

ROBINSON FIRM HAS MOST RUM CASE APPEALS

So Show Indiana Supreme Court Records for May Docket.

Is there any incongruity in accepting expense money for making dry speeches and fees for defending men accused of violating the prohibition laws?

The question has been raised by those who have interested themselves in checking appeals of liquor cases, after it had been disclosed in Washington that Arthur Robinson was one of the Senators who had received, either as an "honorarium" or as expense funds, money for delivering addresses under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League, and was known as a member of the law firm which had many liquor law violators as clients.

Indorsed by League

The indorsement of Robinson in the Republican primary by the league was responsible for the inquiry, inasmuch as the league indorsement was later admittedly unfair to other candidates. Especially was this true in the case of Oswald Ryan.

That inquiry led to the records of the Indiana Supreme Court. The May docket of that court showed that the firm of Robinson, Symmes and Nelson, of which the Senator is a member, then had on appeal nine cases of those who had been convicted of liquor law violations.

Other Appeals Withdrawn

The same firm had represented a large number of others who appealed on similar charges, but whose appeals either had been decided or withdrawn so that sentences could be served concurrently.

The significance of the number is not in its total but in the fact that the firm had a larger number of clients who were making appeals on these charges than any other law firm in Marion County.

NEURITIS MADE A DEAD FEELING IN HANDS AND ARMS

Sharp, Terrific Pains in Shoulders; Local Man Tells How Konjola Relieved Him.

In recent years neuritis has become a great foe to the health of American people. Indeed, this affliction is agonizing—the sharp pains may grab the sufferer at any time during the day or night. At other times there may be a dull, numb feeling in various parts of the body where this disease has centered.

It is surprising what this new medical preparation, Konjola, will accomplish in many cases of neuritis suffering. By invigorating the inner organs to healthy action, and stimulating the liver and kidneys, the poisons throughout the system are eliminated; the nerves become stronger, and within a brief space of time, this Konjola brings amazing relief to the neuritis sufferer. Where drugs and heart-weakening chemicals only produce temporary relief, this Konjola seems to go to the very seat of the trouble, and restores a healthy, normal condition in a natural way, so that the pains do not return. Many Indianapolis people have taken Konjola for relieving pains of neuritis, and, in places of complete recovery are reported day after day. Just recently Mr. James Gedling, well known Indianapolis citizen, living at 928 Chadwick St., this city, made the following remarkable statement:

"I had neuritis so bad I couldn't raise my arms," said Mr. Gedling. "The pains would shoot through my shoulders and neck and burn like fire. When I wasn't suffering with these awful sharp, terrific pains, my arms and hands would feel dead—had no life in them at all. I had stomach trouble, as well as neuritis, and was also very badly constipated. Well, besides completely ending my constipation and stomach trouble, this Konjola also defeated my neuritis pains and pains. I want to say it is the first medicine that ever did this for me. I have doctored and taken a lot of different medicines the past four years, but I will tell anyone that Konjola finally put a real stop to my misery. That dead feeling has left my arms and hands. The pains have come in my shoulders and neck any more, and I am glad to say I am free of the misery from which I suffered for a long time. My health is built up in general, and it was Konjola that did it all, so it is a pleasure for me to indorse such a medicine."

The Konjola man is at Hook's drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given. Konjola is sold in every Hook drug store in Indianapolis and by all druggists in the other towns of this vicinity. Advertisement.

criminal appeals from Indianapolis was filed by Alvah Rucker, corporation counsel for the city.

When the Senate investigation committee raised the question of propriety of any member of Congress accepting fees for delivering speeches for causes on which they might be required to vote later, the answer was made that Senator Robinson had accepted only his expenses.

COUNCIL FINANCE MOVES TO BE UP

Matter of Special Committees to Be Questioned.

Whether Boynton J. Moore, city council president, has the legal right to refer financial ordinances to hand-picked committees is a question that will be raised at city council meeting Monday night.

Moore, ignoring Ray Albertson, finance committee chairman, has referred the city controller's request for a $700,000 temporary loan and the board of health's appeal for a $125,000 loan to a special committee, headed by Millard W. Ferguson, Moore's associate in the majority faction, and consisting chiefly of majority members.

The law stipulates that all measures of a financial nature shall be referred to the finance committee.

Four majority faction councilmen, Moore, Ferguson, Otis E. Bartholomew and Walter R. Dorsett, wearying of the fishing at Barber Lake, are touring Eastern cities, but expect to be back here Saturday night. Friends have received communications from Wheeling, W. Va., and Philadelphia, the latter the home of Clarence H. Gelst, owner of the Indianapolis Water Company, which majority faction members hope to buy for the city.

BURIED IN CRASH, LIVES

By United Press
NEW YORK, July 28.—Saved from death by a curious tangle of iron bars, which protected him when he was buried under several tons of steel and iron by the collapse of the floor of a Brooklyn building on which he was working, Rocco Valenti was pulled from peril by block and tackle, and today but for slight bruises, was none the worse for his fall.

REHEARING UPON TAX NOT LIKELY

Bosson Gives Opinion on Western Electric Case.

The probability of a rehearing being granted to the State tax board by the Supreme Court in the case of the Western Electric Company, which brought suit for a refund of excess taxes paid under the horizontal increase over the State ordered by the tax board in 1920, is unlikely, according to William A. Bosson, Indianapolis attorney, today. The Supreme Court has in three opinions upheld the decisions of the Marion Circuit Court that the excess taxes were illegal, because it is mandatory that notice of the increase be given taxpayers, Bobby said.

The decision affects a number of counties in the State where notice of the increase was not given. Several millions collected in taxes is involved.

In Marion County, while the first case testing legality of the increase was pending, an agreement was reached that taxes paid under protest would be credited on the second tax payment of 1920 if held illegal, Bosson said. The case was not decided until after time for the second payment.
