

HEADQUARTERS OF LODGE IS SOUGHT

Hoosiers Ask K. of P. Offices Be Located Here.

Efforts to secure establishment of permanent headquarters of the Knights of Pythias supreme lodge in Indianapolis were made by five Hoosiers at the order's biennial convention in Chicago today.

Washington, Minneapolis and Chicago lodges, also are fighting for establishment of the headquarters in their cities.

Indiana delegates to the convention are Thomas L. Neal, and Harvey Thompson, Indianapolis; Elmer Bassett, Shelbyville; Ralph W. Gaylor, Mishawaka, and Dr. Frank Priest, Marion.

The lodge's insurance department is located here, in buildings owned by the order at Massachusetts Ave. and Pennsylvania Sts., and Meridian and St. Joseph Sts. The fraternal headquarters are in Minneapolis.

If Chicago or Washington wins the headquarters the lodge will construct a $2,000,000 building for them, it is understood, whereas if Indianapolis or Minneapolis win, the permanent headquarters will be established in buildings already owned by the lodge.

The insurance department occupies only a few rooms of the eleven-story building at Massachusetts Ave. and Pennsylvania St.

PLAN PILOTS' DINNER

Citizens to Witness Arrival of Reliability Planes.

Invitations to citizens to attend a banquet in honor of the pilots and passengers in the second airplane reliability tour for the Edsel B. Ford trophy, at the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday night, following the arrival of the planes here were being prepared by the chamber and real estate board officers today.

The banquet is one of four major events the organizations have planned. A reception committee of more than 100 members will greet the fliers at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway at 12:30, where the planes will be parked for public inspection until 10 p. m. Wednesday, when they leave for Cincinnati.

A luncheon will be accorded the guests at the Prest-O-Lite factory near by. Wednesday morning the fliers will have breakfast at the Chamber of Commerce.

Has No Sign of Asthma Now

Says Wheeze and Cough Entirely Gone. Tells What Did It.

For the benefit of asthma sufferers, Mr. Charles Dean, 9104 Virginia avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., tells how he got entirely rid of this stubborn disease. Mr. Dean says:

"I began having asthma in 1912. It kept getting worse, and couldn't do a day's work. I would wheeze and choke and if I walked a square, I had to lean against a post and rest. In October, 1925, I began taking Nacor. Relief came very promptly, and I continued to improve, gaining 13 pounds in weight. I feel perfectly well again and can say that Nacor is the only medicine that ever brought me relief."

Hundreds of other sufferers from asthma, bronchitis and severe chronic coughs have reported their recovery after years of affliction. Their letters and a booklet full of valuable information about these stubborn diseases will be sent free by Nacor Medicine Co., 415 State Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind. No matter how serious your case seems, call or write for this free booklet today. It may give your whole life a new meaning.—Advertisement.

"I Wanted Adventure"

The Story of a Girl Who Craved Thrills

MEG was dissatisfied and restless. Adventure! That was the thing she wanted. If only something would happen! Then something did. Betty, a former school-girl friend, returned from Florida.

"It's frightfully thrilling down there," she told Meg. "Come back with me. You'll have the time of your life." Today, Meg wishes she had listened to the sober advice of her parents and friends.

If anyone had foretold the terrible cyclone of events that was to sweep her into its clutches in Florida, she would have blazed with incredulous fury and scorn. Starting with what seemed a perfectly innocent friendship with a man she thought was the soul of honor, she soon found herself confronted by one of the most hideous situations a girl was ever compelled to face.

Except for a disguising of names, Meg gives a vividly frank account of her dreadful experience under the title, "I Wanted Adventure," in the September issue of True Story Magazine. It is a thrilling, startling, heart-throbbing narrative. And it drives home a powerful lesson that no reader will ever forget.

Other Thrilling Features in September True Story Are:

"I'm"—Grace loved David madly, though he was engaged to another girl. But in her determination to win him, she overlooked the fact that one cannot trample on the hearts of others and win happiness. Read what happened as a result.

"The Unguided Girl"—To be singled out by a famous doctor as his special friend seemed very romantic and exciting to Helen. But this friendship was to involve her in a tangled skein of events that was to completely alter her life.

Clergyman Recommends True Story to Parents

I have read True Story many times. This magazine is just the thing we need today. Our young people are anxious to know the real experiences of others. They get it in a clean, decent, moral way in True Story.

True Story omits nothing, does away with all that is sordid and leaves a picture of all that is beautiful and wholesome. You are certainly to be congratulated in attaining to such a position in the literary world, because your problem is difficult.

I unhesitatingly recommend it to mothers and fathers who have the peculiar problem of young men and young women on their hands.

Respectfully,
Auburn, R.I. Rev. William H. Jordan.

Other Heart Throbbing Narratives in the September Issue:

"I Was a Fool!" "From Out of the Past" "Her Temptation" "The Courage of Love" "Folly's Plaything" "Dangerous Folly" And 8 Other Big Features
