WEDDINGS
BETROTHALS

Mrs. Robert Ittenbach, 2050 N. Alabama St., entertained with three tables of bridge at her home today. Yellow and pink flowers decorated the tables and the confections were frozen in flower shapes of the two colors.

The guests were Mesdames Ralph Franklin, William Baker, A. M. Lawson, Jack Adams, Fred Pahud, John A. White, M. T. Shanberger, Gall Eldridge, Ed G. Gaston, L. L. McWhorter, Emerson Eldridge and Robert Hopkins.

A "Superstitious Hop" will be given at the Meridian Hills Country Club Friday night by the Delta Zeta sorority of Butler University. Miss Dorothy Duesenberg is rush captain for the season and will be assisted by Misses Pearl Bartley, Harriett Kistner and Eldena Stamm.

Chaperons for the dance will be Messrs. and Mesdames Harry A. Condit, Robert Armstrong, Otto F. Schlenker, Benjamin Franklin Howard, Harry H. Coburn, August A. Duesenberg, Harry Kerr and Thomas Grinslade.

In honor of Miss Rosalind Barnes of Detroit, Mich., the house guest of Mrs. Edward A. Lawson, Mrs. Leonard A. Murchison entertained with a luncheon-bridge at the home of her mother, Mrs. Edwin R. Schreiner, 4226 Carrollton Ave., Wednesday.

Marigolds and delphinium were floral decorations and the tables were arranged with centerpieces of the flowers. Favors were yellow baskets filled with confections in the two colors. The hostess was assisted by her mother, guests included Mesdames Grace Pohlman, Harold Platt, Charles E. Sande, E. R. Glidhaus, Louis R. Markum, Harold Pierce, John Miller, P. C. Miller, Hans Cohen, L. E. Degginger of Chicago; Edward A. Lawson, Ross F. Johnson Sr., Jewell Irwin and Miss Leola Miller.

A pretty church wedding took place early Wednesday evening when Miss Margaret Alice Welford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bliny E. Welford, 361 Burgess Ave., was married to Donald F. Le Fuzé at the Irvington Presbyterian Church. The Rev. William W. Carson of the Traub Memorial Presbyterian Church officiated.

The church was decorated with ferns and palms and the altar was lighted with soft glowing candles. Mrs. James Loomis, organist, played bridal airs and Mrs. Roy Metzger of Lebanon sang "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "Thema Prayer."

The bride was attended by Miss Mary Louise Mann, maid of honor. Little Mary Helen Hinchey was flower girl and carried a basket of roses and white lilies. Harold D. La Fuzé was best man and the ushers were Carl Vandivere and Coburn Scholls.

Lovely in a gown of blue crepe Elizabeth, trimmed in silver, the bride was given away by her father. She wore a large picture hat of blue and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Le Fuzé left on a cruise of the Great Lakes and will be at home after their return at 5319 E. Washington St. The bride is a graduate of Butler University and is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. The groom is a member of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity.

Miss Fern Bertels, who will be married to Henry Hollenbeck at the Centenary Christian Church, Aug. 25, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by the Indiana Beta chapter of the Delta Sigma sorority Wednesday evening. Decorations were in the sorority colors of lavender and pink and the bride-elect's gifts were presented in a chest, decorated with lavender and pink tulle. The committee in charge of the shower included Mrs. Frances Aufderheide and Miss Elsie Davidson.

Guests were Mesdames Robert Bowser, William M. King of Haynes City, Fla.; Richard Calkins, C. E.

'Ticked to Death—Almost Says, Youth

"Ticked to death," was a near reality for Willard Yarbro, 16, Negro, 1317 E. Fifteenth St., Motor policemen William Clark reported today.

Clark said Yarbro told him a gang grabbed him and tickled him until he was unconscious. He had recovered, with no ill effects, before police arrived. No arrests were made.

TWO GIRLS DROWNED

Season's Toll at Cedar Lake Mounts to Four.

By United Press
GARY, Ind., Aug. 12.—The death toll at Cedar Lake today stood at four drownings this season, following the deaths of Elsie Kara, 11, Chicago, and Della Sulista, 8, Crown Point, Wednesday night.

The two girls waded beyond their depth and drowned while other vacationists made futile efforts to save them.

It was the third drowning in the lake within twenty-four hours.

