

PROTEST AGAINST SHUMAKER PAPERS

Attorney General and Aids File New Brief.

Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliam and Solicitor General William H. Thompson, who are assisting in the contempt proceedings against E. S. Shumaker, Indiana Anti-Saloon League Superintendent, Wednesday filed strenuous protest against the acceptance by the court of the last two documents filed by attorneys for the defendant.

The brief filed by Gilliam sets out that the issues in the case have been closed and that the papers filed by the Shumaker attorneys do not raise a new issue and are only a repetition of previous papers. The brief protests against their acceptance for the reason that it would only further encumber the court records.

In the brief, attorneys for the State say that they will file the State's final brief as soon as possible.

ANOTHER POPULAR LADY IS PRAISING THE NEW KONJOLA

"It Restored My Health in Every Way," Declares This Indianapolis Lady.

"Wherever introduced, Konjola has become a sensation and this medicine has received the same public praise in other cities. I have visited, just like it is being praised day after day by men and women right here in Indianapolis," said

MRS. CLARA VEST

The Konjola Man yesterday at Hook's drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets, this city, where large crowds of local people call throughout the day to hear his personal explanation of this celebrated new medical product.

The great fame of Konjola is due largely to the beneficial effect which this medicine has upon such important organs as the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Many people who have taken this compound say there is nothing like it to relieve and restore a normal condition to these parts of the human system, and at the same time produce a new state of health over the body in general. For instance, just a few days ago Mrs. Clara Vest, popular Indianapolis lady, living at 3034 Euclid Avenue, this city, made the following remarkable statement:

"I suffered a great many health troubles before I got Konjola," said Mrs. Vest. "Food would sour in my stomach, and cause vomiting spells, and after meals I had a hot, feverish sensation all thru my chest and stomach. My liver was sluggish and this caused me to have bilious attacks, and sick, dizzy headaches. I was also troubled with weak kidneys and was subject to pains in my back that felt like a knife cutting me. My limbs were always stiff, so that I had to limp when I walked and some mornings I couldn't get out of bed until almost noon. I would ache all over and could hardly move. I had to see each day come, because I was just dragging along, seemed to be getting worse instead of better, and my cheeks were sallow and I had a very yellow complexion."

"Then so many people told me about Konjola, and when I found out this medicine was made from roots and herbs, I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I could see a great change in my whole system. Now I am completely relieved of the stomach trouble, and my liver and kidneys are in good working order. I enjoy everything I eat, and I know that my food is building up my strength and digesting as it should, for I have gained a lot of weight and my complexion is healthy. I am relieved of the bilious attacks, sick headaches and dizzy spells. The pains have disappeared from my back and my limbs are not stiff and achy and I always feel good, because Konjola has restored my health in every way, so I gladly endorse it."

The Konjola Man is at Hook's drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets, Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Konjola is sold in every Hook drug store in Indianapolis and by all other druggists in surrounding towns.

MOTHER OF TEN WANTS 'JIM' MOST

But River Takes Boy, Age 15—Negro Lad Also Drowns.

Even though God gave her nine healthy youngsters besides "Jim," Mrs. Andrew Linder, 1619 Wilcox St., could not reconcile herself today to the idea that she could "spare" James, 15.

Police dragged from White River late Wednesday the water-logged body of "Jim," the season's fourteenth victim of drowning in the county. The undertaker brought him home this morning. He was the second boy to drown Wednesday.

"I couldn't spare Jim," Around the hysterically grief-stricken mother, usually calm and reserved, being of Kentucky mountain stock, gathered James' five brothers and four sisters.

"If all the children in the world were mine," she said, "I couldn't spare Jim."

The presence of Lawrence, Clarence, Roy, Mitchell, Jewett, Lena, Viola, Irene and Pearl was no consolation.

Burial in Kentucky

Plans were being made to take the body to the family's old home in Hardin County, Kentucky, for burial. James drowned about 400 yards east of his home and three blocks north of the W. Michigan St. bridge. He had ventured to the middle of the river in a boat with a playmate, Oda Martin, 15, of 1618 Wilcox St. The boat capsized. The companion swam to safety. A brother of the boy who escaped, Calvin Martin, 14, had been with the lads a short time before.

Darker in the day, using grappling hooks, police recovered the body of Stanley Morris, 11, Negro, of 910 S. Pennsylvania St., who drowned swimming in the Canal near West St.

DRIVER WHO FLED STILL AT LARGE

Little Girl, Struck by Auto, Improves.

Though police know the name of the "hit and run" driver, whose auto struck and seriously injured Martha Bennett, 9, of 524 S. East St., near her home late Tuesday, he had not been arrested today, more than twenty-four hours after officers learned his identity.

Sergeant Owens and Trafficman Hyde of the accident prevention bureau visited all the places the man usually frequents, but could find no trace of him. Meanwhile the injured child was improving at city hospital and doctors say she probably will recover.

According to police the man was driving a borrowed auto. They have talked to the owner of the machine.
