By DICK MILLER

THE club championship qualifying round, scheduled for next Saturday at the Indianapolis Country Club, has been postponed until Sept. 4 by the sports and pastimes committee. Thus all match play dates will be set ahead one week. The entire shift was made due to the fact that the western open will be on at Highland.

Looking over the list of entries at the western and their starting time it would seem Indianapolis and Indiana boys are going to have a "do tell" story to relate Friday night. It is no hidden fact that when you play these days before 10 a. m. you are adding probably six to ten strokes. It would seem some of the national stars would be better players to battle nature's elements. But they are all scheduled to start around noon.

W. E. Balch, manager of the Merchants' Association, in today's bulletin calls to the attention of the association members the greatness of the western open tournament to Indianapolis.

Prominent mention of the tourney in all ads, and prominent and clever window displays are requested as proper cooperation with the Indianapolis Golf and Country Club members who took the gamble and brought the meet and its big expense of promotion, including the big pros, to a place where the Hoosiers can see plenty of golf for three days, with but four "bucks" and war tax.

TWO GAMES

L. and H. Nine Plays A. B. C.s and Keystones.

Two games are on the schedule of the Indianapolis Light and Heat Company team this week for the benefit of the Indianapolis Amateur Baseball Association fund for expenses of Indianapolis representatives to the national amateur baseball tournament in Philadelphia next month.

One of these is a game arranged with the Keystones, the popular south side aggregation, at Penny Park, Saturday afternoon.

The other is the game scheduled with the A. B. C. team of the Negro National League, Thursday afternoon at Washington Park. It is the fourth in a series of five arranged for the L. A. B. A. benefit fund.

Independent and Amateur Baseball

The Marmon Motor Car Company defeated Columbus Commercial, 7 to 2, in the hitting of Joe Kelley and Eugene H. The Marmon team won seven straight games and went to the Indianapolis Country Club for the first time Sunday afternoon. The team will play the Indianapolis Light and Heat club an exhibition game at Penny Park next Saturday for the benefit of the amateur association. Call or write D. H. Giff at Marmon Motor Car Company for game.

The All-Stars played a twelve-inning game at the Newport (Ky.) team. The Stars have won four games in a row. The game was played at 3 p. m. and the Stars won 11 to 2. The winners will play the Shanklin team at the Indianapolis Country Club on Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

The Tartar A. A.'s will play the Indianapolis Triangles at Garden No. 3 Sunday in the first of a three-game series to decide the city championship in class "B." Tartar won in the Indianapolis Junior League and the Triangles won in the Portia League. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

NATIONAL PROVIDES THRILLS

St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Cincy in Battle for Lead

—Cards Favored.

By Henry L. Farrell,

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Approaching the home stretch in the National League pennant race, with a blanket covering the leading St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati clubs, the clockers are sitting on the rail waiting for one or more of the clubs to crack.

Experience doesn't count any too much, as the Pittsburgh Pirates have only a year on the Reds and the Cardinals.

The winner will be the team that can stand the gauntlet.

Many wise baseball men, including John McGraw, have been watching for Rogers Hornsby's club to fold up under the strain, but the Cardinals have been playing better ball day by day with splendid pitching, inspired fielding and savage hitting.

The Cards are in the midst of a spurt that gave them sixteen out of eighteen games and the predicted collapse of the team looks far removed.

Reds Come Back

Jack Hendricks and his Reds seemed to be out of the running after the disastrous eastern invasion, but the team went back home and ran up a string of nine straight, coming from behind to win most of their games.

The Pirates survived internal dissension that resulted in the firing of several stars and the firing of Eddie Moore, Max Carey, Babe Adams and Carson Bigbee, but they are still hanging on.

The big break may come next week when the Pirates go to St. Louis to open one of the most important series of the year, and the advantage ought to be with Hornsby's club, as they will be in familiar surroundings with St. Louis yelping for its first National League pennant.

Until Last Week?

The battle may continue until the last week of the season and the championship may be decided by one game, as it was in the American League several years ago when the St. Louis Browns were beaten out by the Yankees by a stroke of a mathematical pencil.

Betting and general opinion here favors the Cardinals to outlast the Pirates and the Reds because the club has more all-around strength than the Reds and better morale than the Pirates.

The Cards, however, have eight games to play with the Pirates and four with the Reds and the Reds have five more games with the Pirates. And the three teams have another eastern trip to make.

MISS DUNN TELLS OF NAOMI HULL'S TRIUMPH

Good Iron Game Winning Factor in Hoosier's Victory Over Mrs. Mida, Low Medalist.

By Elizabeth Dunn,

(Indiana State women's golf champion and special representative of The Indianapolis Times at Olympia fields, Chicago.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Miss Naomi Hull of Mendonville, Ind., pulled a typical stunt here Tuesday and as a result the players in the western women's tournament at Olympia Fields, and the galleries are well aware today that the Hoosier State owns some good golfers.

Miss Hull, not perturbed by the fact that she was matched against the low medalist in the qualifying round

Monday, started right out to take the match on the greens.

Mrs. Lee Mida, her opponent who shot 80 to qualify and who this year boasts of eleven course records, was ahead off the tee. Naomi was one up when Mrs. Mida's putt rimmed the cup on No. 9 hole.

Good Iron Game

By playing a stellar game with her irons, Miss Hull was always on the green with her opponent and picked up another hole on twelve, where Mrs. Mida, again took three putts. She lost one on fifteen, but sank a twenty-foot putt on hole seventeen to clinch the match, 2 up and one to play.

The play Tuesday was a contrast to Monday, with the rancorous and sweaters missing and in their places frocks of all colors.

Tuesday was given over to the players in the second flight, in which I am paired, to practice putting and to playing off the tie scores. Matches started today in that flight and I hope to win it, now that I one-stroked myself out of the championship flight.

The flight is known as the Olympia Fields flight. Mrs. A. McClamrock and Miss Mary Gordon, of Mendonville, Ind., are in flight 3, thus making all the Indiana players qualified in the prize lists.

Long Drive

I was made happy Tuesday when it was told that of the 145 players in the meet Monday and against the driving rain I was the only player of 145 entrants who drove over the ditch on the second shot on hole 18.

Now that Miss Hull has startled Chicago golfers, we are all pulling for her to continue her good game. Another hope is that we Indiana girls can sweep through to some flight prizes.