Design No. 2718. Simple new design for little girls of 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years, with slightly flaring hemline. It is fashioned of a dainty chamois—a tan ground with Copenhagen blue flowers. White organza is used for the collar and tie that cut in one. Mother will be delighted with this design, too, because it is so very easy to make. Just side and shoulder seams to sew! Several dresses could be cut out and made in a single afternoon. For instance, one of rose linen, one of green voile, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Breakfast—Blackberries, cereal, thin cream, soft cooked eggs, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Jellied veal loaf, brown bread and butter sandwiches, peach salad, milk, tea.

Dinner—Broiled sirloin steak, mashed potatoes, fried summer squash, lettuce and tomato salad, whole wheat bread, watermelon cones, mock angel cake, milk, coffee.

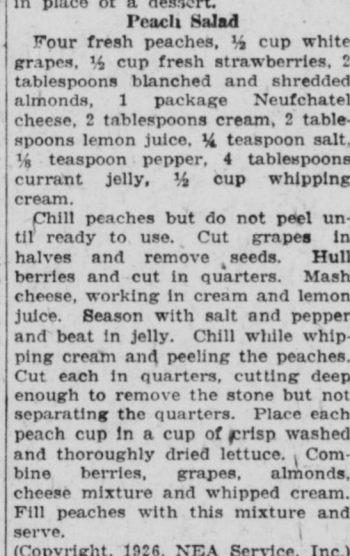

Children under 10 years of age will not eat the squash suggested in the dinner menu, but they will find enough variety in the rest of the meal to satisfy them.

Peach Salad is an unusually delicious fruit salad that can be used in place of a dessert.

Peach Salad
Four fresh peaches, 1/2 cup white grapes, 1/2 cup fresh strawberries, 2 tablespoons blanched and shredded almonds, 1 package Neufchatel cheese, 2 tablespoons cream, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons currant jelly, 1/2 cup whipping cream.

Chill peaches but do not peel until ready to use. Cut grapes in halves and remove seeds. Hull berries and cut in quarters. Mash cheese, working in cream and lemon juice. Season with salt and pepper and beat in jelly. Chill while whipping cream and peeling the peaches. Cut each in quarters, cutting deep enough to remove the stone but not separating the quarters. Place each peach cup in a cup of crisp washed and thoroughly dried lettuce. Combine berries, grapes, almonds, cheese mixture and whipped cream. Fill peaches with this mixture and serve.

PRESERVED BLACKBERRIES

Four pounds of blackberries, four pounds of sugar. Look the berries over carefully, then wash them. Cover with the sugar and let stand two hours. Simmer until they begin to boil. Then boil for one minute and cool. Bring to the boiling point again and boil for one minute. Pour into sterilized jars, first the fruit then the juice, and seal while hot.

Never a Marcel Wave

By Edna Wallace Hopper
My hair is ever-curling, with never a Marcel wave. And it always has a glow. The reason lies in a hair dress made exclusively for me. It was perfected for me by great experts when I had my long hair bobbed. Now all toilet counters supply it under the name Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75c.

I cannot conceive of a girl or woman going without it when she knows. No one else I have ever found makes hair so lustrous, so wavy, so fluffy, so abundant. My guarantee is enclosed with every bottle, so it costs you nothing if it doesn't please. Go try it at my expense.

A Story of a Girl of Today

JERRY ADVISES
I noticed that Jerry looked rather queer during Joan's long explanation and description of her brother.

As she went to telephone to the hospital for a late report of Lela I asked him what he was worrying about.

"I am not worrying very much," he said, "but I think it will take somewhat longer than Miss Meredith expects to get the property settled up unless her attorney has been working on it for some time. It looks rather strange to me that he has not served some sort of notice on her and her brother that on such a day a settlement of accounting would be made."

"I think, Judy, my dear, that you have projected yourself into a new job already."

As Jerry said this, that queer little crooked smile, which always gave me a tiny heart throb, curled up at the corner of his mouth, and I knew he was much relieved at the thought that for some weeks at least we would not go abroad.

"I shall advise," he said, "that tomorrow you and Miss Meredith go to Mr. Elkins and ask when the accounting will be ready. If you see or hear anything that you think is at all dubious, manage to telephone to my father's office. I will be there most of the morning and I will immediately interest Dad in the matter."

"But, Jerry," I remonstrated, "are you sure that you want to tell your father. You know he is a friend of Mr. Robinson's. Why, I really got my job at the Morton Department Store, because I mentioned your father's name."

