

PROTESTANT FATE IN MEXICO TO BE SETTLED SUNDAY

Pastor Takes Stand Religious Law Does Not Affect His Church.

By United Press
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 5.—Position of Protestant clergymen under the anti-religious laws is expected to be clarified here Sunday when William Evan Thomas, American minister of the "Union Evangelical" Church, will preach on the theory that since the church does not include a confessional, the laws should not apply.

It is expected that his act will precipitate a final disposition of the situation of Protestant ministers and their churches.

Meanwhile minor demonstrations are reported as the struggle between church and state settles into an uncompromising deadlock. Guadalupe Catholics reported two killed and fifteen wounded in rioting Tuesday at the Church of St. Guadalupe when police and soldiers tried to disperse a crowd.

Firemen were called out here Wednesday night when 200 persons demanded admittance to the Esperanza Iris Theater, where Luis Leon, secretary of agriculture, and Manuel Herra Lasso, a prominent Catholic attorney, were debating the religious controversy.

Other developments today were: Gendarmes guarded the home of Archbishop Mora Del Rio.

Secretary of Finance Paul authorized the United Press to deny reports that there had been a run on the banks and that a panic was possible.

President Calles pledged himself and his government to uncompromising enforcement of the religious laws in a sharp reply to President Kaula of Peru, who had urged Calles to find a harmonious settlement of the dispute.

Bishop Pascual Diaz reaffirmed his statement that no compromise settlement was imminent, explaining that the church would talk peace only on the stipulated conditions which the government showed no disposition to accept.

A papal letter condemning the religious laws was made public.

IT IS WONDERFUL THE WAY KONJOLA RELIEVES PAINS

Well-Known Local Man
Surprised at the Action of This New Medicine.

Among the many prominent Indianapolis citizens who are publicly endorsing this celebrated new Konjola compound, probably none is better known than Mr. Harry Barlow, who is Stage Manager at Broad Ripple Park, living at 929 Locke Street, Indianapolis.

MR. HARRY BARLOW

"I think it is wonderful the way Konjola relieves pains," said Mr. Barlow in his statement to the Konjola Man, who is at Hook's Drug Store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets, this city, where he is meeting large crowds of people daily and explaining this remarkable medicine.

"My first touch of pain appeared when I was on a hunting trip last March, a year ago," said Mr. Barlow. "My right hand began to hurt, and before I could get home my fingers were so swollen and cramped I couldn't close my hand. The pain was terrible—just felt like my hand was in a vise. I got medical attention, and tried various remedies, but nothing would ease up that awful pain. Never a day passed that I wasn't in misery. I lost the use of my right hand completely, and finally a knot raised on my wrist as large as a hen's egg. I was certainly worried, and for over a year I was victim to this suffering and discomfort.

"I read the papers and became interested in the way so many Indianapolis people were endorsing Konjola. I started taking this medicine myself and it was the one and only step I ever took that actually ended that pain and misery. I can use my hand just as well as anybody now, and the knot has gone from my wrist. Konjola has done what a great many other things failed to do for me, and I feel that a medicine which will give such wonderful relief is worthy of praise. It is a pleasure to endorse this Konjola for the wonderful help it has been to me, because I know what helped me will help others."

The Konjola Man is at Hook's Drug Store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets, Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Konjola is also for sale by every Hook Drug Store in this city, and by all druggists in out-of-town.

LADY ASTOR HOME

was given today in Commerce Department reports from the southern republic showing a "downward trend" in business and trade.

Department economic experts view continuance of the depression as inevitable if the Catholics continue their refusal to buy anything except absolute necessities.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover and his experts are watching the struggle very closely, concerned because of the effect a long-drawn-out Mexican trade slump invariably would have on American trade. American exports to Mexico totaled $144,717,000 in 1925 and imports from there were $178,835,000, both figures 7 per cent higher than in 1924.

Automobiles and motor accessories made up much of the export increase. This trade probably will be hit first.

Woman Holds Record for Lighting "Fags"

Mrs. F. S. Herdless, 940 McCarty St., today holds the honor of being the "champion" woman cigarette lighter of Indianapolis.

She won the honor Wednesday at the community picnic at Garfield park given by the Southeastern Business Men's Association.

But she didn't light the cigarette in her own mouth. Trenton Sanders, 1625 E. Southern Ave., held the "fag" between his lips when she applied the match.

Ten women took part. They were lined up fifty feet away from a line of ten men, each with a cigarette. At the signal the women, each with three matches, raced to the line of men, lighted or attempted to light the cigarette of her partner.

Clothes hanging contest was other unique part of the program. Harry Miedema, 1702 Barth Ave., won in the married men's class; Miss Iline Elliott, 30 Garfield Ce., in the single women's class, and Mrs. Edna Elliott, same address, in the married women's class.

Prizes for the twenty contests were donated by Fountain Square merchants.

"Protection of the country through intelligent jury service is just as important as protection through military service. What group do you belong to?"

Charleston Wins Social Place

By United Press
LONDON, Aug. 5.—Mrs. James W. Corrigan of Washington and New York has won the first round in her triangular battle with Mrs. Harry Brown of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Arthur Glasgow of New York for social supremacy in the "American season" in London.

She gave a cabaret dinner the other night to which she invited seventy distinguished guests. She furnished the dinner; the guests furnished the cabaret. She and the Spanish ambassador occupied, in burlesque splendor, a raised dais, while the guests, variously costumed, pitted themselves against each other in amusing "turns." At the conclusion Mrs. Corrigan gave an exhibition of the Charleston, in all its nuances.

Joritsma found sympathy in the company of Mrs. Louis Long, mother of two children. They eloped, first going to Indiana and later to Sheboygan Falls, Wis., where they were arrested Monday.
