Not Right to Foist Franco Crisis on America, Says Earl of Denbigh.

Editor's Note: Ed. L. Keen, vice president and general European manager of the United States, who is writing in Europe today, finds the situation of fair play coming to the assistance of the United States which a certain section of the London Press has vilified as a "shock."

By Ed L. Keen, General European Manager United Press Association

LONDON, July 23.—My friend Logan Fraser, a manufacturer of Piqua, Ohio, who is vacationing in Europe with his family, has just returned to London after a fortnight's motor trip of 1,500 miles through England, Wales and Scotland, during which he conversed with him dreads of Britishers of all classes. "There was not the slightest indication of hostility to Americans," Fraser told me. "We met nothing but the finest courtesy and kindness everywhere. If any of them were sore at America they were too polite to mention it."

Believed Typical Fraser's experience is cited because I have every reason to believe it to be typical of what is being experienced by thousands of other Americans who now are engaged in tours of Great Britain similar to his. As an indication that the British spirit of fair play is being resurrected, subscribers have begun writing to the newspapers protesting against the anti-American campaign of a certain section of the press. For instance, the Times today prominently displays a letter from the Earl of Denbigh in which the Earl says:

"May I express the concern which

SUFFERED WORST FORM OF STOMACH MISERY, SHE SAYS

Bedridden Weeks at a Time; "Konjola Quickly Relieved Me," Says Local Lady.

"There is no doubt in my mind about the power of this new Konjola, for I believe I suffered the worst forms of stomach misery, but I began taking this medicine after everything else failed and now my digestion is perfect and my whole system is benefited," said Mrs. Mary H. Russell, popular Indianapolis lady, living at 1024 East Washington Street, this city, while talking a few days ago with The Konjola Man, who is meeting large crowds daily at the Hook drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets, Indianapolis.

"Yes, I had stomach trouble 10 years, and I would be laid up in bed for weeks at a time," continued Mrs. Russell. "I would have vomiting spells that lasted 3 and 4 days. Nothing I ate would digest or stay in my system. Such quantities of gas would form in my stomach that I felt like I would burst. I would have terrible attacks of cramps, and just double over in pain, and I would have burning spells from my throat down to the pit of my stomach. Awful pains would center in my chest and back, and my heart would pump so hard I became frightened. Worst of all, I couldn't eat a thing that would stay on my stomach and digest right. I lost weight and my health kept going down faster every day."

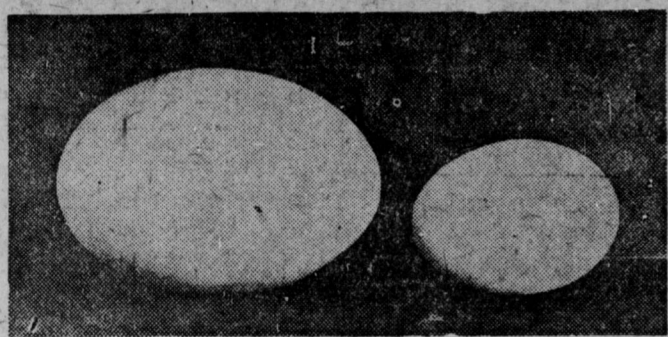

"Now, I have tried about everything possible for my suffering, and when I started Konjola I admit that I didn't expect it to help me any more than the other medicines and treatments. Well, no person could be more surprised than I was the second day. I felt better than I had for a long time, but of course I was still afraid to eat. I kept taking Konjola and a few days later my appetite became almost ravenous. I ate a much larger meal than I ever did in several months, and it digested fine. That gave me confidence, and I improved more and more each day. Now I can eat fried food, beans or just anything that I couldn't think of eating before, and my food is giving me plenty of nourishment, so that I have gained a great deal of weight. I never have the vomiting spells, or cramps, and my digestion seems to be as perfect as anyone could hope for. I have gotten relief from the gas and burning feeling in my throat and chest, and my heart doesn't feel like it is running away as it did before."

"Konjola quickly relieved me of all the stomach suffering, and improved my health in every other way at the same time, so I cheerfully endorse this medicine."

The Konjola Man is at Hook's drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets, Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Konjola is sold in every Hook drug store in Indianapolis and by all druggists in the other towns of this vicinity.—Advertisement.

Bet Other Hens Were Jealous

"Giant" Egg and One of Usual Size.

There are several omelettes in a Warren general store, at Mechanicsburg, where it was sold. The hen which laid the huge egg is of normal size and the eggs she usually lays are no larger than ordinary ones, Sloan said.

I know to be widely felt as to the probable effects of the anti-American campaign. As regards the delay in coming into the war, a point so consistently resurrected, to my mind it is rather wonderful that the Middle West of the United States which is so absolutely "neutral" and parochial in its ideas and mentality and which is peopled largely by a stock essentially non-British and completely divorced from all association with European politics should ever have come into the war at all.

"All this fastening on America of the serious crisis in France is already causing most unwarranted and shortsighted hostility toward large numbers of tourists who benefit France enormously by spending foreign currency for which the French are clamoring when one hears of every hand of the way applause is meted out to the average Frenchman, who successfully evades the tax collector, it seems to me hardly right to foist the whole of the franc crisis onto the United States."

LIQUOR LAW FEE SYSTEM ASSAILED

Remy Rapped for Method of Handling Fund.

The lucrative system through which three deputy attorneys general received $21,544 for prosecuting liquor law violations during the first six months of this year was assailed by Raymond F. Murray, Democratic nominee for prosecutor, at a Twelfth ward Democratic organization meeting at 352 S. Illinois St.

Murray urged placing the officials on a salary basis in order to restrict the profits of prohibition to reasonable sum. "William H. Remy, as Marion County prosecutor, is employed on a salary fixed by statute and can not legally benefit one cent by these fees collected by the deputy attorneys general," Murray said. "What I shall expect Mr. Remy to explain is why this $21,544 was paid by the Marion County clerk to Attorney in Fact Jack Hayes, who lumped the fund, instead of the same being paid direct to the legally appointed deputy attorneys general."

HEAT WAVE HARD UPON MOSQUITOS

Breeding Places of Insects Dried Up, Says Entomologist.

Dry weather may not have its charms, but it certainly serves an admirable purpose in reducing the number of mosquitoes, according to State Entomologist Frank N. Wallace.

During the recent wet spell, a veritable plague of the insects swarmed Indiana, choosing the lake districts as their favorite feeding ground. The resultant howl from vacationists could be heard from one end of the State to the other. No one seemed to know just where they originated. During rainy spells, mosquitoes multiply by the millions. According to Wallace, they choose, rain barrels and cave troughs for their birthplaces. If the eaves become clogged, the mosquitoes flourish. The recent dry spell has served to eliminate their favorite breeding place, Wallace declares.

"If the eaves were to become clogged for a period of twenty days, you'd have a plague of mosquitoes that would make job scratch in his grave," Wallace declared.

BITES HAND THAT FED HIM

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—Nathan Glatt has admitted that he bit the hand which fed him by stealing jewelry from Mrs. Mary Bernath, to whose home he was brought by a young woman with whom he flirted. His attorney told the court that Glatt had aroused sympathy because he was penniless, hungry and out of a job, and had been brought to the Bernath home to live.
