

CITY SANITARY BOARD MEMBER HITS INTEREST

MacFall Syas Pressure Is Being Exerted for Engineer.

Powerful interests, which have received contracts for supplies in the building and maintenance of the $3,500,000 sewage disposal plant are exerting pressure on Russell T. MacFall and City Engineer George G. Schmidt to halt the ousting of C. K. Calvert as plant engineer, MacFall charged today.

MacFall, member of the board of sanitary commissioners, contending that Calvert and his associates are halting completion of the plant, has tried to obtain passage of a board resolution to dismiss Calvert, but has been blocked by defense of Calvert.

Ross, board president, and the inclusion of Schmidt, the other board member.

To Reveal Facts

"I expect to have some interesting data on the motives of persons who would retain the Calvert regime," said MacFall. "I cannot tolerate conditions now prevailing with respect to conduct of the board's affairs."

MacFall scored the lavish expenditures allowed C. H. Hurd, who built the sewage disposal plant. Hurd, he said, drew his salary of $150 a month during two trips to Europe. The board paid the expenses of his last trip, amounting to $700, in August. Hurd went to Europe to investigate the claim of European engineers that the Chicago board of sanitary commissioners had infringed upon their patent rights in construction of a disposal plant there.

Failed to Report

The theory of the jaunt was that the Indianapolis board might be as legally liable for infringement as the Chicago body.

Hurd, MacFall said, has failed to submit a report he agreed to make concerning that trip. He received a leave of absence without pay late in December and has never reported for duty since, according to MacFall.

DUNN WILL ASK ROAD BONDS BID

primary because of his activities in behalf of crushed stone, politicians said.

The State highway commission, with the approval of the Government, bureau of public roads, uses both crushed stone and gravel as the "coarse aggregate" in roads of the rigid type. Proximity to the source of supply is the determining factor.

After the tax board had refused to permit bonds to be sold to cover construction of a road on a basis which that body regarded as "unfair," the county commissioners did not use State specifications. Instead, specifications were changed entirely and bids were asked on a bituminous macadam construction of a non-rigid type in the building of which more stone and asphalt is used than in the rigid type.

Tests made of rigid type roads in which either gravel or crushed stone has been used as the "coarse aggregate" show a variation of less than one-half of one per cent. Such a difference is regarded as inherent in tests.

Easily Deformed

The non-rigid type of road does not have the life length granted concrete roads because of the lack of cement. The surface is easily deformed by traffic and requires more repairs and greater cost of up-keep, according to Government reports.

A check of contracts let by the highway commission in the past year shows an average price of approximately $22,000 per mile for concrete roads. On this basis the three and one-fourth miles to be paved in Tibbs Ave. would cost about $72,000, a sum less than the amount the county commissioners have agreed to pay the Hayes Construction Company for the work.

Local contractors would rather bid on concrete roads in this vicinity where gravel is permitted as the coarse aggregate on account of the many pits in Marion County from which the material can be secured. There are no stone quarries in this county. The nearest quarries are located in Putnam County near Greencastle.

FARE DEFICIT GROWS

Car Company's Reserve Fund to Cover $135,577.09 Loss.

As a result of a heavy loss of receipts by the Indianapolis Street Railway Company during June, the deficit in the company's depreciation reserve fund rose from $108,924.63 to $135,577.09, according to a report filed today with the public service commission. Total receipts for June were $384,582.13, as against $411,234.59 for the same month in 1925, thus increasing the deficit $26,652.46.

The June, 1926, receipts also fell $2,550.59 under those for the same month in 1925.
