

TIRIN' the DOPE

By VEDDER GARD

THE football season must be approaching. We were talking to a University of Illinois alumnus the other day and he was full of grid dope. "Who's your Red Grange this year?" we asked.

He wasn't sure, but said, "You had better watch a youth by the name of Stewart."

Now if this dope about Stewart is correct we will claim some credit for the Hoosier State. Stewart is a six-footer, who weighs "around" 180 pounds—corn-fed from Battle-ground, Ind.

Mike Tobin, publicity director, probably will find another Grange, anyway. No way worrying about it until Mike gets busy on his trusty typewriter.

It begins to look as though there will be more "applesauce" than ever this year. Reports are to the effect that the American apple crop is the largest in history. This should be a great season for the publicity boys, who like to spread it on.

THE feature of the Indiana Kentucky A. A. track and field championships held at the State fairground today and Saturday is likely to be the pole vault tomorrow. Paul Harrington, famous Notre Dame vaulter, is entered.

Brewer Graham, formerly of Butler, and Rubush, Manual High School star, are other good ones. There's real class in that event.

That was a tremendous crowd at Broad Ripple Thursday night. Wish we could believe they went out to see the swimmers. You know there was a bathing beauty contest in connection with the meet.

REGINA RIES, local girl, finally got "in the swim" on Thursday night. Although she had paid her entry fee on Wednesday and had a good place in a couple of events she couldn't "get in."

Some of the officials became so impressed with their own importance that Regina couldn't cross the little rope to get with the rest of the contestants, although she had on her bathing suit. She became disgusted finally and quit trying.

There are always too many officials around that do nothing but wear a ribbon and strut their stuff.

ANOTHER highly successful swim meet has been staged by Paul R. Jordan. It is a habit with that gentleman, Indianapolis may be an inland city, but it "goes" for the aquatic sport. Maybe that's just the reason—because the people here want to see something different. Broad Ripple pool is about the largest body of water some of the folks ever looked at. One thing is for certain—nobody ever looked at a girl go through the water like Ethel McGary in that record smashing performance in the 880-yard free style Tuesday night. It was a truly remarkable performance—the gem of the tourney.

Lookie at St. Louis Cards! Hold back those Mound City fans! They're going to tear something down if Hornsby's crew cops that National League pennant. Where are they going to put the bugs this Sunday with the Giants furnishing the opposition?

Lincoln fields, the new Chicago track, is being called the fastest racing strip in the United States. It is likely that American records will fall before the meeting is over. On Thursday Mary O went the mile in the dazzling time of 1:56. That's within three-fifths second of the American record of Cherry Pie. They're going to fall. Watch and see!

PRINTERS PLAY IN ST. LOUIS

Local Typos Engage in Annual Tourney, Opening Sunday—Squad Named.

Typo ball players and golfers of Indianapolis will depart for St. Louis Saturday to compete in the sixteenth annual tourney of the Union Printers' International Baseball League. The links feature is an added event, but the golfers go at the expense of the various baseball associations in the twelve-club organization.

Manager John W. Ashe has selected his tourney line-up and he expects the Hoosier representatives to make a strong showing. The Indianapolis diamond squad follows:

Harvey Peters, W. C. Weaver, Theodore Ergott, Orla Peters, Glenn Schierme, Don Patterson, Virgil Perkins, Roy Morical, Arthur Miller, Glenn Munshower, Herb Smith, Forest Lych and Al Rosener. Manager Ashe also plays.

The officers of the Indianapolis typos are: Glenn L. Mitchell, commissioner; D. W. Runkle, president; Thomas J. Watson, vice president; William Pick, secretary-treasurer; George James Harvey and Ben Egert, members of the board of directors.

The tourney opens in the Mound City Sunday at Liggett field, Washington University, and will wind up Aug. 27. Results of games will be broadcast from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch radio station every evening.

The golfers will compete at the Glen Echo Country Club. Indianapolis typogolf representatives are Gus Harms and Leo Kalb. The tourney is being held in Washington, D. C., at the Glen Echo Country Club. Indianapolis typogolf representatives are Gus Harms and Leo Kalb.

Approximately 200 Entries Received for Western Title Event Here Next Week.

With entries to the Western open golf championship at the Highland Golf Country Club formally closing Thursday, but with entries being received up to the time of starting, officials of the Western Association in Chicago, where entries are being made, said Indianapolis would have the greatest field of golfers of class that ever played in a Western open championship.

The players sending in their entries by midnight Thursday will be teamed for the first day's play, Aug. 26, either in twosomes or threesomes and the pairing announced as soon as possible, according to Western officials. Approximately 200 entries are already in, professional and amateur.

