

STIRRIN' the DOPE

By VEDDER GARD

TONIGHT is likely to tell the tale whether or not Harry Greb has finally burned out that tremendous vitality of his which enabled him to swarm all over his opponents as long as a fight lasted. Tiger Flowers, mid-dleweight champion, is giving Harry another chance at the title.

Most of the fight experts believe that the Negro champ will defend his crown successfully. Greb, of course, has different views. One thing is certain, a boxer can not burn the candle at both ends as Greb has done and expect to stand the gruelling test of the prize ring. How Harry did it so long is a mystery.

If this rain keeps up some of the bathing beauties at the Ripple style show tonight actually will get their suits wet.

JOHNNY DUNDEE is having a terrible time getting started on his seventeenth year of ring activities. His bout scheduled last Monday with Phil McGraw was called off because of rain and the weather man frowned again Wednesday night when the battle-scarred little Scotch-Wop was to meet Brettonel, lightweight champion of Europe.

Johnny "ran out" of a bout with the French boxer in Paris some time ago. He said he wasn't satisfied with the purse. The boxing federation of France, however, was so peeved that the body tried to have Dundee barred from boxing in this country.

Johnny wanted to prove he was not afraid of Brettonel in the Wednesday battle.

Dundee is scheduled for a bout in San Francisco, Sept. 6, with Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champ.

It has been said that the Sesqui-centennial at Philadelphia has been more or less of a financial flop. That Dempsey-Tunney fight 10 per cent cut should help out. Why didn't Quakertown let Tex Rickard put on the big exposition for them? Failure does not seem to be in Tex's vocabulary.

THE announcer at the swim meet Wednesday night made one bad error—a faux pas, as it were. A number of Hoosier A. C. swimmers are in the meet, competing unattached, as their club is not a member of the A. A. U., after some trouble with that organization.

He had been very careful to announce all the Hoosier entries as "unattached." But finally it slipped out right through the megaphone so all could hear, "Virginia Weiss, Hoosier A. C."

It's a wonder any water was left in the pool Wednesday night at the swim meet. Some of these divers dove like feathers and hit the water with a smack like a load of lumber.

Agnes Geraghty believes in encouraging the swimmers. In a penetrating voice she yells at Ethel McGary from the moment she starts a race. "Come on, Ethel, come on. Ethel. Step on it. Hurry up, Ethel." And Ethel usually responds.

"Pop" Ederle is not used to being in the glare of publicity. He must learn to drink his German beer without undue volubility afterward. When he says $20,000 somebody writes about it. "Pop" very probably never saw that much money except through the rosy mist (or foam) of a stein.

SWIM MEET ENDS WITH PROGRAM TONIGHT AT BROAD RIPPLE

SMITH IS WILLING TO SELL

Tribe Boss Eager, but Son Has Different View—Cincy Bidding, Report.

Negotiations are reported going on in the East again with the Indianapolis Baseball Club involved. Officials of the Cincinnati Nationals appear to be convinced Owner Smith is eager to dispose of the Hoosier A. C. franchise.

This rumor has cropped out several times before, and on one occasion W. C. Smith, Sr., was on the verge of selling, but the Cincy buyers balked on forking over $150,000, the price named by Smith.

It is not known what tag Smith has placed on the Indians during the present negotiations. Cincinnati wants Indianapolis as a farm and would place Ivy Wingo, veteran catcher, in charge if the local team is purchased. It is said. This would mean the passing of Owrie Bush.

President W. C. Smith, Sr., and Vice President W. C. Smith, Jr., are out of the city. William Clauser, home secretary, said today he was not in position to discuss the matter.

Evidently there is something stirring, however, because Cincy baseball writers continue to gossip about the subject. Also, in A. A. circles, the feeling is growing President Smith wants to sell if he can get his price.

It is known W. C. Smith Jr., vice president of the Indians, is endeavoring to use his influence to have his father reinstate the franchise and build a new park. Young Smith is of the opinion attendance would take a big jump here with a modern plant.

