

NEW HOPES FAIL TO CHECK HATE AGAINST YANKEES

French Continue Attacks on Americans Despite Poincare Success.

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, July 24.—France faced its financial problem with new confidence today under the leadership of a National Union cabinet which included six ex-premiers.

Raymond Poincare, heading the new government which was presented to President Doumergue Friday night, has gathered about him a brilliant group of leaders representing a broad background of French opinion. Assured of 300 votes in the chamber as it stands today, there is likelihood that his strength will reach 350 votes.

Despite strengthening of the franc which accompanied word that Poincare had formed a government, hostile demonstrations against foreigners continued.

A crowd along the boulevards Friday night, estimated at 3,000, hooted and jeered sight-seeing cars containing Americans and Englishmen. Two men and one woman were arrested for climbing on the buses and striking foreigners.

A platoon of police were busy chasing crowds away from the tourist agencies and cafes frequented by Americans, but a major anti-American demonstration was held before the Cafe De La Paix, American rendezvous.

Meanwhile extra police guards were placed about the American embassy, the home of Ambassador Herrick and the American consulate as protection from threats from another source. Anarchists, aroused by the Sacco-Vanzetti case in Massachusetts, have sent threatening letters to Herrick.

LORD'S SUPPER TO CLOSE ASSEMBLY

Union Services at Fairview Religious Meeting.

A union Christian Endeavor service at 8 p. m. Sunday, with a Lord's Day Supper service later, will conclude the Fairview Christian Assembly at Fairview Park. The Rev. J. D. Armistead of the Downey Avenue Christian Church will have charge of the supper service.

At 5:30 p. m. today the entire assembly was to have a picnic, with athletic contests for the younger members.

"The people of today are faced with sin, and the magazines of today are saturated with articles on the sin of human life. Such material is not fit for the waste basket," declared the Rev. Harry G. Knowles, pastor of the First Christian Church of Little Rock, Ark., addressing the assembly Friday night. "There is no power in the material things of life to save the soul if you are taken out of touch with the spiritual things," he said.

EX-GAMBLER TO TALK

Man Once Given Death Sentence for Murder Will Preach at Tabernacle.

The Rev. William B. Hall, known as the national prison evangelist, will speak at Cadle Tabernacle, Sunday night.

A professional gambler in the old territory that is now New Mexico, Hall had a fellow gambler in a fight and was sentenced to hang. He lay in a death cell nineteen months in Santa Fe, N. M. While the Federal Supreme Court was considering his appeal, based on the contention that the slaying was wholly justified and partially accidental, he was liberated by the territorial governor.

Since he has been touring the country, addressing convicts and he has preached the gospel in most of the nation's largest prisons, including all the large Federal penitentiaries.

They Did Not Get to See the Mayor

Wives and other women relatives of striking street car men leaving the City Hall after waiting for more than two hours Friday in an unsuccessful attempt to see Mayor Duvall, to ask him to take some part in ending the strike. The mayor left his office by a secret stairway, leaving the women in the outer office. He explained later he "did not know they were there." Mrs. Jeanette O'Brien, 1301 Polk St., leader of the delegation, is the fifth from the left on the front row. She later was arrested by police.

TEST FACED BY WOMAN GOVERNOR

Texas Voters to Decide on 'Ma's' Renomination.

By United Press
DALLAS, Texas, July 24.—Administration of the Nation's first woman "Governor" was on test before Texas voters today in a State-wide primary.

Governor Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson is opposed for nomination on the Democratic ticket by Dan Moody, young attorney general, and Lynch Davidson, Houston, Texas.

At the same time, the Republicans—the minority party—was staging a State-wide primary for the first time, with E. P. Scott of Corpus Christi and Col. H. H. Haines of Houston as candidates.

Texas State law provides that if one candidate does not receive a majority of the votes, a "run off" primary is to be held a month later. It is considered unlikely that any one of the Democratic candidates will receive a majority.

From the start of campaigning there has been a decided fight on "Fergusonism" in Texas politics. Not only have the woman Governor's enemies attacked her, but they have aimed their political charges against ex-Governor James Ferguson, who has made most of the campaign speeches in his battle.

WOMEN PAY VISIT TO COMMISSION

of the commissioners, Chairman John W. McCord and Samuel A. Artman, were not in the building. Frank T. Singleton, the only Republican member of the body, summoned Commissioners Clyde H. Jones and Frank Wampler, Democrats, and asked the delegation to state its cause.

Ask Help

"We are the wives, mothers and sympathizers of the strikers," Mrs. O'Brien began. "We were sent here by some of the best men in the city. We know this is the place where you raise the fares of the street car company and we want your help in raising the wages of the employees. We are not militant and we sincerely hope there will be no demonstration," Mrs. O'Brien declared.

