

WONDERFUL GOLF SENDS HAGEN AHEAD

Pro-Star Takes Lead Away
From Sarazen With
Score of 66.

HARRY COOPER IS THIRD

Sets New Course Record for Highland.

By Dick Miller.
Walter Hagen, famous golf professional, is just getting warmed up. After a slow start in the Western Open golf tournament, which began Thursday at Highland Golf and Country Club, "The Hague" tied the course record on Friday with a 68, and today took the lead away from Sarazen with a brilliant 66.

It would have been a new course record a few minutes earlier, but Harry Cooper of Kansas City beat Walter to the honor with the first 66 of the day.

Hagen, after fifty-four holes of play, was leading Sarazen in second place by four strokes. Hagen's score was 209 and Gen. H. Cooper's was 213. The latter was in third place, with a 215 total.

Jock Hutchison of Chicago, after being in a tie with Sarazen and Hagen at the end of the first nine of the morning round, faltered on the trip home and took a 39 for a 74. His total of 217 put him in fourth place with most of the scores in.

P. O. Hart, dark horse from Marietta, Ohio, who stayed in second place during the first two days of the met, dropped to fifth after the morning round today. He took a 76 and his 54-hole total was 218.

At the end of the first eighteen to-day MacDonald Smith's total for the three rounds was 219, which practically eliminated him from consideration as this year's winner. Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Mich., pro, shot a 69 in the same two some with Smith.

On Walter Hagen's sensational round he had a chance for a 65 if he had holed an eighteen-foot putt, but the putt was about six inches short.

RED STAR MOVE OFFICERS RESIGN IN SLATE FIGHT

Members Charge Elliott,
Others, Made Deal With Coffin.

The Red Star movement will support more than a dozen Democratic candidates in its fight against George V. Coffin, Republican county boss, it was determined at a stormy session in which the resignation of five officers were accepted Friday night, at Thirtieth and Northwest-ern Ave.

Resignations of the officers followed their unsuccessful attempt to win the organization over to support of the Republican ticket.

Officers Resign
The officers who resigned: George S. Elliott, president, former exalted cyclops of the Marion County Klan and later an officer in the Marion County Voters' League.

Harvey W. Bedford, leader in both the Klan and Voters' League, who resigned as traffic inspector, charging that Coffin forces were maneuvering to out Police Chief Claude F. Johnson.

Ray Mullikin, secretary; Leonard Myers, senior guard, and Charles W. Barrows, watchman.

Charges of "selling out to Coffin" were hurled by the members at Elliott and the other retiring leaders, but Elliott told the meeting, as he left, that he would answer no questions.

Deal Charged
The deal, according to the anti-Coffin men, would divert considerable business in insurance and bonds required by the city administration to a firm owned by Elliott and Bedford.

The other three officers, plus George W. Elliott, father of the retiring chieftain, were to receive either city or county positions, with which he was connected. Buhler was charged to have been 35 years old.

The body was taken to Huntington, W. Va. Cause of his death was not known. Members of the firm were attempting to locate his wife, the sole survivor. She was not at home and is said to be out of the city, visiting.

Bobby Jones, Golf Hero, Here

Bobby Jones, American amateur golf champion and holder of the British open title, arrived in Indianapolis at 11:50 a. m. today, in company with his father, R. P. Jones. Bobby will play two 18-hole exhibitions around Sunday at the Highland Golf and Country Club with Walter Hagen, holder of many major golf crowns; MacDonald Smith, defending western open champion, and the winner of the western open.

The golfers will tee off at 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. They will play for the benefit of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children.

Several thousands are expected to witness the exhibition matches.

Jones was met at the Union Station by members of the golf club and hospital association. Luncheon was served at the hospital. A dinner was to be held tonight at the Woodstock Country Club.

TO DIE IN STATE ACCIDENTS; AUTOS KILL FOUR TODAY

Two Girls and Boy Victims at Gary—Fatality Near Anderson.

