

LIMIT FUNDS OF CANDIDATES FOR SENATORIAL TOGA

Vare's Expenditures Must Be Held Within $25,000 in Final Race.

Times Washington Bureau.
1322 New York Avenue.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—William S. Vare, Republican candidate for the United States Senate from Pennsylvania, cannot legally spend more than $25,000 on his final campaign.

Neither can Smith or Brennan, Illinois senatorial nominees, shoot larger bankrolls than this without violating the Federal corrupt practices act of 1925.

Under the terms of this act, which passed Congress as a Senate rider to the postal salary increase bill, and which was signed by President Coolidge, Feb. 28, 1925, candidates for the House of Representatives are limited in most cases to expenditures of $2,500 while most candidates for the Senate must not spend more than $10,000 in the final elections.

Can't Exceed $25,000

In populous States, however, an alternative proposition is provided by law, whereby the amount spent may be equal to the sum obtained by multiplying three cents by the total number of votes cast at the last general election for all candidates for the office which the candidate seeks. "But in no event," says the law, "shall this amount exceed $25,000 if a candidate for Senator, or $5,000 if a candidate for representative, delegate or resident commissioner."

State laws in sixteen of the thirty-three states holding senatorial elections this fall, are more stringent than the Federal statute. Maximum expenditures for both primary and election are as follows in the following states: California, $1,000; Connecticut, $3,333; Indiana, $5,250; Kansas, $1,000; Maryland, $1,750; Massachusetts, $15,000; Missouri, $14,079; New Hampshire, $2,000; North Dakota, $3,000; Oregon, $2,500; South Dakota, $5,000; Utah, $4,000; Wisconsin, $7,500; Alabama, Arkansas and Iowa, $10,000 each.

The Federal limit of $10,000 expenditures in the final election will apply to those seeking senatorial jobs from Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, South Carolina, Vermont and Washington.

Likewise it is the Federal limitation on the 3 cents per voter basis, which allows Illinois senatorial candidates to spend as much as $25,000 in the final campaign; Kentucky nominees, $23,630; New York, $25,000; North Carolina, $14,810; Ohio, $25,000.

The Federal law provides for publicity of contributions and expense accounts.

Newberry Case

The decision of the Supreme Court in the Newberry case hinged on a technicality, it is declared, whereby the court, by a vote of five to four, decided that Newberry could not be convicted since the Federal corrupt practices act of 1910 limiting expenditures by a House or Senate candidate "in procuring his nomination and election to $5,000 and $10,000, respectively," was passed prior to the ratification of the Seventeenth Amendment, which provided for the direct election of United States Senators.

Had framers of the corrupt practices act of 1925, taken advantage of this loophole in the Supreme Court's decision in the Newberry case, it is believed that they might have safely included Federal limitations in primary campaigns as well as in elections, and thus have prevented the huge expenditures in Illinois and Pennsylvania this year.

SCREEN CLUB PICNICS

Screen Club, composed of persons affiliated with the motion picture industry, held a picnic at a private residence north of the city Monday afternoon.

Forty members made the trip by bus. Ace Berry, president, was in charge of the entertainment program. H. C. Dressendorfer is club secretary.

EDUCATOR MOVES UP

Miss Mary B. Orvis, secretary of the Indianapolis Extension Center of Indiana University, has just been appointed assistant professor in the English department of the University of Wisconsin. She is to be stationed at Milwaukee and will have charge of publicity in that district. In anticipation of this appointment the trustees of Indiana University recently granted Miss Orvis a year's leave of absence.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Red and Hard. Itched and Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"My husband's face was covered with pimples. They were red and hard and came to a head. He also had some on his back. The pimples itched and burned a great deal. He was this way for about four months. "He tried different remedies but they did not do any good. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after he used it we could see such a difference that I purchased more, and in about six weeks he was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. I. J. Peterson, 1802 W. 41st St., Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 28, 1926.

Nothing quicker or safer than Cuticura Soap and Ointment for skin troubles that itch and burn.

MR. FIXIT

Correspondent Makes Complaint on Sewer.

Let Mr. Fixit present your case to city officials. He is the Times representative at the city hall. Write him at The Times.

Inadequate sewers cause a miniature lake at Madison Ave. and Sanders St. Mr. Fixit was advised by a correspondent today.

DEAR MR. FIXIT: Please call attention to the proper parties. Whenever it rains hard, water at the corner of Madison Ave. and Sanders St. overflows.

Sewers do not carry it off. Water goes over the sidewalk and property, damaging cellars.

GEORGE M. SCHERRER,
1247 Madison Ave.

This sewer should have been cleaned by the time you read this, according to word from the streets department.

DEAR MR. FIXIT: I live in the neighborhood of 1,200 Polk St. and am annoyed on Sunday mornings by youngsters waiting for a nearby grocery store to open. I work nights and try to get an hour's sleep Sunday morning before church time. Is there an ordinance or law to compel him to close on the Sabbath? If so, where shall I make such a report?

TIMES READER.

There's a State law against business on Sunday. If that is your feeling, swear out an affidavit at the police station.

DEAR MR. FIXIT: Boys of various ages assemble in Manual High School drilling ground to play ball, ignoring signs of no trespassing. These rowdy boys are a nuisance.

TIMES READER.

Did it ever occur to you that innocent baseball games in public are better than gin parties or craps games on the sly? Mr. Fixit sees no reason to interfere in this case.

Barefooted for 65 Years

Conrad Roether, a farmer of North Washington, Iowa, has no more use for shoes than a bolshevik has for a safety razor. In his sixty-five years of life he has gone barefooted, except for such ceremonial occasions as weddings and funerals.

Free Admission to Fair for Children

Every child in Indiana under twelve years of age is to have an opportunity to visit the State fair this year, free of charge. Letters have been sent out by Levi P. Moore, publicity director of the fair, to Sunday school superintendents throughout the State, asking as to the number of eligible children in the different churches. The superintendents are asked to indicate in their replies just how many tickets will be needed, so that they may be delivered quickly.

The free tickets will be good for admission on Saturday, Sept. 4, opening day of the 1926 fair, which has been officially named Children's Day. Moore suggested that any superintendents who are missed by the board should write, stating their needs, since it is impossible to obtain a full list of all churches in the State.

KNOCKOUT NEWS

Knocks out that knock

Think of it! Up hills—over bad roads—with easy, steady power. Not a knock from the engine! Just the soft, rhythmic purr of a well-fed motor.

Red Crown-Ethyl Gasoline is a tonic. An instant tonic. The engine responds with new pep as soon as the tank is filled with Red Crown-Ethyl. Immediately you sense its new power, new eagerness, new flexibility.

Harness carbon! Make it work! Carbon caused all kinds of trouble before the days of Red Crown-Ethyl Gasoline. The worst of it was you never could get rid of it. Now you needn't. You can harness it—put it to work for you—by using Red Crown-Ethyl Gasoline. More carbon will mean more power.

If you hate the sound of a knock from your car—if you like an engine that is quick to obey—speedy on the pick-up—steady through the rough spots—powerful on the hills—Use Red Crown-Ethyl Gasoline.
