

HOW TO UNSEAT VARE AND SMITH IS BIG QUESTION

Pennsylvania and Illinois Slush Funds to Be Probed Again.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Although they are confident that an attempt will be made to unseat Senator William S. Vare and Frank L. Smith, the beneficiaries of the Pennsylvania and Illinois primary slush fund, if they are elected next November, Senators are uncertain as to the procedure which will be followed.

All are agreed, however, that before either is deprived of his seat the primary elections in the two States will be investigated all over again. The Reed committee, in effect, will have acted merely as a grand jury returning the indictment, and the committee on privileges and elections will be the trial court, with the Senate in the last analysis, acting as the jury.

Launch Fight
The movement to unseat Vare and Smith may be launched next December following the certification to the Senate of their election, if they are elected. If for political reasons these certificates are not forwarded to the Senate, any Senator, it is believed, can demand an investigation if the States' election boards declare Vare and Smith the winners.

Some Senators, including Richard P. Ernst, Kentucky, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, are doubtful whether the present Congress has the right to pass on the qualifications of a member of the next Congress.

"I don't see how it will be proper for the Senate or my committee to act in advance of the actual appearance of the Senators in question, to take their seats," Senator Ernst declared today.

To Appoint Committee
Because he may have to appoint the subcommittee which will hear the evidence against the two candidates and because he may have to sit as one of the "trial judges" Senator Ernst said he will not study the printed hearings of the Illinois and Pennsylvania primaries during the recess of Congress.

"I want to keep an open mind," he said.

Other Senators, however, are reading the verbatim testimony. The preliminary printing of the hearings has been exhausted chiefly through distribution to Senators. Congressmen are taking a keen interest too, and have flooded Senator Reed's office with requests for copies when a new edition is printed.

PROPHESY EARL'S DEATH

Two Ghosts Warn Villagers of Approaching Doom.
SOUTHERSDOWN, Wales, Aug. 20.—Villagers here were not surprised to hear of the death in London of the Earl of Dunraven, aristocratic millionaire and general sportsman, who had intended to cooperate with Sir Thomas Lipton next year in trying to lift the America yacht cup.

The villagers had been waiting for a death in the Earl's family for a week—since the appearance of the two boys of Tuskar Rock, the town ghosts, who are supposed to have made periodical visitations before a death in the family ever since, over a century ago, the two young sons of the first Earl rode out to Tuskar Rock, in Bristol Channel, within eight of the Dunraven castle, and, forgetting to tie up their boat, were trapped and drowned when the tide rose.

BELIEVE BOYS DROWNED

Bodies of Three Sought in Lake Huron—Boat Found.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Aug. 23.—Search was being made today for Leacheneux Island, near Mackinac Island, upper Lake Huron, for the bodies of three boys, whose overturned rowboat was found Saturday night. They had been missing since Friday afternoon and are believed to have drowned during a heavy storm.

The missing boys are George Ford, 18, of Mackinac Island; Charles Black of Chicago and George Ackerman of Detroit.

All Worn Out By Back-ache

Says He's Full of Pep Now, and Pains Are All Gone.
Does your back ache till it seems ready to break? A prompt way to end the trouble is shown in a letter written by Curtis Chappell, 1130 E. St. Clair St., Indianapolis, Ind. He tells about his recovery, as follows:

"I suffered with pains in my kidneys and back for three years. My back at times seemed as if it would break in two. I was tired out most of the time, and when I got home from work I just felt like I wanted to lie down. I lost flesh until I only weighed 155 pounds. Nothing I took did me any good till I found Viuna, and after taking only one bottle I was wonderfully relieved. My back stopped aching and I began to get some pep. My appetite picked up and I began to gain weight. I now weigh 170 pounds (a gain of 15 pounds), and feel fine and eat anything."

Viuna acts promptly on sluggish bowels, lazy liver and weak kidneys. It purifies the blood, clears the skin, restores appetite and digestion, and brings new strength and energy to the whole body. Take a bottle on trial. Then if you're not glad you tried Viuna, you'll be refunded $1 at drugstore, or mailed postpaid by Indian Medicine Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

Cozy Corners, Not Autos, Says Pastor

By United Press
CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Cozy corners for courting were advocated by the Rev. Philip C. Cone, Fletcher, Little Rock, Ark., Methodist pastor to an audience here Sunday.

The Rev. Fletcher said he first advocated approval of spooning in 1909, from the pulpit of the First Methodist Church in St. Louis, and that he had not seen fit to change his mind.

"Courtship is a very necessary thing," he said. "It can't be done in stuffy parlors in boarding houses. Automobiles with their freedom from restraint offer too much in the way of temptation. I approve of Chicago park officials allowing spooning on park benches, because spooning is an old fashioned necessity, which leads to marriage."

TWO IN MURDER CASE SEEK BAIL

Will Attack Hall-Mills Killing Evidence.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 23.—Testimony on which Willie Stevens and Henry De La Bruyere Carpenter have been held to the grand jury for alleged complicity in the Hall-Mills murder, will be attacked in court here today in an effort to secure the release of the two men on bail.