By United Press
Autos in Indiana today killed four persons, bringing the death toll from accidents all over the State to ten in the last twenty-four hours.

Miss Deborah Betts, young Gary school teacher; Miss Hazel Legrow and Robert Webster, were killed at Gary when a fast Michigan Central train struck their auto. Miss Legrow was engaged to Victor Salini, Indiana University football star. Webster formerly lived in Clinton, Ind.

Thomas Wheeler, 30, of Noblesville, Ind., a Indiana Reformatory guard, was killed and Frank Leister, 52, another guard, was injured when their auto plunged down an embankment, near Anderson.

A "hit-and-run" auto driver struck and killed Thomas J. Jones, 69, farmer, near Lebanon.

Floyd Schorer, 29, was electrocuted when he fell across a live wire while working atop a pole near Plymouth, Ind.

One man was dead and two seriously injured in Hammond today, following the crumbling of a brick wall.

J. L. Rhodes, 18, Argos, was killed at Valparaiso when struck by a New York Central passenger train.

Roy Ridge, 18, Richmond, was killed and Ralph Field, 18, was seriously injured at Dayton, Ohio, when their motorcycle struck an auto.

Eugenia Tindall, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tindall, 34 Kenmore Rd., Indianapolis, was drowned in Sugar Creek, near Greenfield, when she wandered away from her parents while attending a picnic.

Service Corporation bus crashed through a bridge over a creek near Wabash.

Russell Ross, 3, may die in an Evansville hospital from injuries received when he was run over by an auto while playing near his home.

CHICAGO PICKS FOGARTY
Cook County Jail Warden.

By United Press
CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Edward J. Fogarty, for fourteen years warden of the Indiana Reformatory at Michigan City, Ind., has been chosen warden of Cook County jail, it became known here today.

Fogarty was picked by a citizens' advising committee. He resigned from the Indiana position about two years ago.

Appointment of Fogarty will be held up until a legal opinion has been obtained as to whether a warden may be chosen from outside Cook County.

Fogarty told the committee there would be no drinking by prisoners in his regime, such as caused the recent upheavals in the jail.

Robert Peelle, Centerville, is in the Marion County jail today pending arraignment before a United States commissioner, for alleged violation of the Federal prohibition law. He was arrested Friday night. Agents said they found 10 pints of beer in his home.

ROOSEVELT SPEECH MAY HARM G. O. P.

Expected to Talk Against League of Nations at Ft.
Wayne Tonight—Will Address Legion Next Week.

By United Press
FT. WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 28.—Great dissatisfaction is being expressed over the fact that Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who has been invited to address the American Legion State convention at Marion next week, should preface that speech with a partisan outburst here.

Colonel Roosevelt, scheduled to arrive here this afternoon from Chicago, is to speak on "The League of Nations and the World War Court" tonight. It is believed that he will widen the breach already said to be existing between the Indiana Senators and the National Administration.

Arranged ostensibly to revive interest in the Lincoln Club, Ft. Wayne's Republican organization, the meeting appears to have been planned as the opening gun of the fall campaign.

To those familiar with the situation it seems that Roosevelt is making an anti-court speech to help Senators Watson and Robinson, hoping to receive support in his effort to become national commander of the American Legion.

PLANE CRASH FATAL

Man Who Led Pacific Flight
Succumbs.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The body of Commander John Rodgers, Navy aviation hero, killed in a crash in the Delaware River at Philadelphia yesterday, will be buried in Arlington cemetery with full military honors Tuesday afternoon.

Under arrangements announced by Navy officials today, the body of the Navy's veteran flier will be sent tonight to his parents' home at Havre De Grace, Md., where services will be held Monday. The body will be brought to Arlington cemetery just across the Potomac from the Capital, the same day.

Board of Inquest Meets
A board of inquest met at the Philadelphia Navy yard today to determine how the man who commanded the unsuccessful California-Hawaii flight last year met his death.

The board's report, forwarded to the Navy yard's commandant, was not made public. The plane crashed into the Delaware river just as Rodgers was about to land.

