HELP BLIND IS PLEA OF DELEGATE

Teacher Asks Better Working Conditions—Pension Opposed.

"Help the blind to help themselves," was the plea of Miss Juanita Cortez, 306 N. Holmes Ave., at the "Boosters for the Blind" convention at Lebanon Wednesday. Miss Cortez, totally blind, was one of the five delegates from Indianapolis. The convention was held to "arrive at an understanding about a basic pension for the blind," to be proposed to the next Legislature.

The Indiana Boosters for the Blind was formally organized at the convention. A committee of seven members was appointed to investigate.

gate the pension laws of the various States and to report their conclusions at a meeting to be called within thirty days.

"Such a pension bill if passed, would put all blind persons on a charity basis," Miss Cortez declared.

"It would tend toward blocking efforts of sightless persons to obtain a livelihood through the medium of their own efforts. It would have a decidedly bad psychological effect on the blind themselves; it would also affect employers.

"Blind men and women if mentally deficient should be segregated. Others, capable of self-support, should be aided in their efforts. Industrial conditions for the blind are in a sad way. The Board of Industrial Aid for the Blind, has been annoyed and embarrassed by being practically forced to take into their employ persons who were mentally unfit to do practical work. This is making a charity institution out of what was designed for an industrial organization."

"We cannot justly ask that the State of Indiana should continue to support industrial institutions, while at the same time we consider ourselves at a meeting to be called within thirty days.

"Above all things, the blind need satisfactory industrial conditions, operating under the same rules that govern all other modern businesses."

Miss Cortez is one of the interesting blind persons of the city. Graduated from the Indiana School for the Blind, she attended Butler and Indiana Universities. Interested primarily in languages, especially Spanish, she went abroad for study, and was in Spain and Central America in 1922-24. She traveled alone.

"I get around better by myself," Miss Cortez declared smilingly. For a time, after her return, she maintained a downtown language studio, but for the past year has taught Spanish and French in her own home.

When the plague attacked London in 1665 there were only four hospitals in the city. Now 10,000 patients daily occupy beds in London's 250 hospitals.

Camel—the greatest tobacco word of all time

NEVER in the history of smoking has there been such a cigarette as Camel. No other cigarette was ever made welcome in so many millions of homes, because no other ever brought so much enjoyment to smokers.

When Camels came into the world they brought an entirely new sense of smoking satisfaction and contentment. Millions who have tried them all, who could well afford to pay more, will smoke only Camels. Camels on the table mean that this is the home of experienced smokers.

Camel is the world's favorite cigarette. Camel is given a greater patronage than any other cigarette ever had. Why? Because Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown. Because Camels never tire the taste, no matter how liberally you smoke them. Because they never leave a cigarette after-taste. The world's largest tobacco organization puts the utmost quality into this one cigarette.

If you want the mellowest mildness that ever came from a cigarette, try Camels. Regardless of what you are willing to pay, you will find in this famous smoke every fine feature you ever looked for in a cigarette.
