is finished in deep ivory, while the rear bedroom is used as a nursery. The doors are of gum finished in walnut.

The nursery is decorated with panels of children pictures. The bathroom is finished in lightening white lower and upper and robin blue ceiling and dropwall. Special lighting effects have been installed. A large medicine cabinet is built into the wall. Plenty of space for storage of linens and bath supplies has been provided in the bathroom entrance.

The second floor bedrooms are large, well-ventilated with dormer and side windows, and equipped with large clothes closets.

The basement contains a laundry room, equipped with tubs, a drying room, storage space, a shower room and coal-bins. The house is heated with a Parquet furnace.

On the rear of the lot is a large frame garage. The house is located in Forest Hills addition.

EXCLUSIVENESS

A house is more than just a place to live. It is more than a safe and permanent abode for the family. When our circumstances permit, we refuse to live in one of a row of mining town shacks—we like some individuality in our home as in our dress.

Haskett lumber and millwork makes possible a certain exclusiveness which the home of character should have. Our home is one castle. We want it to have individuality, without losing its hospitable air.

Haskett lumber and millwork has about it the air of solidity and worth. It gives character to the whole structure—a home that stands out. A home that will be the envy of those who live in houses all cast in the same mold.

Haskett quality and service a matter of principle.