A board of inquiry, composed of naval craft experts, also was convened to determine what caused the VE type plane Rodgers was flying to crash. The board Monday will hear witnesses of the crash.

The Navy's air hero, descendant of an illustrious line of Navy men, died in the Navy Yard Hospital at Philadelphia soon after the accident.

Samuel Schultz, machinist's mate with Rodgers, was seriously injured, and physicians said he might die.

Plane Side-Slips
Watchers saw the plane side-slip as it neared the Philadelphia air-plant factory landing field, and fall twenty-five feet into the Delaware river.

Commander Rodgers came of a family with the tradition: "There has been a John Rodgers in the Navy since there has been a Navy."

The commander's father, Admiral John A. Rodgers, Cr., retired, lived at Havre De Grace, Md. Commander Rodgers' mother was on the way to his bedside when he died.

NAVY WILL CARRY ON
To Continue Tests Which Rodgers
Was to Have Directed.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Navy air forces, hard hit by the death in Philadelphia, Friday, of Commander John E. S. Rodgers, will carry on with plans for a Panama flight and other long airplane tests, which Rodgers was to have directed.

It was understood today.

Commander Rodgers was relieved only a few weeks ago from desk duty as assistant chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, to take charge of several projected test flights using the newly developed PN-10 planes.

He was on his way to inspect some of these planes when he was killed.

'Cal Could Dry U.S. in
6 Weeks,' Shumaker
Coolidge could make America bone-dry in six weeks, if he were really serious about enforcement of the prohibition law, said Shumaker, Indiana Anti-Saloon League superintendent, told the White River conference of the United Brethren Church today at the University Heights Church.

"The spirit of the prohibition law is being killed by technicalities," he declared.

He urged that the President call off the Army, Navy and Marines to combat bootleggers. Granting of prohibition enforcement powers to game wardens and State motor police, was suggested.

FOUR YOUTHS HELD AS MOTOR BANDITS

'I Did It for Thrill,' Says Boy, 18, Charged With Being in Gang Which Staged Road Hold-ups.

"I did it for a thrill," between twelve and fifteen hold-ups and to stripping eighteen or twenty cars.

Those held here beside Ambrose are: John Schuller, 19, of 2058 Hillside Ave.; Leo Marnee, 350 W. New York St.; and Emmett Brownlee, R. 24, Noblesville, Ind.

Police are searching for a 15-year-old boy who posed as a girl during several of the hold-ups.

In tears at city prison Ambrose admitted he had taken part in the hold-ups.

Supports Mother
He is the sole support of his mother and two brothers, one 6 and one 13, he said. He was employed at the E. C. Atkins & Co. saw works, earning $13.50 a week when he joined the bandit gang, he said.

Ambrose and Marnee, in a statement to Detective Goldner, admitted taking part in the hold-up of Edward Thiesing, 1536 Roosevelt Ave., Thursday night at Sixty-Eighth St. and Keystone Ave. He was robbed of $15 and his auto.

Brownlee, alleged leader of the gang, "held out" on them, they did not receive any of the loot, they charged.

Carl Johnson, 17, of Somerset, Ky., and John Marnee, 19, brother of the youth held here, were taken into custody by the sheriff at Vandallia, Ill., Friday. They were driving a car reported stolen here and local officers will bring them back to face charges with the rest of the crew.

Arrest of the boys was brought about by Detectives Goldner, Gillespie Young, Hillman and Russell, who have been working under direction of Inspector Worley on the case.

Shirt Was Clew
According to the officers a blue shirt was found in a Studebaker car that was used by the bandits last Thursday night and later abandoned. In the shirt pocket was a metal tag bearing the name of Leo Marnee.

The youth was taken into custody and involved others in statements to police.

Part of the gang, police believed, attempted to hold up Albert Hartman, 2032 S. Meridian St., on the Three Notch Rd., near Brill St., Thursday night. Hartman dodged around an auto containing three persons which was blocking the road.