"Can you men help these other men to get together and arbitrate?" she asked.

"We have no authority to initiate any proceedings looking to arbitration," Singleton explained. Other commissioners nodded their assent to the statement.

"Then any petition for a settlement would have to come to you in written form," Mrs. O'Brien asked.

"The public service commission is a body created by statute, which confer limited authority," Jones explained.

Recalls Hearing

Jones recalled the recent hearing before the commission on the strikers' petition for reinstatement and back pay, citing the fact that the former employees had repudiated their working contract and dismissed because of lack of authority.

"You understand, we have no executive authority such as that conferred on the Governor and the mayor, our hands are tied," Jones explained.

"Then there is no use of our taking any more of your time," Mrs. O'Brien said. "I worked day and night for Duvall and he treated us terribly yesterday," she added. Duvall slipped from his office Friday when the delegation of women called on him for assistance in their crusade for peace and higher wages.

"We appreciate your courtesy and are glad to have met three real gentlemen," Mrs. O'Brien continued. "We failed to discover any gentleman yesterday," she declared as the group left the room.

To Go to Terminals

Mrs. O'Brien announced that the group would separate this afternoon and go in smaller bodies to the terminals of the line and try to persuade the employees to abandon their cars.

Mrs. O'Brien's trial on charges of vagrancy, picketing and congregating was postponed until Aug. 6, by Municipal Judge Paul C. Wetter, when she appeared in answer to the charges resulting from a demonstration late Friday in which infuriated women surged around police dispersing strikers on the east side with clubs.

Mrs. O'Brien's home was the scene of a gathering Friday night. A crowd of approximately one hundred persons visited the house to congratulate her.

Relapse Fatal to Publisher

Theodore Randall, 69, publisher of the "Clay Worker" magazine, and prominent in the ceramic industry, who died at the Methodist Hospital late Friday from a relapse, following an operation. Services will be Monday.

ulate her on the stand she had taken in leading the women sympathizers during the day and console her on their failure to see Mayor Duvall, who slipped out a back door of his office to avoid meeting them.

"I think it was cowardly of the mayor," Mrs. O'Brien commented. "I'd like to reply to him that if he didn't know we were there, as he says in the papers, that it was his business, as mayor, to know we were there."

"We went orderly. We didn't go to get a favor. We went to get a settlement of this strike, and I believe it is the mayor's or somebody's business to effect such a settlement. He sneaked away. Isn't that a cowardly spectacle?"

After their failure to see the mayor, the women went to the vicinity of the Highland Ave. car barns. They attempted to persuade men on the cars to get off.

"But we didn't touch them, or pull off their badges or changers or a single move of violence," Mrs. O'Brien declared.

Mayor Duvall today disclaimed all intention of evading the delegation which called at his office in vain Friday.

"I will see a committee of two or three of the mat any time," Duvall said.

Duvall said he was occupied with conferences pertaining to the board of safety's budget during the time of the women's visit and that the only justification he had they were there was a remark by his personal aide, Lieut. Arthur B. McGee, that "there's some women outside to see you."

Five men arrested by police on the W. Washington St. bridge on picketing charges were Earl Griffin, 28, of 1111 S. West St.; Martin Reaney, 42, of 310 N. Senate Ave.; Bert Cox, 29, of 2312 W. McCarty St.; John Barte, 21, of 527 Chase St.; and Alta Deverick, 26, of 704 Fletcher Ave.

Their cases were continued until Aug. 6 in municipal court, together with the cases of Mrs. O'Brien and two men arrested with her Friday.

TARIFF IS ISSUE, DEMOCRATS HOLD

National Committee Also Takes Stand on Vane.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, July 24.—Tariff reform is the foremost issue this year and any "real and lasting farm relief" must come from elimination of the high protective tariff, the National Democratic Committee stated today.

The committee, commenting on the Pennsylvania primary investigation, denounced expenditure of $800,000 by Representative William S. Vare, Republican nominee, and proposed that every nominee for Senator this year be asked to state publicly before the November election whether, if Vare is elected, the nominee would vote to seat him.

The Republicans have helped to make tariff a dominant issue "by their record in the recent Congress on farm relief and by their use of funds forwarded with a free hand by over-protected manufacturers for the corruption of elections," the committee said.

GOVERNOR ASKED TO GIVE PAY

Portland Man Writes Jackson for $100.25 Old-Age Pension.

Not mentioning any names, but Portland is the home town of one man who is so thoroughly wrapped up in the theory of old-age pensions that he believes such a law is in force right now. Recently the aged gentleman wrote a letter to Governor Jackson advising the chief executive that he would need just $103.25 a month the rest of his life to die happy.

No reply forthcoming from Jackson, the Portland man wrote back and casually asked if the payments would begin in July or August.