On the Tribe Trail

NO GAME TODAY
By Times Special
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 19.—Rain and wet grounds forced the postponement of today's game between Indians and Millers. A double header will be played Friday, and the series brought to a close with a single game Saturday.

By Times Special
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 19.—Indians and Millers are to clash in the third battle of the series today and Bill Burwell was slated to do the pitching for the Bushmen.

The Tribe braced in spectacular style Wednesday and captured the double header, 6 to 1 and 1 to 0. Superior pitching by Henry and Hill held down the Miller attack to six blows in each game. Henry struck out nine locals in the day's opening tilt. He fanned the side in the ninth, getting Black, Loftus and Brooks in order.

More than that, the Dutchman ped a home run with one mate on base and also drove in a run with a single. He was given errorless support and his own wild pitch in the seventh knocked him out of registering a shutout.

In the second fray Wednesday Carmen Hill blanked the locals and annexed his twentieth victory of the season. He is the only twister in the league with twenty "wins".

There are five defeats against him. Fisher poled a home run in the first frames and helped win the second in the fourth inning when he singled, moved up on Miller's sacrifice and scored on Almsmith's single.

Double-header was played without an error being charged against either team. About 3,000 fans witnessed the struggles.

In the bargain attraction at Minneapolis Wednesday, Eddie Sicking got two hits in the first fray and three in the second. Grover Hartley emerged from a batting slump by getting three hits. He caught the day's opener and Almsmith the wind-up.

Milwaukee downed Columbus in a double-header Wednesday and climbed into the A. A. lead when Louisville divided a twin bill at St. Paul. The Brewers are one-half game ahead of the Colonels and six games ahead of the Indians.

Hank Schreiber, former Tribe shortstop, who went to the Chicago Cubs along with Riggs Stephenson, has been sent back to the Bushmen subject to a twenty-four-hour recall.

An extra infielder of experience is needed while Shannon strives to get back in shape after a long lay-off caused by an injured ankle. Schreiber was ordered to leave Chicago Wednesday night to join the Indians in Minneapolis.

Howard Carter, the infielder, obtained on a loan from the Cincy

The A. A. U. swimming meet ends tonight at Broad Ripple pool with a program of thirteen events and an added feature in which bathing beauties representing local firms will strive for honors which do not entail getting into the water at all.

The national event on the program is the junior championship 100-yard back stroke for women. Two Middle States title races and an Indiana-Kentucky A. A. U. event are other features. Open events and exhibitions make up an interesting card.

Agnes Geraghty of the New York Women's Swimming Association was the record breaker Wednesday night. The champion breast stroke star did her stuff in the open 220-yard breast stroke race and clipped a second off her own mark. Agnes swam the distance in 3:32.2.

Miss Geraghty finished far ahead of the field in her specialty. Thelma Darby Willis of this city was second and Borgehlde Johannessen of Detroit was third.

In this race Miss Virginia Fitch, daughter of Dr. F. M. Fitch, 911 N. Meridian St., after finishing in fourth place, had a severe attack of muscle cramps. First aid was given by her father, who was present to watch his daughter swim.

Horace Craig of Detroit Yacht Club won the national junior 880-yard free-style event. Paulus Strack of Indianapolis was second.

George Van of the Detroit Yacht Club finished first in the middle States, 200 meters breast stroke. John Moore of the Indianapolis A. C. won the middle States 100-meter back stroke.

Walter Lauffer of Cincinnati, who holds most of the records in the back stroke events, tried for a new record in a 200-meter trial. His time was 2:46.4, which was one and two-fifths seconds slower than the record.

Wednesday night results:

Reds, lacks league experience. He is a rookie from college.

Reports from Milwaukee state that Umpire Bill Kuhn has resigned from the A. A. staff and returned to his job as deputy sheriff in the Cream City. It is said Kuhn decided the going was too rough in the association. He was appointed last spring. Previous to entering the league, Kuhn was a semi-pro umpire around Milwaukee.

GRID, COACH WANTED
Coach Carl Welsh of the South-eastern A. A. football squad has accepted an offer to coach a military school in Tennessee, thereby leaving the Southeastern without a coach for the 1926 season. The team would like to hear from an experienced coach.