McDonald Smith, champion of the Western open, arrives Saturday to start practice for his defense of his title. Against Smith in the battle for the championship will be a group including Walter Hagen, Jock Hutchison, Gene Sarazen, Leo Diegel, Johnny Farrell, Bob MacDonald, Al and Abe Espinoza, Joe Turnesa, Harry Hampton, Ray Derr and others of their playing class.

Famous amateurs entered are Chick Evans, Chicago; Denmore Shute, Huntington, W. Va.; Eddie Held and Jimmy Marion, St. Louis; besides fifty or more amateurs of lesser fame from the golfing centers of the Middle West.

Perhaps thirty amateurs from Indiana have been entered, including the winner of the Indiana State championship, Johnny Simpson, of Terre Haute. Indianapolis, South Bend, Crawfordsville, Frankfort, Ft. Wayne, Anderson, Richmond and Logansport, have asked for entry blanks for amateurs and professionals.

Practically all the Indiana pros will be in play, including Leonard Schmutte, of Ft. Wayne, the youngest who won the recent State open at Culver. The six Nelson brothers of Indianapolis, Culver and Ft. Wayne, have entered. Jack Collins, Kokomo pro, one of the State's most consistent shooters, will bring a large delegation of Kokomo rooters with him.

And they are asking $27.50 for ring-side seats. Boy, page 5med Butler.

About all the matches Harry Willis gets are obtained in cigar stores.

Appears as though Dempsey will have to employ a staff of attorneys in his corner along with his seconds when he climbs through the ropes to meet Tunney.

Local traffic cops are giving jaywalking pedestrians that Haughville look-hard.

The home-brew boys of the night shift have a grievance. They say the matinee hounds consume all the cold ones.

South-side man crossed gypsy woman's palm with coin to have his "fortune told." Among other things she informed him he liked his drinks. And he said: "You're not a fortune-teller—you're a breath smeller."

Chuck Wiggins' manager had the correct dose when he withdrew Chuck from the Jeff Smith match. Jeff used to be good, but so did Jack Dillon. Smith was born in '91.

The Saturday glove show is being held in conjunction with the field day events. First bout will start at 8:30. There will be five scraps and a battle royal. The program follows:

Arnold Jones and W. W. Ingraham, representing the New England section, beat the Philippine Davis cup team of Rafael Gonzales and Guillermo Aragon in both singles and doubles.

Three special prizes of $100 each have been received from local firms for the Western open golf tourney to be held next week. The prizes will be awarded the golfer shooting the best eighteen holes on each of the three days of the meet.

Marmion Motor Car Company, through President Williams, put up $100; Western Oil Refining Company, through Jack Trimble, donated a like sum; Prest-O-Lite, through Joe McDuffee, was the other contributor.

Other "lap" prizes may be donated before the start.

Plan Western Open Golf Details

This group of Highlanders gathered for a picture recently at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. They were there to talk over business connected with the promotion of the Western Open golf championship tournament to be staged at the Highland Country Club links next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Arch Grossman is president of the club, and Albert

Buchanan chairman of the sports and pastime committee, and these two are performing heavy duties getting the previous arrangements effected.

Lillian Postpones Channel Swim

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 20.—Lillian Cannon of Baltimore was ready to attempt to swim across the English channel, but a strong wind and heavy seas forced postponement. She said she would start at the first favorable opportunity.

Lillian has received numerous cablegrams from the United States urging her on to the conquest of the channel, which has defeated every woman but Gertrude Ederle.

The swimming colony here, including Lillian, still is angry about the British criticism of Gertrude's successful channel swim. Lillian said she regarded her rival's success as a gallant and sportsmanlike effort, although British newspapers had intimated Gertrude was unduly assisted by the presence of two accompanying tugs.

LAUFER BETTERS RECORD IN EXHIBITION SWIM

Cincy Star Clips One-Fifth Second From 100 Meter Back Stroke Mark—Huge Crowd on Hand.

Before a huge crowd that packed every inch of available space around the Broad Ripple pool the A. A. U. swim tourney came to a close Thursday night with another record-breaking performance as the supposed feature, although the bathing beauty contest probably brought out most of the people.

Walter Lauffer of Cincinnati, premier back-stroke swimmer, churned through the water in an exhibition 100-meter back stroke attempt and was clocked in 1:22.2. That time is one-fifth of a second better than the world mark set by Warren Kealoha of Hawaii two years ago.

One-fifth of a second isn't much to go on. But, anyway, it was a great demonstration of Lauffer's remarkable skill in his specialty.