"No, you didn't, my dear. You got your job at Morton's because that old fool liked your looks. My father isn't such a friend of that man that you need to worry about him."

"You've never understood Dad, Judy. And by the way, dear, there are lots of things about life you have yet to learn. I love your courage and enthusiasm and your undaunted way of marching into things, but I have worried myself sick since I have known you for fear that you would 'come a cropper.' Dad is a pretty good old scout."

"Why, Jerry, I don't see how you can say that. You know what he told me about you."

"Yes, yes, I know. He told you all those things about me, for he knew I was in love with you and he didn't want you to marry me. You see, my dear, Dad's wife—and my mother, more is the pity—deserted him and me when I was only a year old; consequently, Dad thinks that I would be committing something worse than harl kari to marry any one."

"Love 'em and leave 'em" is poor mistaken Dad's motto. But you can hardly blame him, can you? (Copyright, 1926, By NEA Service.)

NEXT—A New Job.

HERE'S WHEN A MAN DISHONORS HONOR

What a selfish, blood-thirsty thing is a man's "honor!" For the sake of his "honor" he will commit murder, drag a woman through the mud of public condemnation—and be proud of himself!

Mistakes that would cover themselves up with the ivy vines of time are thereby stripped naked in the press and held forth in all their ugliness to the public gaze—for the sake of a man or woman's "honor." Bah! Yes, there are things a man deserves to die for. There are such things as murder and wilful and malicious cheating that need to be exposed. But this thing of administering justice where it will hurt the victim more than the persecutor—because of "honor" is a needless mistake.

Take this girl's story below. Why should she be dragged through the mud, her name forever imbedded in the public mind to save indignant male relatives "honor?" The affair will blow over, be forgotten inside of a month or two if they treat it as too contemptible to care about. But she will be as long as she lives bound in the stocks of public curiosity if her relatives take the methods they want to.

Scandal
Dear Martha Lee: I am in deep trouble and want your advice as soon as possible. A dirty liar, a young man in our neighborhood, has drubbed about my character that are just rotten and absolutely untrue. He saw me coming out of a house that has a bad reputation where I went quite innocently selling the things I sell from house to house. I had no idea it was that kind of a house, and when I saw the man I was so shocked that I last night they swore they'd kill him. They said it was duty to the honor of the family to do it. Mother and I have talked our heads off to keep them from it, but nothing seems to budge them. What can I do?

You can shame them, Melissa. You can ridicule the kind of love they bear you that would stamp your name in black and white as "he woman over whom Jack So and So was killed in a brawl." And though the explanation may be ever so clear—the stink remains. The man's a cad and a rotter, and the less you have to do with him the better. Perhaps you came out of the house just about the same time he was intending to go in, and he hopes by giving you a black eye he can keep you from saying anything about him. If that's the case he's just tied a rope around his neck himself, for anybody would naturally wonder about him. "Well, what were you doing in that neighborhood?" You had no excuse, except personal desire! Anybody who is anybody despises a rotten cur like that, and he'll find he's gotten himself in a jam by trying to hurt you when you're too far above him even to pay any attention to his carping. And besides, Melissa, tell your brothers that these are not frontier days, when a man's honor was more important than a woman's everlasting reputation, and when he was conveniently passed over as a murderer and freed—because of his "honor," while the woman went through life black with scandal. Today, murder is murder, and punished as such. They'll hang for it or, worse, go to prison for the rest of their lives.

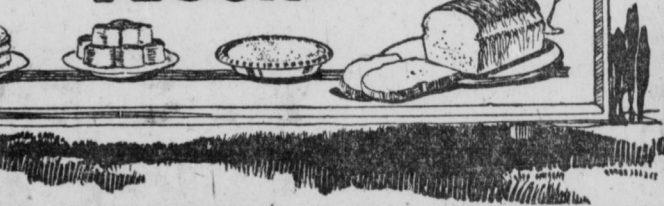

OPEN BUREAU MONDAY

Mrs. Alma Miller to Assist G. O. P. Women's Leader.

Miss Mary Sleeth of Rushville, newly elected director of the women's bureau of the Republican State committee, will open the bureau Monday for the start of organization work. Miss Sleeth today announced the appointment of Mrs. Alma Miller as her assistant.

The new director, elected by district vice chairman Wednesday, succeeds Mrs. Vivian T. Wheatcraft of Whiteland, who has been promoted to a place on the national senatorial committee.