Just what the 25 cents was for has been a matter of speculation in the Governor's office. It was suggested by some that the two-bits was to cover the cost of monthly postage on letters inquiring about delinquent payments.

IN DAYS OF OUR FOREFATHERS

Women Prepared Their Own Medicines

The wise pioneer women learned to gather, in woods and fields, the remedies the Indians used. From the rafters of colonial houses, hung great bunches of dried roots and herbs. From these, in times of sickness, the busy mother brewed simple and powerful remedies.

From roots and herbs, Lydia E. Pinkham, a descendant of these sturdy pioneers, made her Vegetable Compound. The beneficial effects of this dependable medicine are vouched for by hundreds of women who tell of returning health and energy.

Mrs. Wm. Kraft of 2838 Vinewood Ave., Detroit, Mich., saw a Pinkham advertisement in the "News" one day and made up her mind that she would give the Compound a trial. At that time she was very weak. "After the first bottle," she writes, "I began to feel better and like a new woman after taking six bottles. I recommend it to others and always keep a bottle in the house."

If Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped other women, why shouldn't it help you?

I KILLED MAUER, SAYS CONFESSION OF ROBERT SCOTT

New Tangle in Famous Murder Case—I Lied to Judge, He Says.

By United Press
CHICAGO, July 24.—Hope to escape the gallows for the fifth time was held today by Russell Scott, under sentence to hang for the murder of Joseph Maurer in a drug store holdup.

Robert, his brother, sentenced to life imprisonment when he swore before Judge William Gemmill recently that he did not kill Maurer, has confessed, it is said, that he did fire the fatal shot after all.

Robert's confession, signed in a nearby cell in county jail and witnessed by an assistant jailer, stated that he and Russell entered the loop drug store, where they were served with drinks in the basement. Robert came upstairs to buy a package of cigarettes and argued with Maurer. In the fight that followed, according to the confession, Robert shot Maurer in the back. Russell came up a few minutes later and hustled Robert out of the store into a taxicab. Robert made good his escape, but Russell was arrested the next day.

Robert explained that he lied on the witness stand when he told Judge Gemmill he did not fire the fatal shot because "I knew if I would have admitted it on the stand it would have meant the rope for me."

"I take the full blame and the only charge they could put against Russell," the confession stated, "is necessary after the fact because he helped me get away."

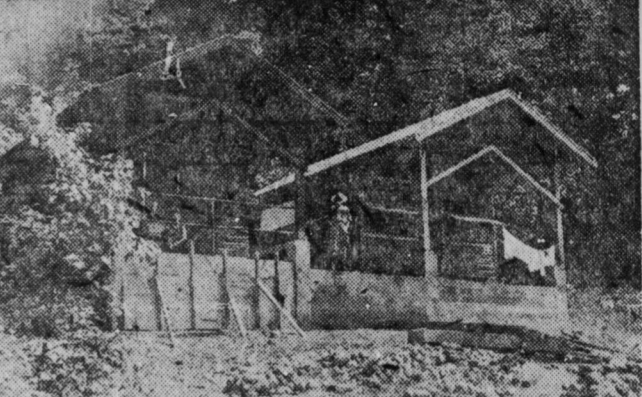

Robert said he confessed because his conscience hurt him because he had made his brother suffer so.

Legal authorities say the case is out of the hands of the court. Even if the confession is true, they say the only hope Russell has is Governor's pardon.

The strip of park on Thirty-Fourth St., from Boulevard Pl. to Illinois St. this evening will be the scene of the fourth annual open-air festival and lawn fete given by Boy Scout Troop 69.

At noon, Scoutmaster Biddinger and Troop Committee Chairman C. S. Swan, with a corps of electricians, started stringing scores of extra electric lights required for the occasion.

A regular old-time carnival atmosphere will prevail, with a large country store, two ice cream booths, a big soft drink stand, several fortune tellers' tents and other stands. The Indianapolis Boy Scout drum and bugle corps, under Scout Executive F. O. Belzer, will play. Other free entertainment will be given.

Proceeds from the festival will be used to finance the troop for the fiscal year beginning Aug. 1. Last year, when a surplus existed, a tent-cabin was erected at the Boy Scout reservation northeast of the city. If a surplus exists this year, some similar work for the good of all Boy Scouts of the city is to be undertaken.

NO ALARM IS FELT

Believe Mexican Mobilization Merely Precautionary.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Press reports of a Mexican "mobilization order" for Aug. 1, were received without alarm by the State and war departments here today.

Other sources believed the reported action was a precautionary measure in connection with possible Catholic protest demonstrations on Aug. 1. The Pope has asked all Catholics to pray on that day for a modification of the Mexican religious laws, which limit activities of the church.

Firemen were kept on the jump Friday by numerous dry grass fires in suburban districts. In several instances the flames threatened houses.