Attorneys for Stevens, the eccentric brother of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, and Carpenter, her cousin and a prosperous Wall Street broker, probably will attempt to cast doubt upon the accuracy of stories told by Robert Earling and Mrs. Jane Gibson, "The Pig Woman," two important witnesses at the preliminary hearing of the two men.

Earling testified he was in De Russes' lane the night that the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, singer in the choir at Hall's church, were slain. With Earling, according to his testimony, was a young woman and they saw "The Pig Woman" riding her nag through the Phillips farm, where the murder took place.

The defense was said to have ready for introduction an affidavit of the young woman alleged to have been with Earling, denying his story in many of its details.

The bail hearing will be before Chief Justice Gummere of the State Supreme Court here.

COUNCIL VISITS BRIGHT LIGHTS

Seeks Slash in Budget for Electricity.

Eagle-eyed city councilmen are spending hours among the bright lights.

Not the lights that twinkle in front of the theaters and restaurants, but the brilliant standards that illuminate, apparently without reason, the north side districts where houses are blocks away.

Walter R. Dorsett, chairman of the councilmanic committee, investigating the 1927 budget, reported excessive illumination on Washington Blvd. north of Fifty-Sixth St. and on Winthrop Ave., Wildwood Ave., Forest Lane, Guilford Ave. and Carrollton Ave.

Dorsett hopes to reduce the allowance for street lighting, which with heat, power and water, is estimated at $410,000 by City Controller William C. Buser.

STARTS LIFE SENTENCE

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO HEAR BOOZE CHARGES

Will Search for New Facts Regarding Knox County Liquor Trade.

Second investigation of the Vincennes (Ind.) liquor situation will be opened by the Federal grand jury when it convenes in special session the middle of September, it was authentically learned today.

Facts will be presented by the district attorney's office from a report made by the Chicago Department of Justice Agent Louis Loeb, who recently was in Indianapolis and Vincennes working on the case.

It is understood that the investigation may take the angle of an effort to ascertain the truth of reports in Knox County that Government officials were transporting liquor through Vincennes to Indianapolis.

Loeb and Superior Judge John Rabb Emison of Knox County conferred in Indianapolis, Loeb later going to Vincennes.

During his visit here the department "ace" checked records of a certain downtown hotel where liquor from St. Louis, Mo., was reported to have been brought for political purposes.

Several persons, including some deputy officials of Knox County, were convicted of conspiracy to violate the liquor law in the Vincennes trial at Terre Haute in June.

At the trial a Vincennes attorney, said to have been intimate with Floyd Young, county prosecutor, who was acquitted, stated he knew that two Federal agents transported liquor from St. Louis through New Albany to Indianapolis.

Department of justice report on alleged irregularities in connection with the State highway commission's disposal of used war materials, probably will be presented to the jury. It has been indicated that no facts on which a formal charge might be based against former and present commission officials, have been found.

SCHOOL BUDGET TOPIC WEDNESDAY

Heads to Confer on Ways to Cut Levy.

School city department heads will meet with Business Director Ure M. Frazer Wednesday afternoon in closed session to discuss cutting the school tax levy for 1926-27 below $1.10.

Frazer said that so far the appropriations had not been cut sufficiently to guarantee a lower levy. It will be the first time since budget figures have been gathered that department heads met to consider the situation. Prior to this time recommendations have been made to the business office.

With the public clamoring for better housing conditions, the board is not expected to cut its proposed $710,000 building program.

Her Spanish husband, on the other hand, has adopted English customs in England. He shakes hands with everybody, high and low, and has even been seen heartily slapping on the back some of his old polo comrades, up from the Riviera.

DETROIT, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Emma Miller, a 49-year-old grandmother, late Sunday night locked herself and two small grandchildren into the kitchen of her home here and brought death to all by turning on the gas jet.

A note found by relatives explained she had been "very sick" and knew she was "going to die." "I don't like to leave the children," the note read, "the two little girls are angels."

The dead children were June Harris, 4, and Constance Sherbourne, 7, daughters of two daughters of the dead woman.

CREED MUST BE IN CHARACTER, SAYS MINISTER

Visiting Pastor Preaches on "Rebuilding the World."

"A man's creed will be counted worthless if it fails to get into the character and conduct," said Dr. Price Alexander Crow while preaching at the Woodruff Place United Presbyterian Church Sunday.

Dr. Crow is a member of the John William Hancher organization of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal.

He spoke Sunday in absence of the regular pastor, the Rev. E. W. Welch, who is on his vacation.

Dr. Crow in speaking on "Rebuilding the World Aright," asked: Do we not recognize that this old world must be built aright educationally? Educational institutions must be standardized into the service of humanity.

"And does it not seem proper," Dr. Crow asked, "that this feverish, restless old world must be built aright religiously? The golden rule of Christ must actually rule the rulers of men."

"Needs, not creeds, is after all the ideal of an ideal Christianity. The automatic ruler in high places must be shunned as men would shun a deadly serpent."

"Italy's Mussolini will likely see the necessity of this as well as his Italian subjects."

"The gospel of good will must be practiced by the people who hear the preacher preach, and the preacher and ruler must practice it as well."

The single dissenting vote came from Rio contributor, bartender, waiter and porter of a small but popular hole-in-the-wall near the sea front, incensed because over thirty American sailors had wrecked his shop.