MINE LEADER CHARGED
Head of Union in Illinois Said to Be Employed by Big Concern.

By United Press
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 28.—Charges that Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois district mine workers' union, is in the employ of a large Chicago coal company, at a salary of $25,000 a year, were expected to be answered here today by a cable from Farrington, who is in Paris on a European tour.

Either a flat denial of the charges, preferred by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, or his resignation, and the two courses open to Farrington, according to members of the executive board, which has asked an explanation of the State leader.

Mrs. Corson, Mother of Two Children, Beats Men's Marks.

LIVES IN NEW YORK

Englishman and Egyptian
Fail in Attempts.

By United Press
DOVER, England, Aug. 28.—A Danish American mother of two children today swam the English channel "to make some money for my kids," and walked ashore at Dover to collapse in the arms of her trainer.

She was Mrs. Clemington Corson, 27, of New York, known professionally as Mille Gade. Her time across the channel was 15 hours and 22 minutes, 1 hour and 7 minutes slower than Gertrude Ederle, but faster by nearly an hour than the time of any of the five men who have swum the channel. Sebastian Tira-bochi made the swim in 16 hours and 31 minutes, the best time for a man.

Corson rowed a boat beside his wife the whole way and there was no tug, although a motor boat accompanied the swimmer.

In swimming the channel, Mrs. Corson defeated two men swimmers, the powerful Egyptian Helmy and the English swimmer, Frank Perks.

Entering the water at Cape Gris Nez, France, at 11:32 p. m. Friday she reached the English shores at Dover Beach at 3:10 today.

Perks had started swimming about five minutes before Mrs. Corson entered the water. Helmy started a short time before.

The sea was calm and moonlight aided the swimmers. Helmy quit five miles out, when seized with cramps.

Snow hours passed without a word of the two remaining swimmers and anxiety was felt for their safety.

Two Miles Off Dover
At 1:20 p. m. Mrs. Corson was two miles off Dover and Perks was a quarter of a mile behind her. Twenty minutes later, Perks abandoned the attempt a mile and a half off shore, between Dover and Folkestone.

There was excitement here when the two swimmers came into view. The crowd grew bigger as Perks gave up the fight and Mrs. Corson dove into shallow water, her blonde, unbraided hair plunging through the surf. The scene of her landing was a triumphant one.

A big crowd cheered enthusiastically. "I was determined to make it or go down," she said. "I've got to make some money for my kids."

Mrs. Corson has been decorated three times by King Christian of Denmark for her swimming activities. She holds the around-Manhattan record, having swum around Manhattan Island in 15 hours and 57 seconds in 1921. That same year she swam the Hudson from Albany to New York, in stages, completing the swim in 65 swimming hours.

Tried Channel Before
She also swam from Sandy Hook, N. J., to the Battery in New York, averaging the distance in 20 minutes to one mile. Four years ago she swam from Dover to within two miles of the French coast.

Gertrude Sends
Congratulations
By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—"I am very happy that the English Channel has again been conquered by a woman, and I have sent my heartiest congratulations to Mrs. Corson. I am, however, very proud to have been the first woman to cross and to hold the record made," Gertrude Ederle said today.

Gertrude, back home with "Mom" and "Pop" and the kids, was happy but still a little dazed by as great a reception as any city ever gave to a conquering hero.

MOVIE OPERATORS
WANT PAY RAISE

Hold Conferences About
New Wage Contract.

Negotiations to determine next year's wage scale were in progress today between managers of Indianapolis motion picture theaters and members of Movie Operators Local No. 194.

Contract now operative expires at midnight Tuesday. Operators were seeking an advance in wages from $1 to $1.40 per hour. At a conference Friday, they reduced their demand to $1.30.

Union men will meet at 10 a. m. Sunday at the Denison. Approximately eighty-five operators are affected.

Arthur W. Lyday, operators' business agent, said a strike vote would be taken.

The men claim that the average earnings for operators in neighborhood movies is $30 a week, while those in the larger houses downtown make from $37 to $40 a week.
